Broadway Pharmacy Is Sold

Harry B. Walker Sells His Drug Store to Owners of Central Pharmacy

To Merge Stores

Louis Epstein Will Conduct Business at Walker Store

Harry B. Walker today sold his long established Broadway Pharmacy at 478 Broadway to Louis Epstein, proprietor of the Central Pharmacy at 572 Broadway. Mr. Epstein will take possession on March 1.

Mr. Walker is retiring from the retail drug business to devote his entire time to the business of handling trusses, belts and elastic stockings, with office at 478 Broadway, upstairs over the drug store.

Mr. Epstein in purchasing the Broadway Pharmacy is returning to the store in which he first learned the drug business. He entered the employ of Mr. Walker on January 6, 1926, as a clerk.

The Central Pharmacy will be continued by Mr. Epstein for several months, until some alterations are made to the Broadway Pharmacy when he will remove the entire business to the former Walker store.

The Broadway Pharmacy was established 30 years ago by Dr. B. W. Maben and Mr. Walker. At first they were located in the building on Broadway, opposite the old American Cigar Co. factory. That building was taken over later by the government, and torn down to make room for the addition made to the Central Postoffice building.

Maben and Walker prior to that removed the drug business to its present location. When Dr. Maben retired from the firm in 1936, the business was continued by Mr. Walker.

Mr. Walker during the more than a quarter century he has been active in the business life of the central section of the city has found time to devote himself to the Central Business Men's Association. He served as president of the association for a number of years. He has also served as a member and president of the Board of Fire Commissioners.

Mr. Epstein has been operating the Central Pharmacy at Broadway and Thomas street, for the past 11 years. After serving as a clerk in the Broadway Pharmacy for some years, Mr. Epstein left to attend college where he received his degree as a licensed pharmacist.

He said today that he planned to carry on the same successful business methods at the Broadway Pharmacy that had been established by Mr. Walker.

Lowest Figure on Project $400,800 Higher Than Estimate Made on September 11

Only three bids were submitted to the New York City Board of Water Supply for completion of the water works project on the upper Rondout in Ulster county, two of those bids being submitted by a combination of contractors who joined together to submit figures. Bids were opened in New York city on Tuesday and the low bidder submitted a figure which is $400,800 more than the low bid which was submitted last September 11. At that time all bids were considered excessive and rejected. Later bids were again sought for the completion of the project.

The three bids which were submitted were:

S. A. Healey Company of White Plains, low bidder last September, $14,300,800. This figure is $400,800 more than the figure which was submitted last fall.

The second high bid was submitted by the following combine of five firms: Johnson, Drake and Piper Company; Foley Brothers; Mason & Hanger; S. J. Groves and Son Company and Bowen McLaughlin an dis $16,711,800.

The third bid was by the combine of De Balso Construction Company and Russiano and Sons Corporation for $16,767,400.

No Action Taken

No action was taken following opening of the bids and the three sets of figures were taken under study. Since the second attempt to [illegible] bids indicates an increasing [illegible] in construction costs, it is possible that the city may consider letting the contract this time. Bids were sought at this time in order to be in a position to begin work this spring and get the

Fuller's Conducts Training Program For War Veterans

Honorably Discharged Men Learning to Operate High Powered Machines in Local Shirt Factory

Twenty-two veterans of World War 2, who have received their honorable discharge from the armed forces, have taken advantage of the "on the job" training program of the federal government, and are now actively engaged in learning to operate high powered machines in the manufacture of white shirts at the Fuller shirt factory on Pine Grove avenue.

Joe Fabbie, an experienced power operator, is the G.I. instructor of the group. Mr. Fabbie was employed at the factory prior to entering the service.

Under the provisions of the "on the job" program veterans receive a certain weekly amount of pay from the government, and also a certain amount in wages from the place where they are employed.

As soon as the men become experienced operators the government withdraws the weekly payments, and the concern employing the veterans then pays the men the regular wage scale for the type of work they perform.

Clarence S. Rowland, in charge of the plant, said today that he believed that Fuller's was the first plant in Kingston to have government approval of the "on the job" program."

He said that in addition to the 22 veterans taking advantage of the program that 24 other veterans who were previously employed at the factory before entering the armed forces, have now resumed their civilian jobs at the plant.

Public Hearing Report Goes to City Council; Building Cost to Be Over Million

No one appeared in opposition to the application of the Board of Education for jurisdiction of a part of Hasbrouck Park as a site for a proposed new school as a postwar project at the public hearing held Wednesday evening at the city hall by the laws and rules committee of the Common Council.

Chairman Peter Simpson of the committee, who presided, at the close of the hearing announced that the report of the committee would be submitted later to the Common Council.

The education board was represented at the hearing by Commissioners Clarence S. Rowland, Eugene H. Fowler, William F. Leehive, Bernard A. Feeney, George Matthews and Charles Katz. The other members of the board, who were not present, are Andrew J. Cook, Dr. Frederic Holcomb and Charles de la Vergne.

Arthur J. Laidlaw, superintendent of schools, was also present.

Ideal Locale, Says Feeney

Commissioner Feeney as spokesman for the education board called attention to the survey that had been made of the city, which showed that Hasbrouck Park would make an ideal site for a proposed new school.

It would mean, he said, that with the construction of a new school in that section of the city, that Schools 3 and 4 would be closed.

Mr. Feeney estimated that the proposed school would cost approximately a million or a million and a quarter dollars.

In reply to questions by the members of the laws and rules committee he explained that it was not the intention of the Board of Education to interfere with the use of Hasbrouck Park as a park and playground, but it would be open to the public as usual.

He explained that an engineer had been consulted and the board had been informed that there were no tunnels that would be encountered in excavating for the foundations for the school.

The park is part of the property formerly owned by the old Newark Lime and Cement Co. when it was in operation a number of years ago. Part of the old mines for some years have been used for mushroom growing, but the land in the vicinity of the proposed school had never been tunneled.

The education board planned to keep all of the present play facilities at the park intact, including the baseball diamond and the tennis courts.

Harry Edson, superintendent of recreation of the city, spoke briefly and said he was deeply interested in Hasbrouck Park and the facilities it offered the public. He expressed the opinion that the present members of the education board were sympathetic to the work carried on in the park, but if the personnel of the board was changed at the time of actual construction of the proposed school, there might be a change in sentiment.

He believed that the education board should file with the Common Council a letter outlining the plans for preserving the present playground facilities.

Commissioner Feeney said that board had no objection.

Only One Accident Noted During Hail and Rain Storm; No Phone Lines Damaged

Kingstonians slid on the icy walks and streets last night and this morning following the hail and rain storm of Wednesday in the city. Traffic in both city and county was slowed up by the ice-coated highways. Last night the downtown section of the city was plunged in darkness when the street lights were extinguished.

Bus traffic was slowed, and finally bus lines operating both north and south out of Kingston canceled trips. This morning it was stated that bus transportation had again resumed normal schedules.

In the city the bus lines operated, but found it difficult to keep to schedule running time.

Although the streets here were a glare of ice since the two-inch snowfall of Tuesday, but one minor auto accident was reported to the police.

The police report said that Wednesday afternoon at 2:27 o'clock a truck driven by Robert Armstrong of 56 Gage street was in collision with a delivery truck of the Beck Market, driven by Calvin Swart of 65 Garden street, at Broadway and Foxhall avenue.

No one was injured, but the Beck truck had the left front fender damaged.

Temperatures in the city yesterday ranged from 19 to 33 degrees. At midnight the official thermometer was recording 32 degrees, and the mercury hovered at that mark from then until 9 a. m. At 11 a' m. the mercury had jumped to 34 degrees.

Streets Sanded

Traffic was forced to proceed with caution all day yesterday and this morning owing to the ice-coated streets. The Board of Public Works sanding crews worked

Jackson Demands Convictions for Nazi War Crimes

Insists on Indictments for Six Groups Having Direct Control of Two Million

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Nuernberg, Feb. 28 (AP)—Chief U. S. Prosecutor Robert H. Jackson demanded today that the International Military Tribunal convict on war crimes charges six indicted Nazi groups with an aggregate membership exceeding 2,000,000.

"The next war and the next pogroms will be hatched in the nests of these organizations," he said, if they escape punishment.

"It would be a greater catastrophe to acquit these organizations than it would be to acquit the entire 22 individual defendants," Jackson declared in opening the prosecution's argument on legal and technical questions involved in the trial of the Nazi leadership corps, the Reich Cabinet, the German Staff and High Command, the SS, the SA and the Gestapo.

The prosecution's case against the individual defendants was completed yesterday.

"Some concern has been expressed as to the number of persons who might be affected by the declarations of criminality we have asked," Justice Jackson said in a voice tinged with scorn.

Scorns False Shock

"Some people seem more susceptible to the shock of a million punishments than to the shock of five million murders. At the most, the number of punishments will never catch up with the number of crimes."

The tribunal earlier had agreed to reconsider its decision of yesterday banning Winston Churchill as a defense witness. Dr. Martin Horn, attorney for Joachim Von Ribbentrop, former German Foreign Minister, reminded the tribunal that he had not yet filed a written brief on the matter, as requested by the tribunal.

Jackson demanded that the scope of criminality within the indicted organizations be adjudged to embrace the following:

All members of the Nazi leadership corps, down to and including block leaders, an estimtaed 600,000 persons.

The Reich Cabinet, 40 persons.

All SS (Elite Guard) men, 400,000.

All SA (Storm troop) men, 1,000,000.

All Gestapo personnel, except clerks and janitors, 40,000.

The entire general staff and high command, 115 officers.

Statement Issued On Dun & Bradstreet

In connection with information that Dun and Bradstreet, New York financial clearing house, is seeking a site outside of New York, Secretary Donald Williams of the Chamber of Commerce issued the following statement to The Freeman:

"The community may be assured that the Chamber of Commerce will do everything in its power to accommodate the needs of Dun and Bradstreet Inc. It definitely appears, however, that the decision will be turned toward the city which has existing space available tailored to the company's needs."

Coal Operators Look For Lewis Wage Demand; Russia Needs Firm Deals

Vand'nberg Proposal Is Approved

Report on Observations By Delegate to U.N.O. in London Received Unanimously

Fully Endorsed

Situation One Calling for Patience, Goodwill but Not Timidity

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Senate lined up today behind the stand of Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) that the United States take a firm line in dealing with Soviet Russia on controversial global problems.

The backing was unofficial, since no legislation was involved, but Vandenberg evidently had won his colleagues' support in the formal report he made on his observations and conclusions as a delegate to the recent U.N.O. session in London.

From Democrats and Republicans alike came unbroken endorsement of the way Vandenberg appraised U. S.-Soviet relations in his speech yesterday to an applauding Senate.

"The situation calls for patience and goodwill, but not for vacillation," the Michigan senator summed up.

Vandenberg's assertion that the United States, backed by a consistent, positive foreign policy, must speak up when Russia makes her claims found colleagues apparently unanimous in their approval.

Senator Hatch (D-N.M.), a foreign relations member who is a close personal friend of President Truman, said Vandenberg, "expressed my sentiments about Russia exactly."

Similarly, Senator Fullbright (D-Ark.), who has criticized what he said was the administration's failure to assume consistent leadership in world affairs, said he thought the Michigan senator was "absolutely correct in the essence of his statements."

"We ought to take a fair stand and then be firm about it," Fullbright declared. "We cannot assume that we represent all of the moral leadership in the world, but we must speak out for the principles for which we stand."

Senator Ball (R-Minn.) said he agreed 100 per cent with Vandenberg's position on Russia. Both he and Hatch said they had been "pepped up" by the senator's report that accomplishments at London far outweighed the meeting's failures.

Senator Brewster (R-Me.) interpreted the speech as a "delicate suggestion that we need to be as competent as the Russians."

"I think he was trying to tell us that the moral earnestness of the United States should have been far more vigorously asserted at London," the Maine Senator declared.

Farm Bureau Growing

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—The New York State Farm Bureau Federation reported today membership of 74,741, an increase of approximately 2,000 over a year ago at this time. Federation President Warren W. Hawley, Batavia, stated that the membership included 60 per cent of all farmers in 56 agricultural counties in the state.

Reservations for C. of C. Banquet

Reservations for the first annual meeting and banquet of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, which will be held Monday evening, March 4, must be in the mails by Friday, March 1. The deadline was set for tomorrow so that the hotel management could provide adequate accommodations.

Col. Harold G. Hoffman, former governor of New Jersey, will be the speaker at the dinner, which is scheduled to be served at 6:30 o'clock at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The former governor of New Jersey, who as an officer in the Transportation Corps in World War II visited 21 different countries, is said to be an eloquent speaker.

A large attendance of members and guests is anticipated.

Governor Dewey's Budget and Public Works Plan Passes

Democratic Legislators Are Reticent on O'Dwyer's Request for New Local Taxes

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Defeated in their fight for more state aid for New York city, Democratic legislative leaders displayed marked reticence today toward Mayor O'Dwyer's request for legislation to levy $142,000,000 in new local taxes.

The Moore Commission's plan of per capita assistance to localities was approved without change by the Republican-controlled Senate late yesterday along with the rest of Governor Dewey's $555,000,000 budget an dhis $408,000,000 measure to launch the state's billion-dollar postwar public works reconstruction program.

The Assembly passed all the budget bills Tuesday.

Most of the budget measures were approved by a party vote in the Senate, with Democratic ranks remaining intact when the party leader, Elmer F. Quinn, gave the word. The minority voted with the Republicans, however, on a bill to cut personal income and business taxes by $122,000,000 and to put into operation the Ostertag Committee's plan for integration of local welfare services.

Peron Assumes Lead In Argentine Elections

Buenos Aires, Feb. 28 (AP)—Argentine strong man Col. Juan D. Peron led in both popular and electoral votes today as the count of ballots in Sunday's presidential election moved into the third day with the first big provinces ready to start their tally.

Peron was ahead in three provinces with an electoral vote of 32, while his opponent, Dr. Jose Tamborini, led in two provinces having 20 electoral votes. One hundred and eighty-nine electoral votes are needed to win. The popular vote in the five provinces stood at 22,439 for Peron and 21,809 for Tamborini.

With slightly more than one per cent of the total vote counted, Buenos Aires City, with 68 electoral votes, and Santa Fe province, with 42, prepared to begin the formal count today, as did Tucuman and Corrientes Provinces, with 18 electoral votes each, and Mendoza Province, with 16.

Higher Pay For 400,000 Is New Move

Owners Brace Selves for Formal Notice to Reopen Contract of 11 Months Ago

Long Session

More Money for Shorter Work Week Expected as Union Condition

By HAROLD W. WARD

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—Soft coal operators are bracing themselves for John L. Lewis's new move to win higher pay for some 400,000 of his United Mine Workers.

The operators, many of whom already are here in anticipation of the wage maneuvers, expect formal notification by Saturday that Lewis wants to reopen his 11-month-old contract.

Then noting the time-table suggested in the contract itself, they look for the bushy-browned mine leader to present his actual pay and other demands ten days later—on March 12.

May Be Long Affair

Every indication is that the wage issue will be simple but substantial and that a drawn out controversy may result for these reasons:

1. In the Coal industry, labor costs are a major factor, and wage increases in the past have been tacked onto the cost of each ton of coal.

2. Mounting coal prices add to industry's fears of inroads by competitive fuels, especially natural gas.

Ezra Van Horn, chairman of the Bituminous Coal Negotiating Conference and operators representative, said Lewis had not notified him as yet that he intended to open the contract.

Lewis is close-mouthed as ever about his intentions, but it seems a foregone conclusion that he will ask for the same pay for a somewhat shorter work week. In this

G.M. Strike Costs $750,000,000 to Men And Corporation

Stoppage 100 Days Old One of Longest on Record; Other Lines Held Up

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

Detroit, Feb. 28 (AP)—The General Motors strike, one of the longest and costliest in American industrial history, reached its 100th day today, having cost management and labor something in excess of $750,000,000.

To the corporation, its plants tightly closed throughout the nation was lost approximately $500,000,000 in unfilled orders; to the long idle 175,0000 G.M. production workers the cost in lost wages was estimated at from $113,000,000 to $128,000,000; the merchandizing division of the automobile industry had lost more than $100,000,000 in sales commissions and other millions were lost by companies and workers dependent upon General Motors for parts.

One such concern is the Packard Motor Car Co. whose 8,000 production employes have been idle more than a month because of a shortage of parts supplied by G.M. subsidiaries.

Against this costly background the corporation and the C.I.O. United Automobile Workers' Union scheduled meeting today with Special Labor Mediator James F. Dewey, seeking a back-to-work formula.

Today's meeting of the negotiators began with management and union representatives still apparently apart on the issues of wages, seniority and vacations.

The union is demanding a wage increase of 19½ cents an hour and the company has refused to go higher than 18½ cents.

The U.A.W.-C.I.O., basing its calculations on a 40-hour work week, placed the wage loss at

Strikes at a Glance

(By The Associated Press)

About 985,000 idle because of continuing labor disputes.

Major developments:

Telephone—Hopes of halting strike of nation's 250,000 telephone workers, scheduled for March 7, given setback as negotiations between American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and Federation of Long Distance Telephone Workers collapse after 14-hour conference fails to settle wage-hour dispute; no further meetings scheduled.

Electrical—Tension mounts in General Electric strike in Philadelphia after police clash with pickets; union plans to continue mass picketing in defiance of court injunction; 10 union leaders face contempt charges.

Automotive—General Motors strike, 100 days old, costs management and labor more than $750,000,000, and no early end of walkout of 175,000 production workers indicated; Ford issues back to work orders to 38,000 workers, idle since January 25 because of steel shortage.

Coal—Soft coal operators await first move by John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, to win higher pay for 400,000 U.M.W. members; expect U.M.W. leader will present pay and other demands by March 12, following meeting of union's policy committee.

Public Hearing Report Goes to City Council; Building Cost to Be Over Million

No one appeared in opposition to the application of the Board of Education for jurisdiction of a part of Hasbrouck Park as a site for a proposed new school as a postwar project at the public hearing held Wednesday evening at the city hall by the laws and rules committee of the Common Council.

Chairman Peter Simpson of the committee, who presided, at the close of the hearing announced that the report of the committee would be submitted later to the Common Council.

The education board was represented at the hearing by Commissioners Clarence S. Rowland, Eugene H. Fowler, William F. Leehive, Bernard A. Feeney, George Matthews and Charles Katz. The other members of the board, who were not present, are Andrew J. Cook, Dr. Frederic Holcomb and Charles de la Vergne.

Arthur J. Laidlaw, superintendent of schools, was also present.

Ideal Locale, Says Feeney

Commissioner Feeney as spokesman for the education board called attention to the survey that had been made of the city, which showed that Hasbrouck Park would make an ideal site for a proposed new school.

It would mean, he said, that with the construction of a new school in that section of the city, that Schools 3 and 4 would be closed.

Mr. Feeney estimated that the proposed school would cost approximately a million or a million and a quarter dollars.

In reply to questions by the members of the laws and rules committee he explained that it was not the intention of the Board of Education to interfere with the use of Hasbrouck Park as a park and playground, but it would be open to the public as usual.

He explained that an engineer had been consulted and the board had been informed that there were no tunnels that would be encountered in excavating for the foundations for the school.

The park is part of the property formerly owned by the old Newark Lime and Cement Co. when it was in operation a number of years ago. Part of the old mines for some years have been used for mushroom growing, but the land in the vicinity of the proposed school had never been tunneled.

The education board planned to keep all of the present play facilities at the park intact, including the baseball diamond and the tennis courts.

Harry Edson, superintendent of recreation of the city, spoke briefly and said he was deeply interested in Hasbrouck Park and the facilities it offered the public. He expressed the opinion that the present members of the education board were sympathetic to the work carried on in the park, but if the personnel of the board was changed at the time of actual construction of the proposed school, there might be a change in sentiment.

He believed that the education board should file with the Common Council a letter outlining the plans for preserving the present playground facilities.

Commissioner Feeney said that board had no objection.

Jackson Demands Convictions for Nazi War Crimes

Insists on Indictments for Six Groups Having Direct Control of Two Million

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Nuernberg, Feb. 28 (AP)—Chief U. S. Prosecutor Robert H. Jackson demanded today that the International Military Tribunal convict on war crimes charges six indicted Nazi groups with an aggregate membership exceeding 2,000,000.

"The next war and the next pogroms will be hatched in the nests of these organizations," he said, if they escape punishment.

"It would be a greater catastrophe to acquit these organizations than it would be to acquit the entire 22 individual defendants." Jackson declared in opening the prosecution's argument on legal and technical questions involved in the trial of the Nazi leadership corps, the Reich Cabinet, the German Staff and High Command, the SS, the SA and the Gestapo.

The prosecution's case against the individual defendants was completed yesterday.

"Some concern has been expressed as to the number of persons who might be affected by the declarations of criminality we have asked." Justice Jackson said in a voice tinged with scorn.

Scorns False Shock

"Some people seem more susceptible to the shock of a million punishments than to the shock of five million murders. At the most, the number of punishments will never catch up with the number of crimes."

The tribunal earlier had agreed to reconsider its decision of yesterday banning Winston Churchill as a defense witness. Dr. Martin Horn, attorney for Joachim Von Ribbentrop, former German Foreign Minister, reminded the tribunal that he had not yet filed a written brief on the matter, as requested by the tribunal.

Jackson demanded that the scope of criminality within the indicted organizations be adjudged to embrace the following:

The Reich Cabinet, 40 persons.

All SS (Elite Guard) men, 400,000.

All SA (Storm troop) men, 1,000,000.

All Gestapo personnel, except clerks and janitors, 40,000.

The entire general staff and high command, 115 officers.

Statement Issued On Dun & Bradstreet

In connection with information that Dun and Bradstreet, New York financial clearing house, is seeking a site outside of New York, Secretary Donald Williams of the Chamber of Commerce issued the following statement to The Freeman:

"The community may be assured that the Chamber of Commerce will do everything in its power to accommodate the needs of Dun and Bradstreet Inc. It definitely appears, however, that the decision will be turned toward the city which has existing space available tailored to the company's needs."

Decide on Monarch

Rome, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Cabinet has decided to submit to Italian voters the fate of the monarchy in a referendum to be held simultaneously with elections for the Constituent Assembly, tentatively set for May 25.

Icy Roads Cancel Bus Runs, Street Lights Out Downtown

Kingstonians slid on the icy walks and streets last night and this morning following the hail and rain storm of Wednesday in the city. Traffic in both city and county was slowed up by the ice-coated highways. Last night the downtown section of the city was plunged in darkness when the street lights were extinguished.

Bus traffic was slowed, and finally bus lines operating both north and south out of Kingston canceled trips. This morning it was stated that bus transportation had again resumed normal schedules.

In the city the bus lines operated, but found it difficult to keep to schedule running time.

Although the streets here were a glare of ice since the two-inch snowfall of Tuesday, but one minor auto accident was reported to the police.

The police report said that Wednesday afternoon at 2:27 o'clock a truck driven by Robert Armstrong of 56 Gage street was in collision with a delivery truck of the Beck Market, driven by Calvin Swart of 65 Garden street, at Broadway and Foxhall avenue.

No one was injured, but the Beck truck had the left front fender damaged.

Temperatures in the city yesterday ranged from 19 to 33 degrees. At midnight the official thermometer was recording 32 degrees, and the mercury hovered at that mark from then until 9 a. m. At 11 a. m. the mercury had jumped to 34 degrees.

Streets Sanded

Traffic was forced to proceed with caution all day yesterday and this morning owing to the ice-coated streets. The Board of Public Works sanding crews worked

Coal Operators Look For Lewis Wage Demand; Russia Needs Firm Deals

Vand'nberg Proposal Is Approved

Report on Observations By Delegate to U.N.O. in London Received Unanimously

Fully Endorsed

Situation One Calling for Patience, Goodwill but Not Timidity

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP) — The Senate lined up today behind the stand of Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) that the United States take a firm line in dealing with Soviet Russia on controversial global problems.

The backing was unofficial, since no legislation was involved, but Vandenberg evidently had won his colleagues' support in the formal report he made on his observations and conclusions as a delegate to the recent U.N.O. session in London.

From Democrats and Republicans alike came unbroken endorsement of the way Vandenberg appraised U. S.-Soviet relations in his speech yesterday to an applauding Senate.

"The situation calls for patience and goodwill, but not for vacillation." the Michigan senator summed up.

Vandenberg's assertion that the United States, backed by a consistent positive foreign policy, must speak up when Russia makes her claims found colleagues apparently unanimous in their approval.

Senator Hatch (D-N.M.), a foreign relations member who is a close personal friend of President Truman, said Vandenberg, "expressed my sentiments about Russia exactly."

Similarly, Senator Fullbright (D-Ark.), who has criticized what he said was the administration's failure to assume consistent leadership in world affairs, said he thought the Michigan senator was "absolutely correct in the essence of his statements."

"We ought to take a fair stand and then be firm about it," Fullbright declared. "We cannot assume that we represent all of the moral leadership in the world, but we must speak out for the principles for which we stand."

Senator Ball (R-Minn.) said he agreed 100 per cent with Vandenberg's position on Russia. Both he and Hatch said they had been "pepped up" by the senator's report that accomplishments at London far outweighed the meeting's failures.

Senator Brewster (R-Me.) interpreted the speech as a "delicate suggestion that we need to be as competent as the Russians."

"I think he was trying to tell us that the moral earnestness of the United States should have been far more vigorously asserted at London," the Maine Senator declared.

Farm Bureau Growing

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—The New York State Farm Bureau Federation reported today membership of 74,741, an increase of approximately 2,000 over a year ago at this time. Federation President Warren W. Hawley, Batavia, stated that the membership included 60 per cent of all farmers in 56 agricultural counties in the state.

Reservations for C. of C. Banquet

Reservations for the first annual meeting and banquet of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, which will be held Monday evening, March 4, must be in the mails by Friday, March 1. The deadline was set for tomorrow so that the hotel management could provide adequate accommodations.

Col. Harold G. Hoffman, former governor of New Jersey, will be the speaker at the dinner, which is scheduled to be served at 6:30 o'clock at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The former governor of New Jersey, who as an officer in the Transportation Corps in World War II visited 21 different countries, is said to be an eloquent speaker.

A large attendance of members and guests is anticipated.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Defeated in their fight for more state aid for New York city, Democratic legislative leaders displayed marked reticence today toward Mayor O'Dwyer's request for legislation to levy $142,000,000 in new local taxes.

The Moore Commission's plan of per capita assistance to localities was approved without change by the Republican-controlled Senate late yesterday along with the rest of Governor Dewey's $555,000,000 budget an dhis $408,000,000 measure to launch the state's billion-dollar postwar public works reconstruction program.

The Assembly passed all the budget bills Tuesday.

Most of the budget measures were approved by a party vote in the Senate, with Democratic ranks remaining intact when the party leader, Elmer F. Quinn, gave the word. The minority voted with the Republicans, however, on a bill to cut personal income and business taxes by $122,000,000 and to put into operation the Ostertag Committee's plan for integration of local welfare services.

Peron Assumes Lead In Argentine Elections

Buenos Aires, Feb. 28 (AP)—Argentine strong man Col. Juan D. Peron led in both popular and electoral votes today as the count of ballots in Sunday's presidential election moved into the third day with the first big provinces ready to start their tally.

Peron was ahead in three provinces with an electoral vote of 32, while his opponent, Dr. Jose Tamborini, led in two provinces having 20 electoral votes. One hundred and eighty-nine electoral votes are needed to win. The popular vote in the five provinces stood at 22,439 for Peron and 21,809 for Tamborini.

With slightly more than one per cent of the total vote counted, Buenos Aires City, with 68 electoral votes, and Santa Fe province, with 42, prepared to begin the formal count today, as did Tucuman and Corrientes Provinces, with 18 electoral votes each, and Mendoza Province, with 16.

Higher Pay For 400,000 Is New Move

Long Session

More Money for Shorter Work Week Expected as Union Condition

By HAROLD W. WARD

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—Soft coal operators are bracing themselves for John L. Lewis's new move to win higher pay for some 400,000 of his United Mine Workers.

The operators, many of whom already are here in anticipation of the wage maneuvers, expect formal notification by Saturday that Lewis wants to reopen his 11-month-old contract.

Then noting the time-table suggested in the contract itself, they look for the bushy-browned mine leader to present his actual pay and other demands ten days later—on March 12.

May Be Long Affair

Every indication is that the wage issue will be simple but substantial and that a drawn out controversy may result for these reasons:

1. In the Coal industry, labor costs are a major factor, and wage increases in the past have been tacked onto the cost of each ton of coal.
2. Mounting coal prices add to industry's fears of inroads by competitive fuels, especially natural gas.

Ezra Van Horn, chairman of the Bituminous Coal Negotiating Conference and operators representative, said Lewis had not notified him as yet that he intended to open the contract.

Lewis is close-mouthed as ever about his intentions, but it seems a foregone conclusion that he will ask for the same pay for a somewhat shorter work week. In this

G.M. Strike Costs $750,000,000 to Men And Corporation

Stoppage 100 Days Old One of Longest on Record; Other Lines Held Up

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

Detroit, Feb. 28 (AP)—The General Motors strike, one of the longest and costliest in American industrial history, reached its 100th day today, having cost management and labor something in excess of $750,000,000.

To the corporation, its plants tightly closed throughout the nation was lost approximately $500,000,000 in unfilled orders; to the long idle 175,0000 G.M. production workers the cost in lost wages was estimated at from $113,000,000 to $128,000,000; the merchandizing division of the automobile industry had lost more than $100,000,000 in sales commissions and other millions were lost by companies and workers dependent upon General Motors for parts.

One such concern is the Packard Motor Car Co. whose 8,000 production employes have been idle more than a month because of a shortage of parts supplied by G.M. subsidiaries.

Against this costly background the corporation and the C.I.O. United Automobile Workers' Union scheduled meeting today with Special Labor Mediator James F. Dewey, seeking a back-to-work formula.

Today's meeting of the negotiators began with management and union representatives still apparently apart on the issues of wages, seniority and vacations.

The union is demanding a wage increase of 19½ cents an hour and the company has refused to go higher than 18½ cents.

The U.A.W.-C.I.O., basing its calculations on a 40-hour work week, placed the wage loss at

Strikes at a Glance

(By The Associated Press)

About 985,000 idle because of continuing labor disputes.

Major developments:

Telephone—Hopes of halting strike of nation's 250,000 telephone workers, scheduled for March 7, given setback as negotiations between American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and Federation of Long Distance Telephone Workers collapse after 14-hour conference fails to settle wage-hour dispute; no further meetings scheduled.

Electrical—Tension mounts in General Electric strike in Philadelphia after police clash with pickets: union plans to continue mass picketing in defiance of court injunction; 10 union leaders face contempt charges.

Automotive—General Motors strike, 100 days old, costs management and labor more than $750,000,000, and no early end of walkout of 175,000 production workers indicated; Ford issues back to work orders to 38,000 workers, idle since January 25 because of steel shortage.

Coal—Soft coal operators await first move by John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, to win higher pay for 400,000 U.M.W. members; expect U.M.W. leader will present pay and other demands by March 12, following meeting of union's policy committee.

Baldwin Sees Citizens Protected in New Locale

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 28 (AP)—Governor Raymond E. Baldwin asserted today he was satisfied that the federal government, in cooperation with state and local officials, would make every effort to "protect the legitimate interests" of residents of the community ultimately chosen as the site of the United Nations permanent headquarters.

"I am confident that the community as a whole will benefit immeasurably in every way from the presence of this great institution," said the chief executive in a statement to members of his advisory committee on the U.N.O. headquarters and the Connecticut Commission on Intergovernmental Cooperation.

Predict 38,000 Killed In 1946 Auto Accidents

Chicago, Feb. 28 (AP) — Three thousand persons were killed in traffic accidents in the country in January and the National Safety Council predicted a possible total of 38,000 fatalities in 1946 on the basis of last month's toll. Last month's total was 49 per cent more than reported in January, 1945, when gas rationing still was in effect.

JAPS SEIZED LABORERS

War changed the sex-ratio in British Malaya and males now are in a minority of 1 to 2, Singapore reports. Some of the better-yielding rubber areas were cared for, however, during the Japanese occupation, by women, children and elderly men. The Japs combed the country for labor on the Siam-Burma railway.

G.E. Picket Riots Among the Worst

Philadelphia Police Say Demonstrations Rate With Gravest in Postwar Era

Philadelphia, Feb. 28 (AP)—Three thousand marchers today broke through police lines in a renewal of violence at the strikebound General Electric Company plant.

The 575 police on duty sent out an emergency radio call for help.

The march followed gathering of the crowd across the county line five blocks away. Police earlier broke up all groups near the plant in enforcement of an injunction against mass picketing.

Police authorities said the demonstration was one of the most violent outbreaks in postwar labor disputes.

It was the second straight day in which C.I.O.-Electrical Workers and sympathizers fought police enforcing an injunction prohibiting mass picketing at General Electric.

Union leaders asserted they were not violating the injunction but were conducting a march on city hall to "protest police brutality."

Acting Sheriff William J. Morrow declared he had ordered police to break up all gatherings of workers within a six-block radius of the plant, strikebound since January 15.

Skirmishes Flare Up

Skirmishes between police and the marchers flared throughout the southwest Philadelphia area for a half hour before Morrow reported the situation under control.

The marchers then began a 55-block trek to city hall.

In the early morning hours, the 575 police on duty in the area scattered all groups of pickets and took two persons into custody for questioning.

The pickets then retired six blocks from the plant into Delaware county and formed a parade. Led by men wearing military uniforms, the crowd started moving, picking up hundreds of sympathizers on the way.

Three blocks away the marchers turned towards the General Electric plant, smashing police lines. The fighting followed.

After the melee, only five pickets, all women, remained on duty at the plant. Hundreds of police were in the area.

By HENRY LEADER

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP) — Legislative machinery was set in motion today to give New York's 1,600,000 World War 2 veterans approximately $400,000,000 in state bonuses ranging from $50 to $250.

The joint legislative bipartisan committee studying proposals for veterans benefits unanimously recommended to the legislature that all residents of the state who were in the armed forces between December 7, 1941, and September 2, 1945, receive a cash bonus.

The committee proposed that the state grant $50 to men and women who served less than 60 days within the continental limits of the United States; $150 to those who served more than 60 days within the country, and $250 to those who served outside the United States for any length of time.

A majority of New York's members of the armed forces went overseas and therefore would qualify for the maximum.

The committee recommended a constitutional amendment authorizing a bond issue of not more than $400,000,000 to finance the bonus.

Such legislation must be approved by the present and 1947 legislatures before submission to the electorate in November, 1947. If approved by the voters, payment of the bonus would begin in 1948.

The committee's plan is expected to win swift legislative endorsement, as no known opposition to a bonus has been voiced by any New York lawmaker.

Baldwin Sees Citizens Protected in New Locale

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 28 (AP)— Governor Raymond E. Baldwin asserted today he was satisfied that the federal government, in cooper[illegible] and local officials, would make every effort to "protect the legitimate interests" of residents of the community ultimately chosen as the site of the United Nations permanent headquarters.

"I am confident that the community as a whole will benefit immeasurably in every way from the presence of this great institution," said the chief executive in a statement to members of his advisory committee on the U.N.O. headquarters and the Connecticut Commission on Intergovernmental Cooperation.

Predict 38,000 Killed In 1946 Auto Accidents

Chicago, Feb. 28 (AP) — Three thousand persons were killed in traffic accidents in the country in January and the National Safety Council predicted a possible total of 38,000 fatalities in 1946 on the basis of last month's toll. Last month's total was 49 per cent more than reported in January, 1945 when gas rationing still was in effect.

JAPS SEIZED LABORERS

War changed the sex-ratio in British Malaya and males now are in a minority of 1 to 2, Singapore reports. Some of the better-yielding rubber areas were cared for, however, during the Japanese occupation, by women, children and elderly men. The Japs combed the country for labor on the Siam-Burma railway.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 28, 1946

NECESSARY CONVENIENCE

Assemblyman Ernest Hatfield sees greatly increased travel through the "gateway to the Catskills" in the years ahead, which he emphasizes as his reason for supporting the bridge and ferry bill between Kingston and Rhinecliff.

I am convinced, the Assemblyman declares, that with the extension of the Parkway, reconstruction of Route 199 towards Rhinebeck, with the increased number of cars that will be on the road and the traffic at this particular point, Kingston being the gateway to the Catskills, that it behooves us to make immediate traveling facilities available for the benefit of the public.

As a representative of the people of the County of Dutchess, he has made inquiry of many in practically every township as to their attitude and 98 per cent were for the bridge and ferry.

Assemblyman Hatfield points out a very just cause, when he states that he would not deprive the people of the northern section of Dutchess County the necessary conveniences which in previous years they enjoyed and which the southern section now has.

The Assemblyman says he introduced the legislation because it was demanded by the people he represented and because he believes an interim ferry and a bridge would be beneficial to the community he represents.

PRISONERS AT WORK

This story might be called "Reconversion at its Best" or "There's Some Good in Germans." It has been announced by an American general in charge that German prisoners of war in Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan have performed more than 20 million dollars worth of work for the United States government. Farm labor in Ohio and some other states would doubtless add other millions to this sum. Poland announced that 40,000 German P.O.W.'s in that country during 1945 mined nearly 20,000,000 tons of coal.

Prisoners of war are always a problem: they're treated too harshly, or, in the case of Americans, sometimes not handled firmly enough; or they become a subsistence drain on a victor-nation that is inclined to humanitarian principles. Idleness is as bad for them as overwork. Probably there can never be a really just and right disposition of these human victims of the turn of battle.

But at least in these instances some useful work was accomplished by them. In this country they were decently fed, clothed, sheltered and cared for while doing it, and were paid something for their work besides. This is a vastly different history from that of the forced labor in Germany.

FILM STARS IN POLITICS

Jimmy Stewart, motion picture actor and war veteran, has declined the suggestion that he run for governor of Pennsylvania. While in his case the proposition may or may not have been serious movie stars, present and past, are beginning to figure in public life. Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas of California is already attracting attention for her speeches rather than her film past. Orson Welles, producer, has been active in the last two presidential campaigns, and has backing for the California senatorship. Both parties have found it worth while to form cinema committees supporting the presidential candidates.

Considering their fabulous salaries and the shortness of popular favor, most screen stars will probably stick to the movies instead of running for office. This seems rather a pity. Could anything be more thrilling than a political race between, say, Greer Garson and Veronica Lake?

The tradition persists that mankind is to have a new deal in the latter part of this century. And so he may—if he has sense enough to make it for himself.

A good motto for these times is the Shakespearean advice, "Put money in thy purse." But what Shakespeare meant was to save it.

'These Days'

MANCHURIA IRREDENTA

When the Treaty of Versailles was made known to the Chinese people, they went on strike. The entire nation went on strike. Everything was closed down, except food shops, in every city of China. Even the brothels and sing-song houses closed down, but not the newspapers, for those who managed the strike wanted the people to know what was going on. It was called The Students Strike, because its effective leadership were boys and girls in high schools and colleges.

The Treaty of Versailles was never signed by China. As much, if not more, because of the Shantung treachery in that treaty as opposition to the League of Nations, the United States never ratified the Treaty of Versailles. This nation, back in the days of Warren Harding, would not stoop to the political immoralities of its representatives at peace conferences. The American people refused to betray an ally, agree to the theft of its territory, destroy its territorial and administrative integrity, and sanctimoniously elocute on world peace. The Japanese eventually got out of Shantung and they did it not because China possessed powerful armies but because the Chinese people would not tolerate its territory being governed by foreigners.

No matter what the Chinese government chose to do, the Chinese people boycotted Japanese goods, embarrassed Japanese living in China, conducted a smart propaganda against Japan in the United States, Great Britain, the Philippines and Malay States.

Russia is following in Japan's footsteps in China. And again the students of the country have risen in their wrath to lead the Chinese people against treachery. This time, it is again the United States which has betrayed China. The territory is not Shantung but Manchuria. The negotiator was not Woodrow Wilson but Franklin D. Roosevelt. The place was not Paris but Yalta. Again, the United States agreed to betray one ally in the interest of another. Again, the United States accepted the task of convincing the Chinese government to betray the Chinese people.

There is however one difference: Woodrow Wilson arranged a treaty and brought it before the Senate for ratification as the Constitution and orderly government provide. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman have performed in secret. Teheran, Yalta, Potsdam and Moscow were secret meetings at which the three satraps of mankind spoke only to each other and issued public statements which time has proved to be in some respect inadequate and incomplete and in other respects false. Secret displomacy not only violates decency but the law of the land.

Mr. Byrnes, as Secretary of State, could have and should have rectified these errors of omission and commission, but he has failed to meet his responsibilities with candor or even understanding. He has apparently walked the primrose path of his predecessors, depending upon shortness of memory, the course of events and faits accomplis to pull him out of a hole. Precisely that has happened as regards Poland. The robbery of the Poles has now become sanctified by general and nobody worries about what happens to the Poles, the Ukrainians, the Ruthenians, the Galicians, the Jews—the millions of dispossessed and displaced, the hungry, the homeless, the dying.

They, like the Chinese, once put their faith in the "liberalism" of Roosevelt, the "Four Freedoms," the "Atlantic Charter" and the rhetoric that flowed so lightly and so blithely out of Washington over the ether that all men might listen and believe. They now know that it was all lies. Just political lies that fit a moment—to be betrayed whenever that too fitted a moment.

The difference between the Chinese and the Poles is that the longer history of Cathay has taught its people not to believe the bearers of alien words. China has so often been deceived and even swindled that when a western power acts with some respect for morals, the Celestials are astonished.

This time, they are not astonished. We have permitted out politicians to act true to form. Manchuria, over which China and Japan fought since 1894, has now been given to Russia by the United States—that is, by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry Truman and Jimmy Byrnes. The Chinese people will rise against theft; will the American people suffer dishonor complacently?

X-RAYS OF CHEST

Although Roentgen discovered X-rays fifty years ago it is only during the past few years that X-ray examination of chests in suspected tuberculosis has become general. Up to that time physicians depended upon their stethoscope to hear the sounds within the chest, the rise in temperature in the afternoon and the discovery of the tubercle bacillus in the sputum. Today thanks to intense investigation of every suspicious case, and the placing of patients in a sanatorium, early discovery and early treatment has reduced the death rate standing of tuberculosis from first to about fifth place.

The thought about tuberculosis now is early prevention instead of late treatment. Thus Dr. D. M. Gibson, Western, Ontario, in the Canadian Medical Association Journal states "It is the primary duty of the state to prevent disease and promote health. The three chief requisites for the successful prevention of tuberculosis are early detection, adequate detection and adequate segregation."

By early detection is meant not waiting till "all" the signs of tuberculosis are present—cough, loss of weight, afternoon temperature, and discovery of the tubercle bacillus in the sputum—but detecting it months before these symptoms appear by means of X-rays.

By adequate protection is meant the discovery of "all" those suffering with tuberculosis in a community so that they will not continue to infect members of the household or others in the community.

By adequate segregation is meant the provision of sanatoria or supervised settlements where patients with open infective tuberculosis can live pleasantly and profitably without being a menace to those who do not have tuberculosis. "These persons are spreading the disease all unwittingly and often infecting those they would most like to protect. Dr. Gibson states that even now, despite the knowledge of tuberculosis and ability of the medical profession to detect it easily "there are far too many cases of open infective tuberculosis at large in the community."

"More alacrity in advising chest X-rays in cases with suspicious symptoms and a considerable extension of the mass survey method (an X-ray of the chest of everybody) would seem to be not only desirable but absolutely imperative."

Mrs. Rose Caldwell of Ossining is visiting Mrs. John Lynn.

A meeting of the Port Ewen School Association was held at School No. 13 Monday evening at 8 o'clock. After a short business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. James Sleight, Miss Donderwicz, Dental Hygienist from the State Health Department had charge of the meeting. She gave an informal talk on the methods used in introducing the two year olds to the dental chair and the importance of correct diet, correct brushing and regular visits to the dentist. The moving pictures "Behind the Smile" and "The Proper Way to Brush the Teeth" were shown in connection with the talk. Mrs. James Sleight, Mrs. George Berens, Mrs. Paul Beaver and Mrs. Paul Schwark were the committee in charge of refreshments. Mrs. Rignall of Kingston showed the movies.

The Dorcas Church Committee for Saturday, March 2, is Miss Ella Jones, Mrs. Charles Wesley and Mrs. Clifford Davis, Sr.

LAMP PENETRATES FOG

PONIES MAY BE SAVED

The Exmoor ponies, shyest of British animals and hardest to train, are threatened with extinction, according to a group who have started a campaign to save them. As part of the movement, two of the ponies are being exhibited at London's Zoo. A zoo official explained: "There are supposed to be only about 50 Exmoor ponies left. They are usually muddy in color and are so wild that children are not allowed to see them at close quarters."

MARY HAS THREE LAMBS — Unlike Mary of the nursery rhyme, one-year-old Mary Morden (above) has triplet lambs as playmates at the farm of her father, H. W. Morden, Jr., Toronto, Canada, where the little fellows were born recently.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Lamont V. Simpkins of Woodstock, was elected president at the annual meeting of the Ulster County Automobile Club on December 14, 1925, in the court house on Wall street.

Mr. Simpkins succeeded Elva H. Bogart, who a few days prior to the meeting had been elected president of the New York State Auto Association.

The local club adopted resolutions in memory of Dr. H. F. Meinhardt, who had served the club as its secretary since it was first organized, and had held that post until his death that year.

The club elected Dr. Meinhardt's son, Dr. Harry R. Meinhardt, as secretary. Elmer E. Swart was elected vice president, and Ward B. Everett, was re-elected treasurer.

The directors elected were Peter A. Black, Herbert E. Thomas and H. P. Dederick.

David Mufson, last of the firm of Mufson Brothers, died on December 9, 1925. The senior member of the firm, Benjamin Mufson, died on October 27, 1925.

Older readers will recall the grocery firm of Mufson Brothers that for years carried on business on Broadway, at Meadow street.

The years when the old Mansion House was one of the best known hotels in this area were recalled to mind in reading a clipping telling of the death of Conrad W. Fentz on December 4, 1925, in Waterbury, Conn. Mr. Fentz for a number of years was employed as clerk at the Mansion House.

Carl Fuchsle, a student in the Kingston High School, won the annual Thanksgiving Day road race staged by the Y.M.C.A. on November 26, 1925. He also won first place in the race in 1924. His brother, William, won second place, while third place went to Rodney Donnelly.

The course covered was two and a quarter miles over the city's streets, starting at the "Y" and finishing on Greenkill avenue.

Young Fuchsle covered the course in 15 minutes and 40 seconds.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Reformed Church of the Comforter on December 2, 1925, presented the play "The Old District School" in Comforter Hall.

Included in the cast were Charles Kelse, William Wood, Harvey Simpson, Beatrice Powley, Claude Haines, Hilda Burgher, Leroy Brown, Herman Boyle, Mrs. V. Kelly, Kenneth Williams, Winfield Van Bramer, Laura Lasher, Lionel Wood, Geneva Bowers, Mrs. Charles Kelse, Eleanor Phinney, Zelda Follette, Mrs. Leroy Brown, Miss L. Hudler, and Harry Lowe.

The Rev. Alfred Coons died November 30, 1925, in his home on Green street. He was a former pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, serving from 1882 to 1884. He retired from the active ministry in 1912, making his home in this city.

LeGrand Becker died November 13, 1925, in his home on Hoffman street. For more than half a century he was employed as a boss blacksmith by the old Ulster & Delaware railroad. Mr. Becker was also active in local Masonic circles and was a member of Rondout Lodge of Masons.

DOLYE JUNIOR WRITES

The son of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle has turned out to be a writer, too, and has penned a pamphlet in defense of his late father, Dublin reports. Adrian, the son of Sherlock Holmes' creator, complains that many of those who have written about Doyle senior did not know him personally and so got some of his qualities and defects out of perspective. The book also has an interesting genealogy of the Irish families of Conan and Doyle.

New Agreement in New York Provides That Employes' Representatives May Make Labor Recommendations

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Feb. 28 — What happened in the settlement of the threatened subway strike in New York city is of interest to employes of cities and states, of course, but it is of particular interest to employers who have opposed the "sole" bargaining-agent technique under the Wagner Law.

Being employes of a city which is immune from the compulsions of the Wagner Act, a large group of union members have sought to gain by the process of negotiation the right to hold an election to determine a bargaining agent. The city of New York, under the O'Dwyer and LaGuardia administrations, has refused to permit elections to be held or to make a contract with any unions.

The threat of a strike which brought matters to a climax has nevertheless resulted in a written agreement between the mayor of New York and the head of one of the large unions. This union has claimed a majority but has been challenged by other unions as to the true size of its membership.

Committee Responsible

Under the terms of the agreement, the mayor of the biggest city in the country agrees to utilize a committee of five prominent citizens, which is "charged with the responsibility of studying the working conditions, wages and labor relations between the workers and the board of transportation of the city of New York."

The agreement does not provide that the city will recognize any union as sole bargaining agent or make any union contracts, but it does provide that representatives of the employes will be heard and be permitted "to state their views and recommendations."

When the representatives of all unions have been heard, the recommendations or findings of the committee of citizens will be presented to the mayor for his approval or disapproval. Meanwhile, on the basis of the written agreement with the C.I.O. union which threatened to interrupt service, the strike has been called off.

What did the union gain and what did the city concede?

Viewed from the standpoint of customary relations between employers and unions, the city, in effect, granted the C.I.O. union the equivalent of what is known as "membership only" privileges of representation. When a union has not proved that it has a majority and no other union can prove a majority either, the tendency ordinarily is for the minority to ask for the right to negotiate for its members only. This leads as a rule to the extension to the other non-union employes of the same terms and conditions agreed upon by the employer with the union.

Eventually, the union organizers start to argue that the non-members are deriving benefits for which they should pay through dues and hence the campaign to secure a majority proceeds with renewed vigor in the hope of obtaining enough converts to produce a 51 per cent voting strength.

Minority Not Considered

It is when a union achieves a majority that the Wagner Law says that sole bargaining rights must be granted by the employer no matter what the minority may think about it. Employers are compelled to deal only with the agent of the majority and are forbidden to hear the "views or recommendations" of the minority.

The city of New York, which is dominated by a Democratic administration, is not willing to take a dose of the same medicine which the Democrats in Congress from New York and other states have imposed on the employers of the nation and upon the minorities who do not want to be represented by a union but want to negotiate terms and working conditions in their own way.

The reason given by the city is that all its employes must, by law, be considered civil servants and that there can be no discrimination between them. Actually the same thing applies to persons in private employment once a bargaining agent is selected for the majority. The minority cannot be treated any worse or better than the arrangement made with the majority's agent, and it has been held that concessions made to the minority are a violation of the federal law.

It will be interesting to see what the committee of five will recommend. Will they permit an election whereby the employes choose a bargaining agent? If they do not, they will, in effect, be saying that the principle of coercing a minority is sound when applied by the Wagner law to one group of citizens but unsound when applied to another group of citizens both of whom may be engaged in the same kind of work — namely, transportation within a city.

Nazi War Crimes Defense Prepares Its Major Stand

By DeWITT MACKENZIE

Nuerenberg, Germany, Feb. 27 (AP)—Quietly but persistently attorneys for the Nazi leaders on trial for war crimes before the Allied Tribunal are preparing a case calculated to prove that Germany's aggression was forced upon her by warlike designs of other nations.

That is to say, the attempt will be made to show that the Reich was in effect acting on the defensive—a type of whitewash that's as old as war itself. Of course, this line of argument is part of the defense of the score of individual chiefs like former Reichsmarshal Herman Goering and Ex-Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop for the absurd myth that the Reich was peace-minded must have the corollary that the ministers of state also were bent on preserving the peace.

Still, one gets the definite impression that justification of the German nation is the main issue in the mind of the defense and that the fate of individuals is secondary. It's now, as ever, "Deutschland Uber Alles."

These defensive tactics keep cropping up. For example, I was present at the session in which Dr. Horn, the smooth-spoken and punctilious attorney for Von Ribbentrop, made the extraordinary plea that the Tribunal permit him to call Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill as a witness to testify about a conversation which the defense says took place between Churchill and Von Ribbentrop before the war.

Pressed to state what useful purpose this would serve, Horn made this startling claim:

The witness (Churchill) can testify that on the occasion of his visit to the German Embassy, Von Ribbentrop talked with him about the necessity of the creation of friendly relations between Germany and England and that he mainly told him that a strong Germany, which was now about to become the strongest support for England's empire. At that time (Horn said) Churchill replied to these statements that England was intelligent and experienced enough to get other powers on England's side in case Germany should become too strong. On this occasion Churchill stated unmistakably that England would destroy Germany if she should become too strong.

Well now Dr. Horn's application has been turned down but his purpose clearly was to try to convince the world that Von Ribbentrop was the peace-loving servant of a peace-loving nation and that England was rattling the saber. And don't overlook that even the introduction of this application in open court was bound to result in world-wide circulation of Horn's claim through news channels. The doctor and his colleagues are sowing this seed freely in the hope that it will fall on fertile soil, "Deutschland Uber Alles."

Horn increased the trajectory of his heavy artillery to take in more territory when he asked for permission to call as a witness General Koestring, former military attache in Moscow and now in Nuernberg jail (which may be as near to heaven as he ever will get). Said Dr. Horn blandly:

He (Koestring) can especially testify that the German preparations to take up positions against Russia were the result of previous Russian concentrations in West Russia.

This is a piece off the same cloth as that from which the Churchill request was made and whether Koestring's evidence is produced or not Horn has succeeded in registering the allegation that Russia was contemplating aggression against Germany.

Goering, von Ribbentrop, von Papen and a few others of the defendants are taking an active hand in making suggestions to bolster up this line of defense. The former Reichsmarshal in particular is strenuously busy, listening intently to every line of argument and writing innumerable notes which are handed on to his attorney. Suggestions from the man who was Hitler's right hand for years, and from those who were close to the Fuehrer, naturally are invaluable to the defense.

It's my guess, too, that we shall get some amazing testimony if Goering and the rest take the stand in their own defense.

OLD PROMISES RRENEWED

London reports the wedding of a man and his former wife, divorced 23 years ago. A. Checkley, the ex-husband, came home on leave from his job in Africa to see his son, a petty officer in the Navy, who had just married. He called on his former wife to get their son's address. The meeting, after 23 years, resulted in Checkley proposing again and marrying her. The son's wife acted as matron of honor and the reunited couple sailed for Africa.

Notable historical and literary figures who played the flute were George Washington, Lord Byron, Dr. Johnson's Boswell, Robert Louis Stevenson, Rousseau, Schopenhauer, Casanova, Cellini and Leonardo da Vinci.

Art League Holds First Exhibit at Wall Street Store

The first exhibit of the Kingston Art League is now on display at Herzog's store on Wall street.

The league was started by a group of citizens of Kingston to provide a means of relaxation for adults and the building up of a cultural center for children. It is strictly non-professional, and the average person who loves art and wishes to express himself in line and color is catered to by the organization. The group had its beginning in the barn of Mrs. Robert Herzog at 30 Johnston avenue and was originally for the children. Mrs. Edmund O'Reilly is credited with originating the idea and the classes now meet at the studio of Mr. Berardinelli at 450 Washington avenue.

Oil paintings and sketches on display have been accomplished with only a few lessons, some are the student's first attempt with oils. They are the works of Mrs. Robert Herzog, Mrs. Edward McCaffery, Miss Kathryn Cook, Mrs. Thomas Plunket, Joseph Matey, Miss G. Birmingham, Miss Mary Jo O'Reilly, Miss Emily Bight, Mrs. Edward Phelan, Mrs. Edmund O'Reilly, Miss Frances Beck, Miss Cynthia Steketee, and Mrs. S. Wilkes.

Etchings and wood cuts by Mr. Berardinelli are featured in this showing. Among them is a woodcut of Pope Pius XII, now on exhibition at the Philadelphia Print Club.

Leary's First Stop Is State Prison

Authorities of Connecticut Say Fugitive Will Start Old Term

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 28 (AP)—Daniel J. Leary's first stop in Connecticut when he is brought back from Chicago will be the State Prison Wethersfield, according to Hugh M. Alcorn, Sr., who served as special state attorney in the Waterbury municipal fraud case.

Alcorn, who renewed his activity in the case when he learned a man identified as the former city comptroller had been arrested in Chicago, said yesterday no action would be taken against Leary as a fugitive from justice.

The former prosecutor, now retired, said State Police Commissioned Edward J. Hickey, who is in Chicago to arrange for Leary's return, had in his possession a state prison warrant for the fugitive's immediate delivery to Wethersfield where he is to serve a 10 to 15 year term. Hickey also brought with him certified copies of judgments and other papers in the case, Alcorn said.

Squash Report Truman Will Call Labor Parley

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP) — The White House said today President Truman has no plans to call representatives of the C.I.O. Auto Workers and General Motors Corp. to Washington in an effort to settle the 100-day-old strike at G.M. plants.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross reported this at a news conference after he was asked about reports that Stabilization Director Chester Bowles had not made such a recommendation to the President.

However, sources close to Bowles who asked to remain anonymous said he had made such a suggestion to Presidential advisers but has received no word whether it has been brought to Mr. Truman's attention.

Phone Co., Workers Part; Strike Due March 7th

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Negotiations between the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and Federation of Long Line Telephone Workers, representing 19,000 employes, were broken off early today after a 14-hour conference failed to settle the union's wage and hour demands.

J. J. Moran, president of the union, which is affiliated with the National Federation of Telephone Workers (Ind.), said after the meeting:

"We are finished. Our answer will be March 7."

The March date has been set by the N.F.T.W. for the start of a nation-wide telephone strike.

project under way during the coming summer season. At the present time the Rondout project is approximately half completed and if the city of New York is to have the project completed and the needed additional water made available within a reasonably short time, work must be resumed. Much of the construction below ground has been finished and the Merriman dam is partially completed. The original contract under which the work thus far has been done was halted when the war came along and much of the machinery which was being used by the contractors was transferred to war work, much of it for the construction of Stewart Field.

Resumption of the work at an early date would give employment of a large number of local men.

Saranac Lake Blaze Leaves Twenty Homeless

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Twenty persons were made homeless last night when fire swept the second and third floors of a three-story frame building (19 Broadway) with a loss estimated by the owner, George Downing, at $250,000.

About 25 rooms on the upper floors were destroyed completely and five stores, including a fur establishment, on the ground floor were damaged by smoke and water.

Those driven from the living quarters were taken to nearby hotels and homes for the night.

Philadelphia Police Say Demonstrations Rate With Gravest in Postwar Era

Philadelphia, Feb. 28 (AP)—Three thousand marchers today broke through police lines in a renewal of violence at the strikebound General Electric Company plant.

The 575 police on duty sent out an emergency radio call for help.

The march followed gathering of the crowd across the county line five blocks away. Police earlier broke up all groups near the plant in enforcement of an injunction against mass picketing.

Police authorities said the demonstration was one of the most violent outbreaks in postwar labor disputes.

It was the second straight day in which C.I.O.-Electrical Workers and sympathizers fought police enforcing an injunction prohibiting mass picketing at General Electric.

Union leaders asserted they were not violating the injunction but were conducting a march on city hall to "protest police brutality."

Acting Sheriff William J. Morrow declared he had ordered police to break up all gatherings of workers within a six-block radius of the plant, strikebound since January 15.

Skirmishes Flare Up

Skirmishes between police and the marchers flared throughout the southwest Philadelphia area for a half hour before Morrow reported the situation under control.

The marchers then began a 55-block trek to city hall.

In the early morning hours the 575 police on duty in the area scattered all groups of pickets and took two persons into custody for questioning.

The pickets then retired six blocks from the plant into Delaware county and formed a parade. Led by men wearing military uniforms, the crowd started moving, picking up hundreds of sympathizers on the way.

Three blocks away the marchers turned towards the General Electric plant, smashing police lines. The fighting followed.

After the melee, only five pickets, all women, remained on duty at the plant. Hundreds of police were in the area.

By HENRY LEADER

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP) — Legislative machinery was set in motion today to give New York's 1,600,000 World War 2 veterans approximately $400,000,000 in state bonuses ranging from $50 to $250.

The joint legislative bipartisan committee studying proposals for veterans benefits unanimously recommended to the legislature that all residents of the state who were in the armed forces between December 7, 1941, and September 2, 1945, receive a cash bonus.

The committee proposed that the state grant $50 to men and women who served less than 60 days within the continental limits of the United States; $150 to those who served more than 60 days within the country, and $250 to those who served outside the United States for any length of time.

A majority of New York's members of the armed forces went overseas and therefore would qualify for the maximum.

The committee recommended a constitutional amendment authorizing a bond issue of not more than $400,000,000 to finance the bonus.

Such legislation must be approved by the present and 1947 legislatures before submission to the electorate in November, 1947. If approved by the voters, payment of the bonus would begin in 1948.

The committee's plan is expected to win swift legislative endorsement, as no known opposition to a bonus has been voiced by any New York lawmaker.

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, Feb. 27—Adonai Lodge F. & A. M. held its regular communication Monday evening with Alex Gronman, master, of New Paltz presiding.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hodge were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Christian at Napanoch on Sunday.

P.F.C. John K. Ashton, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ashton, Sr., has re-enlisted for another year at Keesler Field, Miss. P.F.C. Ashton enlisted in the air corps reserve October 30, 1944 while a member of the senior class of New Paltz Central High School and reported for active duty on July 3, 1945 at Fort Dix, N. J. He arrived on February 7, and is now visiting his parents on a 30-day furlough. At the termination of this he will report to Greensboro, N. C., to await shipment overseas.

Mrs. Elizabeth Beekman died on February 15, following a long illness at the home of her niece, Mrs. Raymond V. O. DuBois in Forest Glen. The burial was in South Branch, N. J., where she had lived all her life until last May.

Gilbert Holmberg of New Paltz was a candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Science in civil engineering at Cornell University's 84th commencement on Sunday, February 24. Approximately 235 seniors and 15 advanced students are expected to complete their work at the end of this term. President Edmund E. Day will be the Commencement speaker. Mr. Holmberg has been in the naval training school at Cornell and is a member of various honorary societies at the school. He is also a member of the civil engineering honor committee and the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burke of Long Island were in town last week and attended the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Augusta Johnston.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Michel are the parents of a son born at the Kingston Hospital. The boy has been named Frederick Joseph.

M/Sgt. Kenneth Hasbrouck arrived home from California on Thursday of last week following his discharge from service.

The families and friends of the Springtown Ladies' Aid Society gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome DePuy for a social evening on Thursday evening. Arrangements were in charge of a committee which included Mrs. Jerome DePuy, Mrs. Slonin, Mrs. Cecil DePuy and Mrs. Cuthbert. Progressive pinochle occupied the adult group while the youngsters played checkers and dominoes. Delicious refreshments were served by the committee. Mrs. Douglas Alverson had high score for the evening.

The Youth Fellowship group of the Reformed Churches of southern Ulster county met Sunday evening at the New Paltz Reformed Church. The Rev. Andrew Branch, student pastor, and dean of the Southern Normal School at Brewton, Ala., was the guest speaker. Roland Kurtz, president of the local group, was in charge of the program and he was assisted by the group officers.

Mrs. Roy Davis of Centerville was a week-end guest of her aunt, Mrs. D. O. Wager in Modena.

Last Thursday evening the Dutch Guild and the Ladies' Aid of the Reformed Church gave a 15th anniversary reception for the Rev. and Mrs. Gerret Wullschleger. A group of friends gathered to celebrate this occasion and enjoyed an informal evening. After refreshments had been served Arthur Kurtz expressed the sentiments of all the friends of the Rev. and Mrs. Wullschleger reviewing the many fine things which have been accomplished in the 15 years they have been here. Mr. Kurtz presented them with a gift from the consistory, the Ladies' Aid, the Dutch Guild, the Youth Fellowship and the Girls' League.

TRADE MARK REG.

By Junius

I Would Be True!

I would be true, for there are those who trust me;
I would be pure, for there are those who care;
I would be strong, for there is much to suffer;
I would be brave, for there is much to dare.
I would be a friend of all—the foe, the friendless;
I would be giving and forget the gift.
I would be humble for I know my weakness;
I would look up—and laugh—and love—and lift.
—Howard Arnold Walter

The wife of the meat black marketer heard it was quite the thing in society to have one's portrait painted, and called on an artist:

Artist—Shall I paint you in evening dress?

Woman—That won't be necessary at all. You may wear your overalls if you wish.

A girl was asked why she never wore a sweater. She replied: "I can't figure it out."

Old Friends

There are no friends like old friends,
And none so good and true;
We greet them when we meet them,
As roses greet the dew.
No other friends are dearer,
Tho born of kindred mold;
And while we prize the new ones,
We treasure more the old.
—Sickles

This reminds us of the story of a girl who went into a store to buy a sweater. After trying on a dozen or so she donned one that the saleslady said was a "perfect fit." Even the girl admitted this—and then ordered one two sizes smaller.

Publisher—No, I'm afraid I can't even read your story. It would be only a waste of time. You see, we publish nothing but stories written by a well-known name.

Author—Well, my name is well known. It's Smith.

Revised Adages

Early to bed, and early to rise,
And you'll be supporting two other guys.

In these fine mornings you often see maids wheeling babies in the park and it is interesting to hear them talk when they get together:

First Maid—I expect to be seeing you at the dance tonight.

Second Maid—I don't think I'll be able to go.

First Maid — But you like to dance. Won't Mrs. Jones let you off?

Second Maid—I'd like to go and she'll let me off, but to tell the truth I'm afraid to leave the baby with her.

We observed a want ad hanging in a restaurant window in Palatka, Florida that sound like a swell job: It says: "Wanted: Man to Wash Dishes and Two Waitresses."

Doctor—Your husband must have absolute rest and quiet. Here are some sleeping tablets.

Patient's Wife—When must I give them to him?

Doctor—They're for you.

Grit says: "A real pretty girl is one who looks just like her picture after the photographer gets thru doctoring the thing."

Dentist—You have acute pyorrhea.

Girl Patient—Save the compliments for later, Doc, and look at my teeth.

Rome's Royal Palace Has Pre-War Reception

Rome, Feb. 27 (AP)—In the first gala reception to be held in the Royal Palace since the liberation of Rome, Prince Umberto, lieutenant general of the Realm, and members of the diplomatic corps met last night with 35 cardinals—many of them newly-elevated princes of the Roman Catholic Church.

Francis Cardinal Spellman was the only American cardinal present at the lavish function. Two compatriots, Edward Ca Mooney of Detroit and Sa Cardinal Stritch of Chicago taken a tour of the countr while John Cardinal Glennon Louis rested at his hotel.

State Capitol

bany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Gov-r Dewey's administration is idering enactment of a 55-cent our state minimum wage law he present session of the legure.
e existing law, in effect since , empowers the State Indus-
Commissioner to establish imum hourly wage rates for rate industries.
dustrial Commissioner Edward i has called a conference of r and employer groups for Tuesday in Albany. From the erence is expected to come a sion whether to submit a bill providing for a 55-cent minimum applicable to all intra-state enterprises except those governed by the federal wage and hour law.

Corsi said he favored fixing a statutory minimum to replace the existing law, administration of which he called difficult and cumbersome.

If employer and labor spokesmen agree on a minimum, Corsi said, his department will support the necessary legislation.

A state minimum wage law would cover approximately 1,200,000 employes, most of whom are protected by existing minimum wage orders.

Spokesmen for organized labor have indicated they prefer a 65-cent floor but might accept a 55-cent minimum temporarily.

The highest minimum under existing wage orders is 52½ cents an hour.

Veterans May Get Truman Citation At Local Station

Honorably discharged members of the armed forces of the United States, eligible to receive the Presidential testimonial of appreciation for their service, may obtain the certificate at any Army Recruiting Station in New York, New Jersey and Delaware, the U. S. Army Recruiting Service, Second Service Command, announces.

Ulster county discharged veterans who have not received the Presidential testimonial may secure a copy at the Kingston Recruiting Station, main Post Office building on Broadway, by presenting a copy of their discharge certificate.

The testimonial is printed on a parchment-like heavy bond paper, eight inches by ten and one-half inches, and is suitable for framing. At the top, in blue, is the Presidential coat-of-arms. Immediately below is a space for the name of the veteran. The message, signed in blue by President Truman, reads as follows:

"To you who answered the call of your country and served in its Armed Forces to bring about the total defeat of the enemy, I extend the heartfelt thanks of a grateful nation. As one of the nation's finest, you undertook the most severe task one can be called upon to perform. Because you demonstrated the fortitude, resourcefulness and calm judgment necessary to carry out that task, we now look to you for leadership and example in further exalting our country in peace."

Sen. Guffey Assailed By Own Henchmen

Philadelphia, Feb. 28 (AP) — Denouncing U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey (D-Pa.) as "nothing but a Federalist," James F. Dougherty, Delaware County Democratic Commissioner announced his candidacy yesterday for Guffey's job.

"What the state needs in the Senate," Dougherty asserted in a statement, "is a Democrat." He charged Guffey "serves himself for his own selfish ends before he serves the interests of the people."

Guffey is seeking re-election to a third term.

NECESSARY CONVENIENCE

Assemblyman Ernest Hatfield sees greatly increased travel through the "gateway to the Catskills" in the years ahead, which he emphasizes as his reason for supporting the bridge and ferry bill between Kingston and Rhinecliff.

I am convinced, the Assemblyman declares, that with the extension of the Parkway, reconstruction of Route 199 towards Rhinebeck, with the increased number of cars that will be on the road and the traffic at this particular point, Kingston being the gateway to the Catskills, that it behooves us to make immediate traveling facilities available for the benefit of the public.

As a representative of the people of the County of Dutchess, he has made inquiry of many in practically every township as to their attitude and 98 per cent were for the bridge and ferry.

Assemblyman Hatfield points out a very just cause, when he states that he would not deprive the people of the northern section of Dutchess County the necessary conveniences which in previous years they enjoyed and which the southern section now has.

The Assemblyman says he introduced the legislation because it was demanded by the people he represented and because he believes an interim ferry and a bridge would be beneficial to the community he represents.

PRISONERS AT WORK

This story might be called "Reconversion at its Best" or "There's Some Good in Germans." It has been announced by an American general in charge that German prisoners of war in Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan have performed more than 20 million dollars worth of work for the United States government. Farm labor in Ohio and some other states would doubtless add other millions to this sum. Poland announced that 40,000 German P.O.W.'s in that country during 1945 mined nearly 20,000,000 tons of coal.

Prisoners of war are always a problem: they're treated too harshly, or, in the case of Americans, sometimes not handled firmly enough; or they become a subsistence drain on a victor-nation that is inclined to humanitarian principles. Idleness is as bad for them as overwork. Probably there can never be a really just and right disposition of these human victims of the turn of battle.

But at least in these instances some useful work was accomplished by them. In this country they were decently fed, clothed, sheltered and cared for while doing it, and were paid something for their work besides. This is a vastly different history from that of the forced labor in Germany.

FILM STARS IN POLITICS

Jimmy Stewart, motion picture actor and war veteran, has declined the suggestion that he run for governor of Pennsylvania. While in his case the proposition may or may not have been serious movie stars, present and past, are beginning to figure in public life. Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas of California is already attracting attention for [illegible] career than her film past. Orson Welles, producer, has been active in the last two presidential campaigns, and has backing for the California senatorship. Both parties have found it worth while to form cinema committees supporting the presidential candidates.

[illegible] their fabulous salaries and the [illegible] of popular favor, most screen stars [illegible] stick to the movies instead of [illegible] office. This seems rather a pity. [illegible] anything be more thrilling than a [illegible] between, say, Greer Garson [illegible] Lake?

[illegible] insists that mankind is to [illegible] the later part of this [illegible] may—if he has sense [illegible] it for himself.

[illegible] motto for these times is the Shakespearean advice, "Put money in thy [illegible]." But what Shakespeare [illegible] to save it.

'These Days'

MANCHURIA IRREDENTA

When the Treaty of Versailles was made known to the Chinese people, they went on strike. The entire nation went on strike. Everything was closed down, except food shops, in every city of China. Even the brothels and sing-song houses closed down, but not the newspapers, for those who managed the strike wanted the people to know what was going on. It was called The Students Strike, because its effective leadership were boys and girls in high schools and colleges.

The Treaty of Versailles was never signed by China. As much, if not more, because of the Shantung treachery in that treaty as opposition to the League of Nations, the United States never ratified the Treaty of Versailles. This nation, back in the days of Warren Harding, would not stoop to the political immoralities of its representatives at peace conferences. The American people refused [illegible] agree to the theft of its territory, destroy its territorial and administrative integrity, and sanctimoniously elocute on world peace. The Japanese eventually got out of Shantung and they did it not because China possessed powerful armies but because the Chinese people would not tolerate its territory being governed by foreigners.

No matter what the Chinese government chose to do, the Chinese people boycotted Japanese goods, embarrassed Japanese living in China, conducted a smart propaganda against Japan in the United States, Great Britain, the Philippines and Malay States.

Russia is following in Japan's footsteps in China. And again the students of the country have risen in their wrath to lead the Chinese people against treachery. This time, it is again the United States which has betrayed China. The territory is not Shantung but Manchuria. The negotiator was not Woodrow Wilson but Franklin D. Roosevelt. The place was not Paris but Yalta. Again, the United States agreed to betray one ally in the interest of another. Again, the United States accepted the task of convincing the Chinese government to betray the Chinese people.

There is however one difference: Woodrow Wilson arranged a treaty and brought it before the Senate for ratification as the Constitution and orderly government provide. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman have performed in secret. Teheran, Yalta, Potsdam and Moscow were secret meetings at which the three satraps of mankind spoke only to each other and issued public statements which time has proved to be in some respect inadequate and incomplete and in other respects false. Secret displomacy not only violates decency but the law of the land.

Mr. Byrnes, as Secretary of State, could have and should have rectified these errors of omission and commission, but he has failed to meet his responsibilities with candor or even understanding. He has apparently walked the primrose path of his predecessors, depending upon shortness of memory, the course of events and faits accomplis to pull him out of a hole. Precisely that has happened as regards Poland. The robbery of the Poles has now become sanctified by general and nobody worries about what happens to the Poles, the Ukrainians, the Ruthenians, the Galicians, the Jews—the millions of dispossessed and displaced, the hungry, the homeless, the dying.

They, like the Chinese, once put their faith in the "liberalism" of Roosevelt, the "Four Freedoms," the "Atlantic Charter" and the rhetoric that flowed so lightly and so blithely out of Washington over the ether that all men might listen and believe. They now know that it was all lies. Just political lies that fit a moment—to be betrayed whenever that too fitted a moment.

The difference between the Chinese and the Poles is that the longer history of Cathay has taught its people not to believe the bearers of alien words. China has so often been deceived and even swindled that when a western power acts with some respect for morals, the Celestials are astonished.

This time, they are not astonished. We have permitted out politicians to act true to form. Manchuria, over which China and Japan fought since 1894, has now been given to Russia by the United States—that is, by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry Truman and [illegible] Byrnes. The Chinese people will rise against theft; will the American people suffer dishonor complacently?

X-RAYS OF CHEST

Although Roentgen discovered X-rays fifty years ago it is only during the past few years that X-ray examination of chests in suspected tuberculosis has become general. Up to that time physicians depended upon their stethoscope to hear the sounds within the chest, the rise in temperature in the afternoon and the discovery of the tubercle bacillus in the sputum. Today thanks to intense investigation of every suspicious case, and the placing of patients in a sanatorium, early discovery and early treatment has reduced the death rate standing of tuberculosis from first to about fifth place.

The thought about tuberculosis now is early prevention instead of late treatment. Thus Dr. D. M. Gibson, Western, Ontario, in the Canadian Medical Association Journal states "It is the primary duty of the state to prevent disease and promote health. The three chief requisites for the successful prevention of tuberculosis are early detection, adequate detection and adequate segregation."

By early detection is meant not waiting till "all" the signs of tuberculosis are present—cough, loss of weight, afternoon temperature, and discovery of the tubercle bacillus in the sputum, but detecting [illegible] before these symptoms appear by means of X-rays.

By adequate protection is meant the discovery of "all" those suffering with tuberculosis in a community so that they will not continue to infect members of the household or others in the community.

By adequate segregation is meant the provision of sanatoria or supervised settlements where patients with open infective tuberculosis can live pleasantly and profitably without being a menace to those who do not have tuberculosis. "These persons are spreading the disease all unwittingly and often infecting those they would most like to protect. Dr. Gibson states that even now, despite the knowledge of tuberculosis and ability of the medical profession to detect it easily "there are far too many cases of open infective tuberculosis at large in the community."

"More alacrity in advising chest X-rays in cases with suspicious symptoms and a considerable extension of the mass survey method (an X-ray of the [illegible] of everybody) would seem to be not only desirable but absolutely imperative."

Mrs. Rose Caldwell of Ossining is visiting Mrs. John [illegible]

A meeting of the Port Ewen School Association was held at School No. 13 Monday evening at 8 o'clock. After a short business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. James Sleight, Miss Donderwicz, Dental Hygienist from the State Health Department had charge of the meeting. She gave an informal talk on the methods used in introducing the two year olds to the dental chair and the importance of correct diet, correct brushing and regular visits to the dentist. The moving pictures "Behind the Smile" and "The Proper Way to Brush the Teeth" were shown in connection with the talk. Mrs. James Sleight, Mrs. George Berens, Mrs. Paul Beaver and Mrs. Paul Schwark were the committee in charge of refreshments. Mrs. Rignall of Kingston showed the movies.

The Dorcas Church Committee for Saturday, March 2, is Miss Ella Jones, Mrs. Charles Wesley and Mrs. Clifford Davis, Sr.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Lamont V. Simpkins of Woodstock, was elected president at the annual meeting of the Ulster County Automobile Club on December 14, 1925, in the court house on Wall street.

Mr. Simpkins succeeded Elva H. Bogart, who a few days prior to the meeting had been elected president of the New York State Auto Association.

The local club adopted resolutions in memory of Dr. H. F. Meinhardt, who had served the club as its secretary since it was first organized, and had held that post until his death that year.

The club elected Dr. Meinhardt's son, Dr. Harry R. Meinhardt, as secretary. Elmer E. Swart was elected vice president, and Ward B. Everett, was re-elected treasurer.

The directors elected were Peter A. Black, Herbert E. Thomas and H. P. Dederick.

David Mufson, last of the firm of Mufson Brothers, died on De[illegible], 1925. The senior member of the firm, Benjamin Mufson, died on October 27, 1925.

Older readers will recall the grocery firm of Mufson Brothers that for years carried on business on Broadway, at Meadow street.

The years when the old Mansion House was one of the best known hotels in this area were recalled to mind in reading a clipping telling of the death of Conrad W. Fentz on December 4, 1925, in Waterbury, Conn. Mr. Fentz for a number of years was employed as clerk at the Mansion House.

Carl Fuchsle, a student in the Kingston High School, won the annual Thanksgiving Day road race staged by the Y.M.C.A. on November 26, 1925. He also won first place in the race in 1924. His brother, William, won second place, while third place went to Rodney Donnelly.

The course covered was two and a quarter miles over the city's streets, starting at the "Y" and finishing on Greenkill avenue.

Young Fuchsle covered the course in 15 minutes and 40 seconds.

Included in the cast were Charles Kelse, William Wood, Harvey Simpson, Beatrice Powley, Claude Haines, Hilda Burgher, Leroy Brown, Herman Boyle, Mrs. V. Kelly, Kenneth Williams, Winfield Van Bramer, Laura Lasher, Lionel Wood, Geneva Bowers, Mrs. Charles Kelse, Eleanor Phinney, Zelda Follette, Mrs. Leroy Brown, Miss L. Hudler, and Harry Lowe.

The Rev. Alfred Coons died November 30, 1925, in his home on Green street. He was a former pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, serving from 1882 to 1884. He retired from the active ministry in 1912, making his home in this city.

LeGrand Becker died November 13, 1925, in his home on Hoffman street. For more than half a century he was employed as a boss blacksmith by the old Ulster & Delaware railroad. Mr. Becker was also active in local Masonic circles and was a member of Rondout Lodge of Masons.

LAMP PENETRATES FOG

PONIES MAY BE SAVED

The Exmoor ponies, shyest of British animals and hardest to train, are threatened with extinction, according to a group who have started a campaign to save them. As part of the movement, two of the ponies are being exhibited at London's Zoo. A zoo official explained: "There are supposed to be only about 50 Exmoor ponies left. They are usually muddy in color and are so wild that children are not allowed to see them at close quarters."

DOLYE JUNIOR WRITES

The son of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle has turned out to be a writer, too, and has penned a pamphlet in defense of his late father, Dublin reports. Adrian, the son of Sherlock Holmes' creator, complains that many of those who have written about Doyle senior did not know him personally and so got some of his qualities and defects out of perspective. The book also has an interesting genealogy of the Irish families of Conan and Doyle.

New Agreement in New York Provides That Employes' Representatives May Make Labor Recommendations

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Feb. 28 — What happened in the settlement of the threatened subway strike in New York city is of interest to employes of cities and states, of course, but it is of particular interest to employers who have opposed the "sole" bargaining-agent technique under the Wagner Law.

Being employes of a city which is immune from the compulsions of the Wagner Act, a large group of union members have sought to gain by the process of negotiation the right to hold an election to determine a bargaining agent. The city of New York, under the O'Dwyer and LaGuardia administrations, has refused to permit elections to be held or to make a contract with any unions.

The threat of a strike which brought matters to a climax has nevertheless resulted in a written agreement between the mayor of New York and the head of one of the large unions. This union has claimed a majority but has been challenged by other unions as to the true size of its membership.

Committee Responsible

Under the terms of the agreement, the mayor of the biggest city in the country agrees to utilize a committee of five prominent citizens, which is "charged with the responsibility of studying the working conditions, wages and labor relations between the workers and the board of transportation of the city of New York."

The agreement does not provide that the city will recognize any union as sole bargaining agent or make any union contracts, but it does provide that representatives of the employes will be heard and be permitted "to state their views and recommendations."

When the representatives of all unions have been heard, the recommendations or findings of the committee of citizens will be presented to the mayor for his approval or disapproval. Meanwhile, on the basis of the written agreement with the C.I.O. union which threatened to interrupt service, the strike has been called off.

What did the union gain and what did the city concede?

Viewed from the standpoint of customary relations between employers and unions, the city, in effect, granted the C.I.O. union the equivalent of what is known as "membership only" privileges of representation. When a union has not proved that it has a majority and no other union can prove a majority either, the tendency ordinarily is for the minority to ask for the right to negotiate for its members only. This leads as a rule to the extension to the other non-union employes of the same terms and conditions agreed upon by the employer with the union.

Eventually, the union organizers start to argue that the non-members are deriving benefits for which they should pay through dues and hence the campaign to secure a majority proceeds with renewed vigor in the hope of obtaining enough converts to produce a 51 per cent voting strength.

Minority Not Considered

It is when a union achieves a majority that the Wagner Law says that sole bargaining rights must be granted by the employer no matter what the minority may think about it. Employers are compelled to deal only with the agent of the majority and are forbidden to hear the "views or recommendations" of the minority.

The city of New York, which is dominated by a Democratic administration, is not willing to take a dose of the same medicine which the Democrats in Congress from New York and other states have imposed on the employers of the nation and upon the minorities who do not want to be represented by a union but want to negotiate terms and working conditions in their own way.

The reason given by the city is that all its employes must, by law, be considered civil servants and that there can be no discrimination between them. Actually the same thing applies to persons in private employment once a bargaining agent is selected for the majority. The minority cannot be treated any worse or better than the arrangement made with the majority's agent, and it has been held that concessions made to the minority are a violation of the federal law.

It will be interesting to see what the committee of five will recommend. Will they permit an election whereby the employes choose a bargaining agent? If they do not, they will, in effect, be saying that the principle of coercing a minority is sound when applied by the Wagner law to one group of citizens but unsound when applied to another group of citizens both of whom may be engaged in the same kind of work — namely, transportation within a city.

Nazi War Crimes Defense Prepares Its Major Stand

By DeWITT MACKENZIE

Nuerenberg, Germany, Feb. 27 (AP)—Quietly but persistently attorneys for the Nazi leaders on trial for war crimes before the Allied Tribunal are preparing a case calculated to prove that Germany's aggression was forced upon her by warlike designs of other nations.

That is to say, the attempt will be made to show that the Reich was in effect acting on the defensive—a type of whitewash that's as old as war itself. Of course, this line of argument is part of the defense of the score of individual chiefs like former Reichsmarshal Herman Goering and Ex-Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop, for the absurd myth that the Reich was peace-minded must have the corollary that the ministers of state also were bent on preserving the peace.

Still, one gets the definite impression that justification of the German nation is the main issue in the mind of the defense and that the fate of individuals is secondary. It's now, as ever, "Deutschland Uber Alles."

These defensive tactics keep cropping up. For example, I was present at the session in which Dr. Horn, the smooth-spoken and punctilious attorney for Von Ribbentrop, made his extraordinary plea that the Tribunal permit him to call Former Prime Minister Winston Churchill as a witness to testify about a conversation which the defense says took place between Churchill and Von Ribbentrop before the war.

Pressed to state what useful purpose this would serve, Horn made this startling claim:

The witness (Churchill) can testify that on the occasion of his visit to the German Embassy, Von Ribbentrop talked with him about the necessity of the creation of friendly relations between Germany and England and that he mainly told him that a strong Germany, which was now about to become a reality, represented the strongest support for England's empire. At that time (Horn said) Churchill replied to these statements that England was intelligent and experienced enough to get other powers on England's side if Germany should become too strong. On this occasion Churchill stated unmistakably that England would destroy Germany if she should become too strong.

Well now Dr. Horn's application has been turned down but his purpose clearly was to try to convince the world that Von Ribbentrop was the peace-loving servant of a peace-loving nation and that England was rattling the saber. And don't overlook that even the introduction of this application in open court was bound to result in world-wide circulation of Horn's claim through news channels. The doctor and his colleagues are sowing this seed freely in the hope that some of it will fall on fertile soil. "Deutschland Uber Alles."

Horn increased the trajectory of his heavy artillery to take in more territory when he asked for permission to call as a witness General Koestring, former military attache in Moscow and now in Nuernberg jail (which may be as near to heaven as he ever will get). Said Dr. Horn blandly:

He (Koestring) can especially testify that the German preparations to take up positions against Russia were the result of previous Russian concentrations in West Russia.

This is a piece off the same cloth as that from which the Churchill request was made and whether Koestring's evidence is produced or not Horn has succeeded in registering the allegation that Russia was contemplating aggression against Germany.

Goering, von Ribbentrop, von Papen and some others of the defendants are taking an active hand in making suggestions to bolster up this line of defense. The Former Reichsmarshal in particular is constantly busy, listening intently to every line of argument and writing innumerable notes which are handed on to his attorney. Suggestions from the man who was Hitler's right hand for years, and from others who were close to the Fuehrer, naturally are invaluable to the defense.

It's my guess, too, that we shall get some amazing testimony if Goering and the rest take the stand in their own defense.

OLD PROMISES RRENEWED

London reports the wedding of a man and his former wife, divorced 23 years ago. A. Checkley, the ex-husband, came home on leave from his job in Africa to see his son, a petty officer in the Navy, who had just married. He called on his former wife to get their son's address. The meeting, after 23 years, resulted in Checkley proposing again and being accepted. The son's wife acted as matron of honor and the reunited couple sailed for Africa.

Notable historical and literary figures who played the flute were George Washington, Lord Byron, Dr. Johnson's Boswell, Robert Louis Stevenson, Rousseau, Schopenhauer, Casanova, Cellini and Leonardo da Vinci.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Los Angeles, Feb. 28 (AP)—Mrs. Thelma Neiditch was granted a divorce from Bernard Neiditch.

She testified her husband told her he could support either her or his race horse and that he was more interested in the horse.

Considerate

Huntington Park, Calif., Feb. 28 (AP)—Word filtered in to Justice of the Peace Stanley Moffatt's court that nylon hosiery was on sale nearby, and the six women in the jury began fidgeting as they eyed the clock with trepidation.

Moffatt learned what was up and announced "the trial will be delayed for the women jurors to do some important shopping."

Fifteen minutes later the six women returned to the courtroom, glum and disheartened.

"The lines were too long," they said.

About Face

Arlington, Calif., Feb. 28 (AP)—Camp Anza, processing center for the Los Angeles Port of Debarkation now being deactivated, sent its last enlisted returnee toward home yesterday.

He was Corp. Milford D. Thompson of Edmond, Okla., who as the 395,570th and last returnee had an unexpected treat.

Lt. Col. Thomas E. Meyer, in charge of the debarkation command group, carried the corporal's baggage as Thompson climbed aboard the troop train.

Board and Tuition

Waukesha, Wis., Feb. 28 (AP)—T. R. Uthus, superintendent of the Wisconsin Industrial School for Boys, says he received a letter from a young Hawaiian, stating:

"As I am considering attending your school this fall term, will you please send me a school catalog and other pertinent material on your school curriculum and activities?"

The industrial school is for delinquent boys. Uthus said the applicant probably had heard there was no tuition.

No Bids

Alton, Ill., Feb. 28 (AP)—The city council advertised for bids on two new motorcycles to replace two old machines now being used by the police department.

Not a single bid was received. Instead, the council got an offer for the two old motorcycles.

Hoop Suit

Wood River, Ill., Feb. 28 (AP)—The clothing shortage has prompted A. C. Hunt to exhibit in his clothing shop window a dummy attired only in a barrel. A sign adorning the barrel reads: "Coming Soon."

MISSING TEACHER

Lola Celli (above), a 24-year-old Columbus, O., high school teacher, left home February 23 to shop for nylons and didn't come back. Her parents expressed fear she had met with violence. They described her as a "perfect girl," who didn't drink or smoke and seldom had dates with men. (AP Wirephoto).

KOALAS GOT FOXES' BLAME

Thousands of Australia's harmless koala bears were destroyed by early settlers in the belief that they raided orchards by night and ate the fruit, scientists at Sydney have discovered. The settlers found their fruit on the ground each morning and saw the koalas asleep in nearby gum trees. Now, it is known that koalas rarely eat fruit and that flying foxes were responsible for night raids on orchards.

The Arctic tern is the champion long-distance bird, covering an annual 20,000 miles from its breeding grounds in the north to its wintering quarters in the southern seas.

"The Way I See It... I Save THREE Ways By Using The BANK - AGENT AUTOMOBILE FINANCE PLAN"

"First of all, I know I'm paying only the fair, reasonable bank interest rates when I borrow from a bank the money to buy my new car. I don't have to look for hidden charges or extra assessments, because I know there aren't any. I figure I make a saving right there.

"Then I can go out and buy my car with cash; and I guess you'll agree that the fellow with cash can generally get a better deal for himself. And I figure I save on insurance, because I can choose the coverage that best fits the car I buy and my own personal set-up, and buy the insurance from a friendly local agent.

"I like lots of other things about this Bank-Agent plan, too. I like the simple way the whole thing works—no red tape or complications—and the generous time they give me to repay the loan. I like to know I can talk things over with the bank if I have to, and I like to have an insurance agent who'll be on the job if I need him in a hurry. I'm certainly glad I found out about the Bank-Agent Plan before I ordered my new car."

YOU'LL like the Bank-Agent Auto Finance Plan, too. Ask your bank or your insurance agent about it—BEFORE you buy your car!

Five Jap Soldiers Doomed to Gallows

Accused as Ringleaders of Group That Cremated Four American Fliers in Hankow

Shanghai, Feb. 28 (AP)—Seventeen Japanese military men were sentenced today—five to the gallows, 12 to prison—for the strangulation and cremation of three American B-29 fliers at Hankow in December, 1944. An 18th defendant, the lone civilian to be tried, was acquitted.

The U. S. Military Trial Commission decreed death by hanging for:

Maj. Gen. Masataka Kaburagi, chief of staff and deputy commander of the Japanese 34th Army in Hankow; Warrant Officer Tsutomu Fujii, who supervised the killings; and the trio who pulled the cords about the helpless airmen's necks: Sgt. Major Shozo Masui, Sgt. Koichi Masuda, and Pvt. Yosaburo Shirakawa.

Col. Kameji Fukumoto, commandant of Japan's Hankow gendarmerie, was sentenced to life imprisonment. Terms of others ranged from 18 months to 20 years. The civilian who was acquitted had served only as a witness at the killings, testimony showed.

All 18 defendants had been charged with the murder of Second Lt. Lester R. White, Slickville, Pa.; Sgt. Henry W. Weaton, Milwaukee, Wis.; and Sgt. James E. Forbes, Jr., East Hartford, Conn. The prosecution had asked the death penalty only for those responsible for the killings, however.

Art League Holds First Exhibit at Wall Street Store

The first exhibit of the Kingston Art League is now on display at Herzog's store on Wall street.

The league was started by a group of citizens of Kingston to provide a means of relaxation for adults and the building up of a cultural center for children. It is strictly non-professional, and the average person who loves art and wishes to express himself in line and color is catered to by the organization. The group had its beginning in the barn of Mrs. Robert Herzog at 30 Johnston avenue and was originally for the children. Mrs. Edmund O'Reilly is credited with originating the idea and the classes now meet at the studio of Mr. Berardinelli at 450 Washington avenue.

Oil paintings and sketches on display have been accomplished with only a few lessons, some are the student's first attempt with oils. They are the works of Mrs. Robert Herzog, Mrs. Edward McCaffery, Miss Kathryn Cook, Mrs. Thomas Plunket, Joseph Matey, Miss G. Birmingham, Miss Mary Jo O'Reilly, Miss Emily Bight, Mrs. Edward Phelan, Mrs. Edmund O'Reilly, Miss Frances Beck, Miss Cynthia Steketee, and Mrs. S. Wilkes.

Etchings and wood cuts by Mr. Berardinelli are featured in this showing. Among them is a woodcut of Pope Pius XII, now on exhibition at the Philadelphia Print Club.

Leary's First Stop Is State Prison

Authorities of Connecticut Say Fugitive Will Start Old Term

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 28(AP)—Daniel J. Leary's first stop in Connecticut when he is brought back from Chicago will be the State Prison Wethersfield, according to Hugh M. Alcorn, Sr., who served as special state attorney in the Waterbury municipal fraud case.

Alcorn, who renewed his activity in the case when he learned a man identified as the former city comptroller had been arrested in Chicago, said yesterday no action would be taken against Leary as a fugitive from justice.

The former prosecutor, now retired, said State Police Commissioned Edward J. Hickey, who is in Chicago to arrange for Leary's return, had in his possession a state prison warrant for the fugitive's immediate delivery to Wethersfield where he is to serve a 10 to 15 year term. Hickey also brought with him certified copies of judgments and other papers in the case, Alcorn said.

Squash Report Truman Will Call Labor Parley

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP) — The White House said today President Truman has no plans to call representatives of the C.I.O. Auto Workers and General Motors Corp. to Washington in an effort to settle the 100-day-old strike at G.M. plants.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross reported this at a news conference after he was asked about reports that Stabilization Director Chester Bowles had not made such a recommendation to the President.

However, sources close to Bowles who asked to remain anonymous said he had made such a suggestion to Presidential advisers but has received no word whether it has been brought to Mr. Truman's attention.

Phone Co., Workers Part; Strike Due March 7th

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Negotiations between the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and Federation of Long Line Telephone Workers, representing 19,000 employes, were broken off early today after a 14-hour conference failed to settle the union's wage and hour demands.

J. J. Moran, president of the union, which is affiliated with the National Federation of Telephone Workers (Ind.), said after the meeting:

"We are finished. Our answer will be March 7."

The March date has been set by the N.F.T.W. for the start of a nation-wide telephone strike.

project under way during the coming summer season. At the present time the Rondout project is approximately half completed and if the city of New York is to have the project completed and the needed additional water made available within a reasonably short time, work must be resumed. Much of the construction below ground has been finished and the Merriman dam is partially completed. The original contract under which the work thus far has been done was halted when the war came along and much of the machinery which was being used by the contractors was transferred to war work, much of it for the construction of Stewart Field.

Resumption of the work at an early date would give employment of a large number of local men.

Are There Any Other Volunteers for This?

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—One man, identity not revealed, has volunteered to stay in the target area next spring when the atomic bombs are exploded in the Pacific.

But his offer was rejected by the Navy.

Rear Admiral Russell Berkey, chief of the Navy's Civilian Liaison Office, disclosed the volunteer's offer.

The slave trade began in 1503, when Portuguese landed the first shipment of Negroes at Santo Domingo.

Saranac Lake Blaze Leaves Twenty Homeless

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Twenty persons were made homeless last night when fire swept the second and third floors of a three-story frame building (19 Broadway) with a loss estimated by the owner, George Downing, at $250,000.

About 25 rooms on the upper floors were destroyed completely and five stores, including a fur establishment, on the ground floor were damaged by smoke and water.

Those driven from the living quarters were taken to nearby hotels and homes for the night.

France Relinquishes Territory in China

Chungking, Feb. 28 (AP)—France officially relinquished extraterritorial rights in China by treaty today. In return, China agreed to withdraw her troops from northern French Indochina.

The treaty, removing one more sore spot from the troubled Orient, was signed by Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Shih-Chieh and French Ambassador Jacquaes Meyrier.

The United States and Great Britain relinquished extraterritorial rights in China during the war.

Brussels, Feb. 28 (AP)—The right-winger Social Christian Party failed to form a government for Belgium today and Regent Prince Charles ended the mission of Auguste De Schryver to negotiate with other political leaders.

De Schryver, president of the party, told newspaper reporters he had been unable to come to an agreement with the Socialist Party whose leader, former Premier Achille Van Acker, opposes the return of King Leopold from exile.

Smear Charge Raised In Hearing on Pauley

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—John A. Smith, California independent oil producer, testified today that Norman Littell, former assistant attorney general, had told him the Senate Naval Committee was "going to try to smear you up."

Smith was a witness at the committee hearing on the nomination of Edwin W. Pauley as under-secretary of navy. He made the statement under questioning by Senator Tydings (D., Md.) after Senator Tobey (R., N. H.), said he had asked Littell to help him fight Pauley.

Smith said he had gone over with Littell the testimony he was to give today. It was at a dinner Monday night at the Littell home, he said, that Littell warned him of the impending "smear" attempt.

He said Littell told him the "smear" effort would involve "some situation in California in which you were accused of stealing oil."

"I said that was all right," Smith added, "I'd be glad to tell the Senate Committee about that."

"Q"-Fever Fells 15 in Building Fighting Virus

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—An outbreak of "Q" fever, somewhat similar to virus pneumonia, has stricken 22 workers at the National Institute of Health at Bethesda, Md.

All are employed in a building housing a laboratory in which study recently was resumed on the disease, named "Q" because it first was identified among slaughter house workers in Queensland, Australia. The disease is caused by organisms known as Rickettsia.

None of those affected was directly engaged in the laboratory, which is part of the research center of the United States public health service. But all worked in the building.

Dr. Charles Armstrong, chief of the institute's division of infectious diseases, made this comment:

"We started working on Q fever a gain a few weeks ago and it got away from us again, just as it did before."

Anaconda Workers Strike At Hudson, N. Y., Plant

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Eighteen strikers of the Hudson, N. Y., plant of the Anaconda Wire and Cable Co. picketed the firm's main office on lower Broadway for an hour and a half today.

The pickets, who were orderly and did not impede traffic, distributed pamphlets saying the 1,200 employes of the plant had been out since February 19 seeking a $2-a-day wage boost.

Mario D. Nicolais, president of Local 404, United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America (C.I.O.), said "not a machine" was operating at the plant.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP) — The position of the Treasury February 26: Receipts $312,167,176.58. Expenditures $385,508,696.48. Balance $25,893,950,870.47. Customs receipts for month $29,752,652.90. Receipts fiscal year July 1 $27,128,544,124.55. Expenditures fiscal year $46,655,173,601.24. Excess of expenditures $19,526,629,476.69. Total debt $279,611,418,287.94. Increase over previous day $48,398,734.49. Gold assets $20,233,087,987.43.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Scattered stocks continued to edge toward recovery in today's market although many leaders stumbled after a fairly good start.

Dealings, moderately active at the opening, soon turned sluggish as prices wavered. While gains of fractions to a point were in evidence near the fourth hour, losses running to 2 or so dotted the ticker tape. Steel and motors exhibited slipping inclinations.

Wall street generally felt that a further technical rally, following the sharpest drop in more than eight years, was a likelihood but numerous customers still were disposed to trim accounts because of the persistently cloudy labor situation and governmental price control policy. Inflation psychology seemed to have waned and deflation theories were heard in the financial sector.

Ahead most of the time were Santa Fe, Texas Co., National Distillers, Distillers Corp., U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, du Pont, Eastman Kodak, J. C. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Goodrich, Loew's, American Telephone, American Water Works, American Can, Schenley and Montgomery Ward.

Admit Breakdown in Telephone Bargaining

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—Edgar L. Warren, Chief of the Federal Conciliation Service, said today the government had been unable thus far to "arrive at any basis," for averting a threatened nation-wide telephone strike March 7.

Warren told a news conference federal conciliators throughout the country have been ordered to keep wage negotiations going and the Labor Department is awaiting developments.

He discussed the telephone wage dispute after a three-hour conference between Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach and C. F. Craig, Industrial Relations Vice President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The conference with Craig, Warren explained, showed there are a "lot of local peculiarities" involved in the telephone negotiations. He added that no decision had been reached as to the government procedure which would be followed if a strike is called.

"I can't say how far the government would go to prevent a strike," Warren said in answer to a questioon.

Take $20 in Pennies, Scatter $7,000 in Bonds

Safe robbers who have been operating successfully in Poughkeepsie since last October 16, moved their activities to Rhinebeck Tuesday night, forcing entrance to the office of the James S. Gibson Building Supply Co., and cracking two safes. Their efforts netted them some $20 in pennies, police authorities said, and they ignored $7,000 in War Bonds, scattering them on the floor of the office, according to State Trooper Harry Sindt of the Rhinebeck B.C.I.

No Makeup, Nurses Quit

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 28 (AP)—A brief sitdown strike of the 240 student nurses at Delaware Hospital won them the right to wear makeup on duty. But they can't wear too much of it under conduct rules announced Dr. Joseph P. Leone, hospital medical director. "There is no objection to it," he said, "if it is not used indiscriminately."

HIGH FALLS

High Falls, Feb. 28—Wallace Fulford of the Navy received his honorable discharge at Lido Beach on Tuesday and has returned to his home here. Mr. Fulford spent some time on both Okinawa and in Shanghai.

Leonard Countryman has returned to Fort Bennington, Georgia, after spending a month's furlough with his wife and parents.

British Tycoon Attacks U. S. Lo

Charges It Would Me Forfeiture of Britain' Independence

London, Feb. 28 (AP)—Lo Rotherwick attacked vigorou today the proposed U. S. loan Great Britain, asserting that approval would mean this count would become "an illegitima 49th state of America."

Lord Rotherwick, Chairman a Managing Director of the Cl Steamship Line, spoke at the a nual meeting of the Chamber Shipping:

"If this loan with its one-side impossible and unbelievable co ditions takes place, then the o comfort I can see for those of who are growing old is that it w tend to soften the pangs of deat

"It will mean the eliminatio of this country as one of the gre powers for peace and stability i the world, and I am afraid it wi result eventually in this countr sinking to a small third class pow er—an illegitimate 49th state o America, dragging down with he the other members of the Em pire."

He said the loan should hav been given as a gift, free of in terest.

"It is something to be ashame of," he shouted, "it was nothin more or less than the selling of the British Empire and its inde pendence to America."

How Strong Was Pearl Harbor When Japanese Made Attack?

By CLARKE BEACH

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—Two main issues have emerged in the Pearl Harbor controversy:

1. Were the Army and Navy commanders at Pearl Harbor (and the War and Navy Departments in Washington) informed of the danger of a Japanese attack?

2. Did the Pearl Harbor commanders have enough fighting power to resist attack?

Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations in 1941, said he had appealed vainly to Washington to strengthen the fleet's manpower.

Admiral J. O. Richardson, chief of staff of the Pacific Command until relieved by Admiral Husband E. Kimmel on February 1, 1941, said he had urged President Roosevelt on October 8, 1940, to transfer the fleet to the Pacific coast to prepare it for war. But Richardson said the President declined, contending that its presence in Hawaii exercised a restraining influence on Japan.

Admiral Kimmel said he had requested reinforcements in men and arms.

Army and Navy documents were introduced to show that Former Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Knox, who died in 1944, exchanged numerous memoranda early in 1941 in which they agreed that the Pearl Harbor defense needed much strengthening to make the base secure.

Recommended Expenditure

Lieut. Gen. Walter C. Short, 1941 commander at Pearl Harbor, testified that he recommended an expenditure of $22,953,697 for the increased security of Hawaii but that he received only $350,000.

Admiral Richmond Kelly Turner, director of war plans in 1941, said that the fleet "within the limits of the material we had been able to provide" had been prepared for months for the sort of raid which came on December 7. The fleet then consisted chiefly of six battleships, six cruisers, and twelve destroyers.

If there had been a "proper alert," Turner said, we would have defeated or largely turned aside the Japanese attack.

There were no carriers at Pearl Harbor. Two task forces, with all the fleet's carriers, had left for Wake and Midway on November 28 and December 5.

It was for this reason, Kimmel declared, that the battleships were concentrated in the harbor. With his carrier based planes far at sea, he said, he had to keep his capital ships where they could be protected by land-based aircraft.

Yet even his force of land-based planes was inadequate, Kimmel testified, for he didn't have enough patrol planes for effective reconnaissance. In fact, the committee was told by other officers, there was no written record of any Navy air search on December 6.

Conflicting Testimony

Conflicting testimony was given, however, by Vice Admiral P. N. L. Bellinger, who was in command of the Navy's patrol planes in Hawaii. He said he had sufficient craft to operate a distant reconnaissance north of Oahu for at least a week before the attack.

But, he said, he had never recommended a distant search to Kimmel, and he could not have instituted one without Kimmel's order. He said he never asked for the use of the Army bombers on the island for reconnaissance, although they were available under the Army-Navy joint plan.

Personnel Up To Standard

As for personnel on December 7, it was testified that 65 per cent of the Navy's battleship officer personnel and 95 per cent of the enlisted men were aboard ship. Of Army personnel, 50 per cent had been on leave the night of December 6.

It was disclosed further that the Roberts Commission had made a detailed investigation of rumors of drunkenness among Army and Navy officers on December 6, and that the commission concluded there was no evidence to support the charges.

Unprepared for Combat

At Hickham Field, the army air base adjoining Pearl Harbor, no army aircraft were armed and equipped for combat when the Japs arrived. They were parked three or four abreast about 10 feet apart. This had been done to make it easier to guard them against sabotage, it was explained. (Witnesses testified that there was no record of sabotage at Pearl Harbor either before, during or after the attack).

On the whole, said Short, he in no case could have prevented the damage to the fleet, since his aircraft and anti-aircraft defense was inadequate.

Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff in 1941, denied this. He testified that if Short had been on the alert he could have prevented all but limited damage. The Hawaiian Department, Marshall contended, at that time was more nearly up to desired standards in men and machines than any other installation in the army.

"They had sufficient men and material," he said, "to resist either an enemy raid or a more serious attack."

Testimony went into the matter of liaison between the army and navy commands.

Short said that the navy was responsible for long distance reconnaissance and that he assumed that such patrols were being conducted.

Short on Men, Equipment

Kimmel said he thought that the army was giving him a 200-mile radar coverage. Short said his radar was able to operate only between 4 and 7 a. m. because of shortage of equipment and trained personnel.

Kimmel said he did not know the exact status of the army alert and that neither he nor any member of his staff made an effort to learn. Army officials acknowledged they hadn't checked up on the navy's reconnaissance either.

Short criticized the navy's staff work. He said navy officers knew that the army was on only a sabotage alert but that they took no action to correct this. They knew also, he said, that the Army Interceptor Command was operating only experimentally and was not "prepared to take the air immediately."

TRADE MARK REG.

By Junius

I Would Be True!

I would be true, for there are those who trust me;
I would be pure, for there are those who care;
I would be strong, for there is much to suffer;
I would be brave, for there is much to dare.
I would be a friend of all—the foe, the friendless;
I would be giving and forget the gift.
I would be humble for I know my weakness;
I would look up—and laugh—and love—and lift.

—Howard Arnold Walter

The wife of the meat black marketer heard it was quite the thing in society to have one's portrait painted, and called on an artist:

Artist—Shall I paint you in evening dress?

Woman—That won't be necessary at all. You may wear your overalls if you wish.

A girl was asked why she never wore a sweater. She replied: "I can't figure it out."

Old Friends

There are no friends like old friends,
And none so good and true;
We greet them when we meet them,
As roses greet the dew.
No other friends are dearer,
Tho born of kindred mold;
And while we prize the new ones,
We treasure more the old.

—Sickles

This reminds us of the story of a girl who went into a store to buy a sweater. After trying on a dozen or so she donned one that the saleslady said was a "perfect fit." Even the girl admitted this—and then ordered one two sizes smaller.

Publisher—No. I'm afraid I can't even read your story. It would be only a waste of time. You see, we publish nothing but stories written by a well-known name.

Author—Well, my name is well known. It's Smith.

Revised Adages

Early to bed, and early to rise,
And you'll be supporting two other guys.

In these fine mornings you often see maids wheeling babies in the park and it is interesting to hear them talk when they get together:

First Maid—I expect to be seeing you at the dance tonight.

Second Maid—I don't think I'll be able to go.

First Maid — But you like to dance. Won't Mrs. Jones let you off?

Second Maid—I'd like to go and she'll let me off, but to tell the truth I'm afraid to leave the baby with her.

We observed a want ad hanging in a restaurant window in Palatka, Florida that sound like a swell job: It says: "Wanted: Man to Wash Dishes and Two Waitresses."

Doctor—Your husband must have absolute rest and quiet. Here are some sleeping tablets.

Patient's Wife—When must I give them to him?

Doctor—They're for you.

Grit says: "A real pretty girl is one who looks just like her picture after the photographer gets thru doctoring the thing."

Dentist—You have acute pyorrhea.

Rome's Royal Palace Has Pre-War Reception

Rome, Feb. 27 (AP)—In the first gala reception to be held in the Royal Palace since the liberation of Rome, Prince Umberto, lieutenant general of the Realm, and members of the diplomatic corps met last night with 35 cardinals—many of them newly-elevated princes of the Roman Catholic Church.

Francis Cardinal Spellman was the only American cardinal present at the lavish function. Two of his compatriots, Edward Cardinal Mooney of Detroit and Samuel Cardinal Stritch of Chicago, had taken a tour of the countryside while John Cardinal Glennon of St. Louis rested at his hotel.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Saugerties, Feb. 28—The Rev. Thomas Falshaw of the Saugerties Methodist church, who is now completing his eighth year in this village, has been asked by the congregation to return for another year.

The regular monthly meeting of the Saugerties Fish and Game Club was held in the Municipal building with Harold Mills presiding. Over 150 members were present and 46 new names entered into the membership. During the business session it was decided that ninety dollars worth of wild rice be planted in the duck area; twenty dozen rabbits were received and distributed in the township; also that five to six hundred dollars worth of pheasants would be purchased and that altogether things for the sporting fans looks excellent in this district. Following the business movies were shown through the courtesy of Attorney Morris Rosenblum.

Miss Jessie MacMullen of West Bridge street who is recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident has been taken from the Dale Sanitarium to the home of her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Kearney on Elm street.

The Knaust Bros. has a large force of men razing one of the large factory buildings on the South side and when completed will make space for the parking of automobiles to be used by employees of the coming General Electric factory.

The monthly meeting of the Saugerties Ministerial Association will be held on Monday, March 4, at 2 o'clock at the Baptist Parsonage on Market street.

Announcement has been made of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Saile of Huston, Texas on February 11. The father is the son of Mrs. Wendell Saile of Livingston street this place.

Nelson Van Bramer of Elm street underwent an operation at the Benedictine Hospital on Monday.

Chester Beers of Market street motored to Newark, N. J. on Wednesday afternoon on business.

Mrs. Mary Smith of Kingston, the district deputy grand matron of the Greene-Ulster district will make her official visit to the Kingston Chapter this Friday evening. Local members are expected to attend this meeting as guests to this affair.

A special meeting of the canvassers of Atonement Lutheran Church was held last Sunday morning and during this week a visitation was made to all the members for contributions and pledges to assume the title of the Miller property. Those interested may contact Miss Florence Gipper or Harry Knaust, chairman.

The condition of Mrs. B. W. Gifford who is seriously ill at the Benedictine Hospital is reported to be a little improved.

Mrs. Bessie Vogt of this village who was injured in an automobile accident is confined to the Benedictine Hospital, Kingston.

Dr. George Swerdloff and family of Livingston street was a weekend visitor in New York city.

The Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Y. Brink and son of West New York, N. J. was recent guests of relatives and friends in this village.

The annual report of the Saugerties Methodist Church last Sunday evening shows that the membership is over 400 and that the financial and spiritual interests was in an excellent condition. A new automatic heating plant is to be installed into the church in the near future. The Sunday school enrollment is over 160 with attendance excellent. Lewis F. Fellows, president of the board and chairman of the pulpit committee addressed the meeting and spoke highly of the pastor, the Rev. Thomas Falshaw and his work during the past year.

Robert Knaust, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knaust of Barclay Heights has received his honorable discharge from the service of the U. S. Army and has returned home.

The Rev. William J. Farricker of Liberty and formerly of Veteran was a recent visitor in this village.

The local high school year book known as the "Sawyer" is now being made up and special features will be added to this book which will be interesting. This year the theme will be "Lumbering." This will be much along the the local lines of the community as a paper producing town. Many colored scenes will be made of local places, and people.

Grace Legg of the WACS has received her honorable discharge from service and has returned to her home in town.

Considerable interest in under way in this village as to the General Electric offices being moved from Schenectady to Kingston a that several large tracts of la has been under observation by t upstate concern.

Program Instituted Against Traffic Accidents

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—An integrated state-local program to slow down the rising postwar traffic fatility list is the aim of a safety conference convening today at Governor Dewey's request.

Headed by Alger B. Chapman, commissioner of taxation and finance, the conference was charged by Dewey with the job of setting up "a fully integrated program of accident prevention employing enforcement, engineering and educational techniques."

Highway traffic and safety authorities have been enlisted to aid the state in the drive. Municipal officials from all sections of the state also are taking part.

Dewey declared in calling the session that the increase of traffic accidents since V-J Day "constitutes an emergency demanding immediate action."

The number of over-age automobiles, the increasing number of drivers who were returning to the roads after a wartime absence and the condition of the state's highways due to wartime neglect were cited by the Governor as reasons for the growing accident list.

During the three months after gasoline rationing ended in mid-August, he said, there were 18,867 personal injury accidents in the state, resulting in 557 deaths and 24, 013 injuries.

State Police Planning Several New Schools

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP) — Between 40 and 50 New York state communities will have police training schools this spring under a program an F.B.I. official describes as "a positive advance in the professionalization of law enforcement."

The plan, adopted yesterday at a meeting of the State Association of Chiefs of Police, has the approval of that body the State Sheriffs Association and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The training schools will be open to all local and county law enforcement officers. There will also be special training sessions April 22-26 in New York city and Syracuse for police administrative officials.

Instructors will include F.B.I. men, police chiefs, sheriffs, attorneys, judges and city, county, state and federal officials.

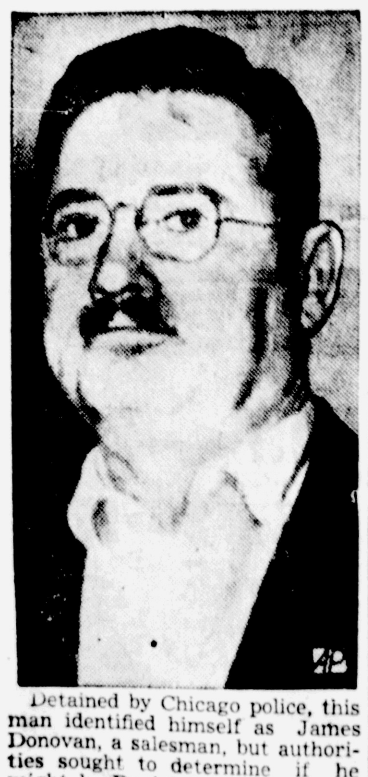
HELD IN CHICAGO



Detained by Chicago police, this man identified himself as James Donovan, a salesman, but authorities sought to determine if he might be Daniel J. Leary, former Waterbury, Conn., comptroller who disappeared five years ago as he was about to begin a 10-15 year sentence on a fraud conviction. (AP Wirephoto).

Death Penalty Awaits 7 Nazis in Spy Ring

Rio De Janeiro, Feb. 27 (AP)—Seven Germans including a woman were accused today of espionage in Brazil as part of a spy plot in Argentina, Uruguay, Chile, Peru, Colombia and Venezuela. The charges were presented to a supreme military tribunal.

The group, which also included four Brazilians accused as accomplices, was headed by a German engineer, George Konrad Frederich Blass, a former director of the University of Cologne.

All face death penalties.

President H. H. Flemming of Kingston Hospital Files Report

Judge Harry H. Flemming, president of the Kingston Hospital, has submitted to the Board of Managers the following report for the year 1945:

In pursuance of the provisions of the by-laws the President's report for the year 1945 follows:

There was a substantial increase in the volume of work at the local hospital, which was performed with a depleted force and a scarcity of supplies necessary in the operation. Deferred maintenance in plant and equipment was unavoidable.

The number of patients cared for was 3,313. Of this number 1,307 were surgical, 1,067 were medical, and the balance obstetrical and eye, ear, nose and throat. The total number of days treatment was 33,514.

The school of nursing personnel totaled 83, consisting of 53 student nurses, of which number 16 were admitted during the year, and 17 graduated. Twelve of the general duty nurses resigned to enter the service.

The following gifts are gratefully acknowledged:

Jacob H. Schoonmaker trust fund	$4,418.92
J. C. E. of First Dutch Church	5.00
Freeman Publish Company	25.00
Mrs. Sophie McAndrew	25.00
Mrs. Emily C. Chadbourne	1,000.00
Binnewater Lake Ice Company	100.00
C. Hiltebrant Dry Dock Co.	100.00
Dr. J. S. Taylor	25.00
Dr. M. Elizabeth Moore	215.00
Dr. E. C. Fassett	50.00
Dr. D. S. Meyers	50.00
Dr. C. B. VanGaasbeek	50.00
Dr. Frederick Snyder	50.00
Dr. W. Levy	20.00
Camp Vacamas	25.00
A friend	2.00

At a later date the Superintendent will make special mention through the press of volunteer aid supplied during the year.

The amount received from the Jacob H. Schoonmaker trust fund was applied to the reduction of the mortgage indebtedness which, at the close of the year, was $112,211.82. The balance of the gifts were in large part used for the purchase of new equipment.

The endowment funds aggregate $56,238.55. These are invested and the income used in the operation. The operating accounts are kept on an accrual basis. The accrued income for the year increased by approximately $23,700.00, and the operating expense by about $9,300.00

A Forward Look

Twenty years have elapsed since the reconstruction of the hospital buildings following a destructive fire. The intervening years have shown marked growth not alone in our local work but in the field at large. The hospitalization plan, of recent origin, with the impetus of the second World War, has demonstrated the need for increased facilities, including modern equipment. With this comes the question of an adequate staff and a qualified nursing force. Many of our nurses who entered the service or who went into the industrial establishments, will not return. A substantial number are taking advantage of the college course offered, in order to qualify for advanced work. For many years training schools in connection with hospital units have furnished the necessary number of nurses to carry on the work. Gradually higher standards have been set. The cost of training has steadily increased, and in some instances a discontinuance of the training school has followed. Indications are that the former source of supply is no longer adequate; a new source should be forthcoming. The logical department to deal with the question is the State Department of Education. A high school course, arranged to cover the necesary subjects in the last year, with a postgraduate course in the two years following graduation, the practical work to be obtained through affiliation with the local hospital units, should attract more high school students and place the educational work where it belongs.

The affiliation of hospital units with educational institutions is not new, where there is a five-year course, with a degree; such as Cornell University and New York Hospital in New York city, Hartwick College and Oneonta Hospital, Oneonta, N. Y., Presbyterian Hospital and Medical Center, New York city, Albany Hospital and Union College, Albany, N. Y. The application of the same method in the small city where high school is the highest educational unit in connection with a three-year course, has distinct possibilities.

That the state is apparently giving some consideration to the question is evident from the recent announcement of a class training practical nurses at New York Agricultural and Technical Institute at Delhi, started January 3rd of the current year. This is a nine-months' course in connection with an affiliating hospital. Tuition is free to residents of New York state.

In planning for the future we cannot overlook the facts with reference to the nursing situation. Your board has given consideration to the subject, particularly in connection with the future development of the hospital, concerning which definite plans may be formulated within the current year. In this connection our planning should include raising sufficient funds, in addition to the amount required for additions and betterments, to pay off the outstanding mortgage indebtedness.

Some of our constituents have made inquiry concerning our needs, and as to whether subscriptions can be made and paid between now and the formal announcement of the completed arrangements referred to. Provision should be made immediately to receive paid subscriptions, which should be placed in a reserve fund, at interest, for contemplated additions and betterments to be made. This will place the hospital in the position of having funds on hand when and as the work starts, and will make such payments available to the subscriber as a deduction in computing state and federal income taxes.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. H. FLEMMING,
President.

Mrs. Bernard Law was elected president at the annual meeting of the Community Service Club of the Hurley Reformed Church Tuesday evening. Other officers elected were Mrs. George Dixon, vice president; Mrs. William Post, treasurer, and Mrs. Oliver Tweedy, secretary. At the close of the business meeting games were played under the direction of Mrs. Charles Brandt, and refreshments were served by Mrs. William Fife, Mrs. William Andrus and Miss Colby.

RACETRACK TO BE SOLD

Sydney's show racecourse, Victoria Park, is about to be sold to a foreign industrialist as a site for his Australian factory, for a reported price of $800,000. The land was bought early in this century by the late Sir James Joynton Smith, when it was a dreary swamp. He acquired the 120 acres for $60,000, had the swamp drained into Botany Bay and converted the land into one of the country's finest racecourses.

Cent Hour Wage w Is Considered State Capitol

bany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Gov- Dewey's administration is sing enactment of a 55-cent ur state minimum wage law e present session of the leg- ure.

e existing law, in effect since empowers the State Indus- Commissioner to establish um hourly wage rates for ate industries. ustrial Commissioner Edward has called a conference of and employer groups for Tuesday in Albany. From the erence is expected to come a on whether to submit a bill providing for a 55-cent minimum applicable to all intra-state enterprises except those governed by the federal wage and hour law.

Corsi said he favored fixing a statutory minimum to replace the existing law, administration of which he called difficult and cumbersome.

If employer and labor spokesmen agree on a minimum, Corsi said, his department will support the necessary legislation.

A state minimum wage law would cover approximately 1,200,000 employes, most of whom are protected by existing minimum wage orders.

Spokesmen for organized labor have indicated they prefer a 65-cent floor but might accept a 55-cent minimum temporarily.

The highest minimum under existing wage orders is 52½ cents an hour.

Veterans May Get Truman Citation At Local Station

Honorably discharged members of the armed forces of the United States, eligible to receive the Presidential testimonial of appreciation for their service, may obtain the certificate at any Army Recruiting Station in New York, New Jersey and Delaware, the U. S. Army Recruiting Service, Second Service Command, announces.

Ulster county discharged veterans who have not received the Presidential testimonial may secure a copy at the Kingston Recruiting Station, main Post Office building on Broadway, by presenting a copy of their discharge certificate.

The testimonial is printed on a parchment-like heavy bond paper, eight inches by ten and one-half inches, and is suitable for framing. At the top, in blue, is the Presidential coat-of-arms. Immediately below is a space for the name of the veteran. The message, signed in blue by President Truman, reads as follows:

'To you who answered the call of your country and served in its Armed Forces to bring about the total defeat of the enemy, I extend the heartfelt thanks of a grateful nation. As one of the nation's finest, you undertook the most severe task one can be called upon to perform. Because you demonstrated the fortitude, resourcefulness and calm judgment necessary to carry out that task, we now look to you for leadership and example in further exalting our country in peace."

The first Bible published in the United States was issued from the Harvard college press in 1663.

Sen. Guffey Assailed By Own Henchmen

Philadelphia, Feb. 28 (AP) — Denouncing U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey (D-Pa.) as "nothing but a Federalist," James F. Dougherty, Delaware County Democratic Commissioner announced his candidacy yesterday for Guffey's job.

"What the state needs in the Senate," Dougherty asserted in a statement, "is a Democrat." He charged Guffey "serves himself for his own selfish ends before he serves the interests of the people."

Guffey is seeking re-election to a third term.

Bills Proposed at Albany

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP) — A bill to extend unemployment insurance to maintenance workers in income-producing properties of religious, charitable or educational institutions was introduced in the Assembly today.

Assemblyman Nathan A. Lashin, Bronx Democrat and sponsor of the proposal, said it would compel the institutions employing such persons to contribute to the unemployment insurance fund, giving their employes "their rightful economic security."

"Many non-profit organizations of charitable or educational character have acquired certain real property in this state which is now used in connection with the purpose for which these organizations were founded," Lashin said. "These income-producing properties owe a definite responsibility to their employes, regardless of who the record title holders are."

Meanwhile, the Assembly passed yesterday and sent to Governor Dewey a bill providing that the cost of a public housing project include expenses for moving and relocating persons displaced by the project.

Measures passed by the Assembly and sent to the Senate would:

Extend to all full-time state employes a $1,200 annual salary minimum, including custodial help not at present covered.

Permit the Motor Vehicle Commission to issue only one license plate for a motor vehicle until December 31, 1947.

Bills introduced would:

Require the Board of Regents to set up training schools for firemen throughout the state; appropriate $50,000. (Assemblyman Wilson C. Van Duzer, R, Middletown).

Create a commission to be made up of the chairmen and ranking minority members of the judiciary committees plus three persons named by the Governor to study congressional and legislative reapportionment in the state, reporting annually by February 1; Governor's appointees to receive $7,500 annually. (Assemblyman Harry A. Reoux, R, Warrensburg).

Sportsmen Oppose Plans To Denude State Forests

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Sportsmen and conservationists assert proposals that the state erect shelters in the Adirondacks and widen ski trails on other state lands would destroy the wilderness character of the forest and open the way to commercial exploitation.

The sportsmen, representing about 30 organizations, appeared at an assembly judiciary committee hearing and registered their opposition to two proposed constitutional amendments which would allow the state to build enclosed shelters in the Adirondack State Park and widen ski trails on Belle Ayr Mountain in the Catskills and on Gore, South and Pete Mountains in the Adirondacks.

The measures were introduced by Assemblyman Harry A. Reoux, Warrensburg and Senator Fred A. Young, Lowville, both Republicans.

James F. Evans, state parks director, who spoke in favor of the amendments, said they would allow only for "elementary shelters" in forest preserve.

Church Lauds Trumans For By-Passing Cocktails

Binghamton, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—The President's wife and daughter today had the congratulations of a Binghamton Methodist church for their "courage" in ordering orange juice instead of cocktails at a recent New York city dinner.

Mrs. Morris P. Blair wrote Mrs. Bess Truman and her daughter Margaret, on behalf of the Chenango Street Methodist church, praising "the courage that you and your daughter showed when you ordered orange juice instead of cocktails."

Mrs. Truman replied that she "deeply" appreciated the church's congratulations.

TELLS OF REQUEST

William A. Patterson, United Airlines president, shakes his finger as he testifies before a Senate Naval Affairs Committee at Washington that he refused Edwin W. Pauley's request for $35,000 donation to the Democratic campaign fund because he felt it involved a law violation. He appeared at the hearing on Pauley's fitness to be Navy undersecretary. Anaconda Settles Claim For $1,626,000 Damages

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey said today that the Anaconda Wire and Cable Co. had settled for $1,626,000 a government damage claim based on alleged irregular manufacturing, testing and inspection practices on certain contracts.

The alleged irregularities, said to have occurred mainly in production of army field wire and navy degaussing (anti-mine) cable, occurred in 1941 and 1942 at the company's plants at Marion, Ind.; Pawtucket, R. I., and Hastings, N. Y., McGohey said.

McGohey added that criminal proceedings, resulting in fines and sentences against the company and certain officials and employes, were instigated because of practices at the Marion and Pawtucket plants.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Laurence H. Axman said that under the settlement, civil suits filed in Federal Court here and in Rhode Island will be dismissed. McGohey announced that Federal Judge Edward A. Conger had signed an order dismissing the action.

He also declared the alleged irregularities had been thoroughly investigated by the F.B.I., and there was no evidence that any of the wire or cable failed because of the alleged practices.

Pauley Still Insists He Will Not Withdraw

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—Edwin W. Pauley stood firm today on his refusal to withdraw as the nominee for under secretary of the navy, despite reports that a means would be found to keep the issue from a Senate vote.

One Democrat who requested anonymity told newsmen he had assurances the nomination would not reach the Senate floor.

At the same time, however, Pauley was carrying a written statement for the Senate Naval Committee which he said would reject suggestions that he quit the fight.

State Guard Will Be Inspected Tonight

The annual federal inspection of the local units of the State Guard will be held tonight at the state armory by regular Army officers of the Second Service Command. This inspection is open to the general public. The time set is 7:30 o'clock.

The units to be inspected are Co. A and B and Headquarters Detachment.

The inspection will be made to ascertain the progress made in training by the members of the local units.

Mearns Joins Northeast Airlines; Is Veteran

Robert D. Mearns, 97 St. James street, a discharged veteran of World War 2, has joined the Northeast Airlines as a mechanic, Fred M. Knight, airline spokesman announced today.

Mearns was discharged from the air force in July after serving 26 months as a sergeant in Palestine, Egypt, Libya, Tunisia and Italy.

Would Teach Driving

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Governor Dewey opened a statewide traffic safety conference today with proposals for a uniform state system of motor vehicle inspection and required driving instruction in all public schools. In a prepared address Dewey said it was his hope that the two-day conference would "project a program to save lives—thousands of lives and hundreds of thousands of injuries."

'Y' Game Canceled

Due to bad traveling conditions Wednesday evening the scheduled Y.M.C.A. basketball game in Pine Plains was called off after the local team had left Kingston. Bert Streeter, manager of the cagers, notified the Pine Plains management of the cancellation when it was found impossible to make the trip.

SPRAY POISONS BEES

Fruit growers and beekeepers are somewhat at odds in the Hawke's Bay region of New Zealand, where steps have been taken to make it an offense to apply to pip fruit trees a spray poisonous to bees before 75 per cent of the petals have, fallen. Growers oppose it.

MODENA

Modena, Feb. 28—The Modena-Gardonia Service Cheer Club will meet Monday evening, March 4 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Decker. Reports will be given on the card party held Thursday evening, February 14 in the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

The Public Health Nursing Committee of the Town of Plattekill will meet Monday afternoon, March 4 at the home of Mrs. Burton Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wager, Mrs. Tony Mauzethras, Bill Adams, Mrs. Andrew Harcher, Miss Margaret Harcher, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ellersen, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Molson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hartney and daughter, Joan, attended a card party held at Gardiner, Tuesday evening under the direction of the Rosary Society of the St. Charles Church, Ireland Corners.

Carolee Coy celebrated her birthday today with a party at the Modena school. She treated her classmates to ice cream and cake.

A surprise party was held last week at the home of Evelyn and Lucille Doolittle.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coy, Mr. and Mrs. William Doolittle were slightly injured Thursday evening when the car in which they were riding collided with an auto driven by Donald Auchmoody of New Paltz. The accident occurred near Martin DuBois' residence, on the New Paltz-Modena highway. The icy condition of the highway caused the accident, according to a report given by Trooper Baily of Highland, who investigated the accident.

Miss Catherine Tighue has resumed teaching in the Modena school after a brief illness.

Mrs. Lester Wager visited her sister, Mrs. Elmore Smith, and son, Robert, in Kingston recently.

Gilbert Holmberg of the naval training school at Cornell was a candidate for the B.S. degree in Civil Engineering at Cornell University's 84th commencement. Holmberg's home is north of Modena village.

Mrs. Edward Hartney and daughter, Joan, enjoyed a trip in Ted Wright's plane on Sunday. Modena and surrounding vicinity was viewed by the plane riders.

Mrs. Nelson Hedges and Mrs. Burton Ward attended a recent meeting of the Missionary Society at the home of Mrs. Gerow Schoonmaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chambers of Pawling announce the birth of a daughter at the Danbury, Conn. Hospital on February 12. Charles was a former resident of Modena.

Mrs. Freston Paltridge and Mrs. Fred Bernard were in New Paltz recently.

The plan to hold services in the Modena-Clintondale churches, in the morning, alternately at monthly intervals, failed to meet with public approval, and after a period of time has been discontinued. Services are held on Sunday mornings at the usual hour.

TAKING A LOOK AT CONNECTICUT SUSPECT

A man Captain Jerry Looney (left) said identified himself as James Donovan (center), a salesman, is confronted by Connecticut State Police Commissioner Edward J. Hickey (right) of Hartford, Conn., at Chicago. The man, who was being held without charge, later admitted he is Daniel J. Leary, former city comptroller at Waterbury, Conn., according to Commissioner Hickey. The trio is pictured at the Chicago first district police station. (AP Wirephoto).

During the evening, young folks meetings are in progress, with intermissions of recreation in the community hall.

W. Parliman of Wallkill, electrical contractor, is rewiring the Mauzethras residence, north of Modena village. Extensive remodeling of the house is underway. Carpenter work is being done by Fred Bernard.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wager spent last Saturday evening with relatives in Highland.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy DuBois entertained Mr. and Mrs. Myron Shultis at their home Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Coy were visitors in Newburgh Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Denton visited Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Carroll and family in New Paltz Saturday evening.

Howard Atkins, torpedo mechanic first class, stationed at New London, Conn., and Charles Atkins, seaman first class, stationed in New York city, visited at the home of their father, Howard Atkins, in Marlborough recently. Both young men are grandsons of the late Charles Ronk of this section.

Reinstate Teacher

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Miss May Quinn, New York City school teacher accused of intolerance in the classroom, has been reinstated by the Board of Education by a vote of five to one. The board yesterday recommended Miss Quinn's reinstatement on March 1, and fined her two month's salary after finding her guilty on a charge a neglecting her duty in failing fully to check the source of her classroom material and explaining matters to her pupils.

Action Starts to Compel Rehiring of Navy Veteran

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—The first action in this district to compel an employer to reinstate an honorably discharged veteran was filed today in Federal court.

U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey initiated the suit against Wallace Deutsch and Fred Nystrom, doing business as the General Machine Parts Co. of the Bronx, who are asked to rehire Navy Veteran Robert Wendell, 33, of 16 Lincoln avenue, Massapequa, N. Y., as a salesman, service and maintenance engineer.

The complaint also seeks payment to Wendell of $5,147.35 as earnings he was legally deprived of for a year beginning December 7, 1944.

Asst. U. S. Attorney Earle N. Bishop said that the defendants were "tempted to justify their refusal to re-employ Wendell by stating that he had been discharged by them on December 3, 1943," but that "the investigation clearly indicates that he was not so discharged."

Wendell, who is married, was in the Navy from January 15, 1944 until December 5, 1944.

National Nurse Week

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—President Truman today described the nation's 20,000 public health nurses as "one of the most important groups of health workers in the country." The tribute was contained in a message released by Federal Security Administrator Watson B. Miller in connection with the first annual observance of "Know Your Public Health Nurse Week," April 7-13.

Additional Housing Approved for N.Y.C.

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Board of Estimate today approved a city-federal housing authority contract allocating 5,000 additional emergency housing units to the city.

Under a previous agreement the city had received 2,000 temporary dwellings for the Canarsie project in Brooklyn.

The Board today also approved expenditure of $2,750,000 to guarantee bonds to be issued by the City Housing Authority for preparation of sites for the temporary units. It deferred action until March 14 on two sites under consideration, Sound View Park in the Bronx and Ulmer Park, Brooklyn.

Milton Boy Unhurt When Sled Hits Oil Truck

James Clark, five-year-old son of Glenn Clark of Milton, is a lucky little boy. He escaped with a slight laceration near the right eye when his sled struck a tank oil truck on the old 9-W at Milton about 11 o'clock this morning.

Charles Rumsey of Newburgh, owner and driver of the truck, saw the boy from one side and stopped his truck in time to avoid running over him. As it was the sled struck the front wheel of the truck, James bounced off his sled and landed between the front and rear wheels of the truck. He was treated by Dr. Capowski of Milton.

The Intermediate Youth Fellowship of St. James Church will present a benefit movie and selected short subjects Friday evening, March 1, at 7:30 o'clock. The feature movie is "Black Beauty."

"SUFFERED MISERY FOR YEARS..."

Now Regular, Thanks To Famous Cereal

Given up hope of relieving constipation without taking harsh drugs? Then read this sincere, unsolicited letter:

"I would like to add my praise to KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. I suffered years of misery until I saw your ad about 5 years ago. Have been using ALL-BRAN regularly and have never had to use a laxative since." Thomas Banon, 3254 Sansom Street, Philadelphia 4, Pa.

You, too, may never need another harsh laxative for constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet, if you will eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day, and drink plenty of water. Just try this for ten days. If not completely satisfied, send empty carton to Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Michigan. You'll get double your money back.

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative, but a wholesome food made from the vital outer layers of wheat. Provides ever-so-gentle bulk, helpful to normal, easy laxation. Try it as a delicious cereal—and in muffins.

Get ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg's of Battle Creek and Omaha.

Los Angeles, Feb. 28 (AP)—Mrs. Thelma Neiditch was granted a divorce from Bernard Neiditch.

She testified her husband told her he could support either her or his race horse and that he was more interested in the horse.

Considerate

Huntington Park, Calif., Feb. 28 (AP)—Word filtered in to Justice of the Peace Stanley Moffatt's court that nylon hosiery was on sale nearby, and the six women in the jury began fidgeting as they eyed the clock with trepidation.

Moffatt learned what was up and announced "the trial will be delayed for the women jurors to do some important shopping."

Fifteen minutes later the six women returned to the courtroom, glum and disheartened.

"The lines were too long," they said.

About Face

Arlington, Calif., Feb. 28 (AP)—Camp Anza, processing center for the Los Angeles Port of Debarkation now being deactivated, sent its last enlisted returnee toward home yesterday.

He was Corp. Milford D. Thompson of Edmond, Okla., who as the 395,570th and last returnee had an unexpected treat.

Lt. Col. Thomas E. Meyer, in charge of the debarkation command group, carried the corporal's baggage as Thompson climbed aboard the troop train.

Board and Tuition

Waukesha, Wis., Feb. 28 (AP)—T. R. Uthus, superintendent of the Wisconsin Industrial School for Boys, says he received a letter from a young Hawaiian, stating:

"As I am considering attending your school this fall term, will you please send me a school catalog and other pertinent material on your school curriculum and activities?"

The industrial school is for delinquent boys. Uthus said the applicant probably had heard there was no tuition.

No Bids

Alton, Ill., Feb. 28 (AP)—The city council advertised for bids on two new motorcycles to replace two old machines now being used by the police department.

Not a single bid was received. Instead, the council got an offer for the two old motorcycles.

Hoop Suit

Wood River, Ill., Feb. 28 (AP)—The clothing shortage has prompted A. C. Hunt to exhibit in his clothing shop window a dummy attired only in a barrel. A sign adorning the barrel reads: "Coming Soon."

MISSING TEACHER

Lola Celli (above), a 24-year-old Columbus, O., high school teacher, left home February 23 to shop for nylons and didn't come back. Her parents expressed fear she had met with violence. They described her as a "perfect girl." who didn't drink or smoke and seldom had dates with men. (AP Wirephoto).

E. F. Lawrence

Eugene, Ore.—E. F. Lawrence, 66, dean of the University of Oregon College of Architecture and Allied Arts since 1932 and a former vice president and director of the American Institute of Architects.

KOALAS GOT FOXES' BLAME

Thousands of Australia's harmless koala bears were destroyed by early settlers in the belief that they raided orchards by night and ate the fruit, scientists at Sydney have discovered. The settlers found their fruit on the ground each morning and saw the koalas asleep in nearby gum trees. Now, it is known that koalas rarely eat fruit and that flying foxes were responsible for night raids on orchards.

The Arctic tern is the champion long-distance bird, covering an annual 20,000 miles from its breeding grounds in the north to its wintering quarters in the southern seas.

American armed forces used trained dogs of war for the first time in the Marine landing on Bougainville.

"The Way I See It... I Save THREE Ways By Using The BANK - AGENT AUTOMOBILE FINANCE PLAN"

"First of all, I know I'm paying only the fair, reasonable bank interest rates when I borrow from a bank the money to buy my new car. I don't have to look for hidden charges or extra assessments, because I know there aren't any. I figure I make a saving right there.

"Then I can go out and buy my car with cash; and I guess you'll agree that the fellow with cash can generally get a better deal for himself. And I figure I save on insurance, because I can choose the coverage that best fits the car I buy and my own personal set-up, and buy the insurance from a friendly local agent.

"I like lots of other things about this Bank-Agent plan, too. I like the simple way the whole thing works—no red tape or complications—and the generous time they give me to repay the loan. I like to know I can talk things over with the bank if I have to, and I like to have an insurance agent who'll be on the job if I need him in a hurry. I'm certainly glad I found out about the Bank-Agent Plan before I ordered my new car."

YOU'LL like the Bank-Agent Auto Finance Plan, too. Ask your bank or your insurance agent about it—BEFORE you buy your car!

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

"Our birth announcements list seems to approximate the length of our Christmas card list and yet, with both of us living away from our home towns, there are many people to whom we would like to send announcements when the day comes. Is it proper to send so many?"

There is no limit to the length of your list except that of how many people you know, like and have reason to suppose like you enough to be interested in your news. This is especially permissible if you live in a large city whose newspapers have space for comparatively few such announcements in their social column. In a very small town where the social news columns are comparatively long, fewer cards are needed to carry the news to those interested.

Mother Is Coming to Visit

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother is coming to visit us. Would it be sensible to send a notice to that effect to the society editor so that many of our friends, who met her previously, will know she is here? Also, when I am invited to lunches and my husband and I to dinners, shall I decline without giving the reason or shall I explain that mother is here? I do not want anyone to feel that we expect them to include mother.

Answer: A notice will be excellent, unless she is coming for only a very few days and then you should not go out and leave her. If she is coming for longer, you should give a tea or an informal party for her so that her friends can invite her and others can wait until later to ask you alone.

Duplicate Presents

Dear Mrs. Post: We celebrated our wedding anniversary lately and on that occasion received many presents, some of them duplicates. I thought it was permissible to take extra things and get something else and did just that. Now I am told that it was inexcusable. I would like to know why.

Answer: It is absolutely correct to exchange duplicates. Moreover, if they were really duplicates, how could anyone know whose you have returned unless they were marked, in which case you would have to keep the marked one.

Mrs. Post's leaflet, "Wedding Anniversaries," obtainable for a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to her in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y., suggests invitation forms and traditional customs.

Court Santa Maria of Catholic Daughters Holds Annual Banquet Wednesday Night

More than 100 members and guests attended the annual banquet of Court Santa Maria, 164, Catholic Daughters of America at the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday evening. Among the guests were 15 members of the Highland court. All of the new class of members were present.

Members of the clergy who were present were the Rev. Leo B. Donovan, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church of Cairo, guest speaker; the Very Rev. Msgr. Stephen P. Connelly, the Very Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury; and the Rev. Austin V. Carey, chaplain of Court Santa Maria. In addition to the Rev. Father Donovan's address all gave short inspiring talks. A note was read from the Rev. Michael J. Curley of Port Ewen who was unable to attend because of illness and a telegram was received from the Rev. James Dunnigan of Sawkill who was unable to attend because of traveling conditions.

During the dinner hour music was provided by Miss Theresa Miles. Group singing was also enjoyed. Solos were sung by Mrs. Vincent Gaffney of Highland, district deputy; and Mrs. Frank Dobkins. Mrs. Robert Liscom accompanied the soloists at the piano.

The tables were decorated with bouquets of flowers. Programs in purple and gold, colors of the Court, were at each place. Rosary beads with the Infant of Prague were given as souvenirs of the occasion.

Arrangements for the evening were made by Mrs. William Powers and Mrs. Christopher Roche. Officers of the court include Mrs. Mary Dulin, vice grand regent; Mrs. Thomas O'Rourke, prophetess; Mrs. Christopher Roche, lecturer; Mrs. Arthur Ballard, financial secretary; Mrs. Ernest Steuding, historian; Mrs. George Cady, monitor; Miss Jane Madden, treasurer; Mrs. James Carroll, sentinel; the Rev. Austin V. Carey, chaplain; and trustees, Mrs. John Reynolds, Mrs. Michael Mitchell, Mrs. Julia Kane, Mrs. Frank Dobkins, Mrs. John Weber and Mrs. Robert Liscom.

Kingston Schools Represented For Purchase of Victory Bonds

Decals representing the sale of $426,000 in Victory Bonds and stamps by the students of 50 grade and high schools in the New York area have been received by Mason General Hospital, Brentwood, L. I.

Kingston is represented by the Myron J. Michael School, and the Kingston High School, each of which sold $3,000 in bonds and stamps.

One Decal from each participating school has been mounted on a plaque to hang on a bed, as evidence of the desire of the students of that school to aid in the recovery of men who have become war casualties. With the closing of Mason General Hospital, these plaques will be returned to the schools as a reminder of the part they had in assuring care for sick and wounded soldiers.

CHEMICAL RAIN PLANNED

Hauraki Plains, on the north east coast of New Zealand, are deficient in copper, scientists have learned, and might be made fertile if this lack were overcome. Copper sulphate will be dropped from the air at a ratio of about five pounds to the acre, to remedy the situation.

ORANGES BACK IN EIRE

When Eire's first shipment of oranges in many months reached Dublin, schoolboys were delighted. They quickly sought out a brass band to walk beside as they sucked oranges. They remembered how this makes the players drool saliva into their instruments.

February 27, 1875, Olive Democrats met in caucus at Willet L. Bishop's hotel in Olive Bridge and nominated candidates for town offices as follows: Jonathan V. Winchell, supervisor; Hugh Locke, town clerk; Dewitt C. Davis, justice; John I. Boice, assessor, Jacob B. Eckert, commissioner of highways, and Joseph Cudney, collector. The annual town meeting, held March 2, turned out to be a field day for the Democrats who elected every one of their candidates by majorities ranging from 152 votes to 195 votes. Mr. Winchell owned a farm of 150 acres at the foot of Tice TenEyck Mountain (present L. M. Chase place); Mr. Locke was a farmer at Olive Bridge; Mr. Davis, candidate of both parties, was a school teacher and surveyor residing at Shokan; Mr. Eckert was a sawmill and farm operator with 274 acres, while Mr. Cudney, a Civil War Veteran, farmed the 140-acre mountain place of Jane B. Cudney. The Republicans also had a strong ticket but Olive was overwhelmingly Democratic in those days.

Five Jap Soldiers Doomed to Gallows

Accused as Ringleaders of Group That Cremated Four American Fliers in Hankow

Shanghai, Feb. 28 (AP)—Seventeen Japanese military men were sentenced today—five to the gallows, 12 to prison—for the strangulation and cremation of three American B-29 fliers at Hankow in December, 1944. An 18th defendant, the lone civilian to be tried, was acquitted.

The U. S. Military Trial Commission decreed death by hanging for:

Maj. Gen. Masataka Kaburagi, chief of staff and deputy commander of the Japanese 34th Army in Hankow; Warrant Officer Tsutomu Fujii, who supervised the killings; and the trio who pulled the cords about the helpless airmen's necks: Sgt. Major Shozo Masui, Sgt. Koichi Masuda, and Pvt. Yosaburo Shirakawa.

Col. Kameji Fukumoto, commandant of Japan's Hankow gendarmerie, was sentenced to life imprisonment. Terms of others ranged from 18 months to 20 years. The civilian who was acquitted had served only as a witness at the killings, testimony showed.

All 18 defendants had been charged with the murder of Second Lt. Lester R. White, Slickville, Pa.; Sgt. Henry W. Weaton, Milwaukee, Wis.; and Sgt. James E. Forbes, Jr., East Hartford, Conn. The prosecution had asked the death penalty only for those responsible for the killings, however.

Maroons Triumph, 39-26; Play at Liberty Friday

Albany and Weaver Star in Non-League Victory Over N.Y.M.A. Five on Wednesday

Racking up victory number 12 of the present season, Kingston High trounced N.Y.M.A. Wednesday afternoon at Cornwall by a score of 39-26. The Maroon was held even by the cadets in the first half, but pulled ahead in the final two stanzas to win.

This contest was scheduled primarily as a tuneup for the important DUSO contest at Liberty Friday night. The Maroon is tied with Newburgh and Middletown for first place in the second round, and hopes to be able to maintain this pace with a victory over the Redskins.

Albany Nets 19

Tony Albany and Eddie Weaver paced the Maroon to victory Wednesday as they tossed in 19 and 12 points respectively. Both of these boys played good ball, making some nice tosses and setting up the plays. The other members of the Kingston big three scoring line, Bob Murray, had an off night being troubled by a stiff back.

As was expected, Joe Mendelson was the big gun for N.Y.M.A., tossing nine markers through the hoop. Although Clyde Bevans equaled this point total it was Mendelson that set up the plays and kept the cadets in the running for the first three periods.

Kingston jumped into a big lead in the first period as Albany found the hoop for several set shots to put the Maroon into a 12-6 lead at the end of the first stanza. N.Y.M.A. however, caught up with the locals in the second quarter cutting the lead to 18-16 at the intermission.

The third period was mostly floor play, the Maroon leading 25-21 at its close. It was in the final period that the locals began to pull into the lead. Albany and Weaver began to combine with some deuces to sew the contest up for the Kiasmen. The guards, Len Sickler, Bob Miller and Bob Ghear held the cadets down, and victory number 12 went into the Kingston books.

DePaul Not Invited

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Coach Ray Meyer says DePaul University, winner of the tournament last year and a finalist in 1944, has not been invited to compete in the National Basketball Tourney at Madison Square Garden. Meyer disclosed last night that his Chicago Blue Demons, sparked by big George Mikar and victorious in 17 of 22 games, apparently were by-passed. "Naturally we are terribly disappointed," Meyer said. "The boys have played a tough schedule and felt they deserved to be invited."

SPRY AT 72—Sturdy old Honus Wagner, who became a baseball immortal by leading the National League in batting eight years between 1900 and 1911, swings the hickory at the San Bernardino, Calif., spring training camp of the Pittsburgh Pirates, with whom he is a coach. Wagner celebrated his 72nd birthday Feb. 25 and said he is rearing to go on the 1946 season.

In The Pocket

with

CHARLIE TIANO

Larry "Pop" Petersen, a progenitive soul who has fathered 15 children, obviously deserves credit for more than mere bowling accomplishments.

"Pop," a bowling veteran of quarter-century standing, was reminiscing about his teams of the past, when we encountered him at the Centrals.

Petersen, one of the original stogie-wielding trundlers, is particularly proud of a vast array of bowling shirts in his wardrobe.

"They're all lined up on a rack at home," he says, "and they're going to say there. I'm proud of them."

He recited a long list of teams—Tydol Lunch, Mullen's Tobacco, Crystal Beauty Shoppe, Flanagans, et al—all great outfits. You see, "Pop" hasn't been exactly a bowling clown these past 25 years.

HOTALING AND BROSKIE SHARE THE SPOTLIGHT

Les Hotaling, capable Hercules blaster, caused a stir of excitement in the industrial loop, when he opened with counts of 235 and 238. He failed to maintain the pace, shooting 183 in the finisher, but the aggregate of 656 earned him one of the best series of the week.

Harold Broskie, whose bowling ailments of the past few years were purely mental, crackled with a hefty 665 series in the Central Rec loop. After a modest 177 opener, he rallied with 268 and 220.

Other highlights to date: Roy Webber 204; Gil Sampson shot 613, with 205 and 213. . . . Fred Rice 203. . . . Harry Smith 221, Lou Guadagnola 202, Ad Jones and "Red" Sangi posted 632 and 640 respectively for the Dairymen. . . . The Boss clicked 225-208, while the Proprietor bashed 234-221. . . . Charles Grunenwald 221, George Robinson 212, 203. . . . Joe Schrowang 208, Welch 200, Neer 216, Tony LaRocca 217, Ralph Neville 202, Norm Niles 214, Bill Keuhn 204.

Frank Nerone, East Kingston rookie, overcame a bad 125 start, with 203 and 211, while brother, Joe, plunked 206. . . . Hercules highlights: Joe Dulin 235, W. Hanley 202, 217; C. Herdman 204, J. Uhl 211, H. DuBois 201, J. North 200, Jack Martin 230. . . . Crist and Morris rapped 220 and 213 in the Federation loop. . . . W. Hornbeck and W. Fatum each shot 200.

Flotsam and Jetsam

Tony Mack, Newburgh powerhouse, was at it again a few nights ago, blasting 719, with a 254 single to lead the Sportsmen's Grill to a new seasonal Middie record of 3055. . . . Tony hit 235, 230 and 254. . . . Pete Perrino holds the triple record of 731. . . . Ed Siwerb shot 654 in Poughkeepsie. . . . Al Holmstrom was hot in the Bridge City with 693 on 211, 203, and 279. . . . In the Jones Dairy-Poughkeepsie Schwartz match last Saturday, nine men struck in one frame. . . . Not a single double in the next. . . . Ed Minnis, 70-year-old bowler from Saginaw, Mich., rolled 650 in the team event in the Michigan State tournament. . . . George Wagner, Philadelphia bowler, who competes in eight leagues weekly, bowls in the ABC tournament in Buffalo on May 11.

PAGING THE STARS

Ned Day, former match game champion, is one of the most famous bowlers of our time. A protege of immoral Hank Marino, he twice captured the singles title. Has second highest 10-year ABC average with 203. Was No. 4 man with Heils Quality Products, of Milwaukee. Beat John Crimmins of Detroit, in classic match for match game title. One of bowling's matinee idols.

Rickey Favors Plan Penalizing Players Bolting Big Loops

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, today urged Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler to take strong action against major league players who jump from organized baseball to the Mexican League.

Rickey did not mention any names, but it is likely he was fuming over the loss of Luis Olmo, hard-hitting outfielder, who sent back his Dodger contract unsigned and announced he would play in the Mexican circuit.

"Organized baseball should adopt a policy in regard to players who jump their contracts," Rickey declared at the Dodgers' training camp in Sanford, Fla. "Our contracts are valid and players who disregard them should be Mexican players for the rest of their lives. It would not do to have one major league club take back players who jumped and other clubs refusing to do so."

Meantime, in an interview at Tampa, Chandler took a blast at colleges who have proposed that their players be left alone by big league scouts until they graduate.

"Only about one third of the colleges play baseball," Chandler pointed out. "If they want us to go along with their proposals they should give baseball a bigger place in their sports picture and not let other sports encroach on the game."

Sam Snead Is Favorite In St. Petersburg Open

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 28 (AP)—Slammin' Sam Snead ranked top favorite today as golfdom's money players began their scramble for $2,000 first prize in the 13th annual St. Petersburg Open tournament.

The Hot Springs, Va., pro, looking huskier than ever, fired a six-under par 66 for a new course record at nearby Dunedin Isles Tuesday, and there wer no signs he had slowed up for the 72 hole $10,000 event over the Sunset course here.

A driving rain puddled up fairways and soaked greens yesterday, but clearing and crisper weather was on tap for today and the more capable performers were expected to find little difficulty in smashing par 71 over the 6,221 yard course.

Legion, Shamrocks And Cadets Win In 'Y' Cage League

The American Legion, Shamrocks and Cadets registered victories in the Y.M.C.A. Basketball League Monday night.

Alva Bruce and A. Nussbaum operated the high-flying Legion club to a 29-22 lead in the first half and continued to pound away and finished up with a 49 to 41 triumph over the Mayone club. Bruce tucked away 14 points while Nussbaum counted with 10. Marble had 18 for the winners.

Taking an 18 to 13 lead in the initial half the Shamrocks turned back the determined Ramblers Monday night by the tune of 41 to 29. Bloom sparked the Shamrocks with his 12 markers. Smith flipped in 10 for the Ramblers.

In the final clash the Cadets had easy pickings with the I.A.C. club as they walloped out a 56 to 17 victory. Lindhurst was high scorer in the tilt with 15 points. Hansen amassed 10.

Mosconi Increases Lead

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Willie Mosconi of Barrington, N. J., world champion pocket billiard champion, held a 10-match lead today over challenger Jimmy Caras of Philadelphia in their 86-block cross-country title match. The pair wound up their Buffalo stay last night, with Mosconi scoring a 125-107 win over the challenger, who earlier in the day had handed him a 125-38 defeat.

Balboa, C. Z., Feb. 27 (AP)—Every time Yankee Manager Joe McCarthy watches Joe DiMaggio in action he begins pinching himself. Jolting Joe is clouting at a .500 pace and has driven in 11 runs with 11 hits in the New York Yanks' sweep of their six exhibition games here. The classy outfielder belted another homer yesterday—one of the six made by the club—in the 10-3 rout of the Canal Zone League All-Stars.

Rickey Warns Holdouts

Sanford, Fla., Feb. 27 (AP)—With over 20 ball players still unsigned, Brooklyn President Branch Rickey is plenty disturbed. He says "if several of these older players should refrain from reporting until as late as April they just won't have regular jobs because the management will have to play some of these younger chaps, and it is my bet that the latter will win jobs and keep them." Pitcher Hal Gregg signed yesterday.

Sarasota, Fla., Feb. 27 (AP) — With six third basemen on his squad of 48 players, Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox does not intend to be stampeded into picking Jim Tabor's replacement at the hot corner. Cronin has had a chance to size up Ernie Andres and Ken Chapman and intends to take a look at Ed Pellagrini, Ty LaForest, Ben Stiner and Don Lange before the week is up.

A conference of all turf groups will be called in the near future by Maj. E. H. Williams of Illinois, president of the national association.

Van Horn Beats Kovacs

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 28 (AP)—Welby Van Horn of Atlanta, Ga., today held the $5,000 Evans Cup professional tennis championship, and had pocketed $850 top money along with the title. The steady Van Horn used a deceptive drop and superior net game to defeat Frankie Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., yesterday in the finals on the Roney Plaza courts. The score was 6-4, 6-2, 6-4.

Mixed League

The Terriers bounced back into the lead in the Central Mixed League last Sunday night by copping a pair of games from the Whippets and now pace that club by one full game. Ed Ougheltree posted a 534 series to lead the winners. Johnny "Red" Sangi's 519 triple was high for the losers. "Red" crashed a 233 solo which was high for the match. Bev Markle had an even 200 in her third game.

Barney Rosinski's power-laden ball really paid dividends last week when he proceeded to blast a rousing 606 triple on marks of 223, 223 and 160. Despite Barney's stellar scores, however, the Great Danes lost three straight to the Cocker Spaniels. Art Jansen was high for the winners with a 520. Betty Boyce came through with a nifty 214 solo in her first start in the second game. Another 200 was rolled by Flo Kuligoski, leadoff for the Spaniels who bashed a 212 in the opening game. C. Griffin of the Danes had a 519 series.

The Greyhounds took two games from the Bull Dogs with Jake Chichelsky leading the way with his 494. Rose Schatzel and Len Freer of the Bull Dogs came in with 524 and 506 triples. Chris Robinson's 208 was high single in the match.

The final match found the Police Dogs whipping the Scotties in two decisions. Johnny Ferraro had a 518 triple for the winners while Dick Williams, anchor for the Scotties, poured out a 519. Dick also had a high single with an even 200.

Haegg Gets Support

Stockholm, Feb. 28 (AP)—One hundred of Sweden's active athletes today came to the aid of Gunder Haegg and Arne Andersson, two of 25 Swedish track stars charged with professionalism. In a letter to the Swedish Athletic Association the athletes admonished the S.A.A. "to think of the consequences" if the stars now under investigation should be "barred by regulation which had no basis in the generally accepted view of justice." The letter added, however, it may be "necessary to limit what the more prominent athletes receive."

Game Is Canceled

The basketball game between St. Joseph's C.Y.O. League team and the Fair Street Reformed Church League team which was scheduled for Friday evening at the municipal auditorium has been canceled. Illness on the part of players on both teams forced the postponement.

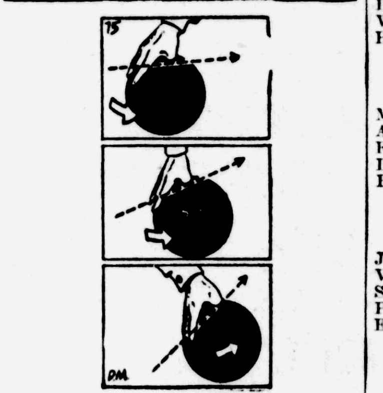
Better Bowling

By Billy Sixty



CLOSING THE "V": In the "V" grip the thumb, pointed in a straight line with the pins throughout the swing results in a perfectly straight ball; turning the thumb to the inside (toward the body) with the fingers on the outside (right of the ball) causes it to take a natural right-to-left (hook) turn.

Beginners should learn first to roll a straight ball. Only after they feel able to get the ball onto the alley comfortably and find it releases easily, should they practice "closing up the "V." This actually is hook action . . . the process of applying wrist turn to the ball to impart effective spin as it whirls toward the pins.

Some bowlers just naturally need more time than others to acquire footwork and combine it with the swinging ball. Others get the hang of it quickly. Practice will tell. Whenever the beginner decides to change from the straight delivery to the hook turn, however, the important thing to remember is that no effort should be made to "close the V entirely from the start." The change should be gradual—open the V a little at first, then more. And close it easily, not with a SUDDEN WRIST TURN. What's more, always Roll the ball. Don't attempt to PITCH it into the alley. This causes a JERK of the hand and kills control. Merely roll the ball, releasing it smoothly, with an EASY wrist turn.

When the alley "runs" or causes the ball to work in sharply toward the head pin, from right-to left, the "V" should be CLOSED. The alley will give the rolling ball enough power to knock down strikes. It is on a slick alley surface that the "V" is opened and closed with the turn of the wrist. Always—ROLL the ball with medium speed, beginners. Make the game easy for yourself. Let the ball do the work.

Volunteer Firemen Are Making Plans For Softball Loop

Robert Hughes Is Named by Mayor to Organize League; All City Companies Invited

A campaign to organize a Kingston volunteer fire company softball league is meeting with enthusiastic approval, Robert H. Hughes, league organizer, announced today.

Hughes, a member of Wiltwyck Hose, was designated chairman of the organization committee by Mayor William F. Edelmuth at a recent meeting of Wiltwyck. He was instructed to take steps toward organizing the league.

Invitations to join the league have been extended to every fire company in the city, Hughes said and a city-wide organizatiion meeting will be called in the near future.

All fire company softball representatives are requested to contact Hughes at the earliest possible in order to effect plans for the final organization meeting.

Hughes' campaign is the first organized effort to band the fire companies of the city in a single softball circuit. Various companies have sponsored teams in the past, but no league competition was ever attempted.

Withdraw Indian Troops From Indonesian Strife

London, Feb. 28 (AP)—A Reuters dispatch from New Delhi today quoted Gen. Sir Claude Auchlinleck, British Commander-in-Chief in India, as saying the withdrawal of Indian troops from strife-torn Indonesia would begin tomorrow.

Auchinleck made his statement in an address before the Council of State—upper House of the Indian Central Assembly, the dispatches said.

Indian Nationalist leaders have been critical of the use of Indian troops against Indonesian Nationalists, whose aspirations for independence have won expressions of sympathy in India.

MODENA

Modena, Feb. 28—Fruit growers spray school will be conducted Thursday February 28, in the Hasbrouck Memorial hall.

Sunday was Family Day in the Modena Methodist church, and services were conducted as follows: Prelude, Shirley Harcourt; Hymn No. 162, leader, Roselyn DeWitt; Invocation and Lords Prayer, Jean Wells; Responsive Reading, Barbara DuBois; Gloria Patri; Scripture Lesson, Verda Bernard; Offertory, Floyd Paltridge; Presentation of the offering, Arlene Bernard and Elizabeth Wells; Doxology; Hymn: Addresses by Mrs. Lester Arnold, Mrs. Roy Jensen, Mrs. Floyd Wells, Mrs. William Doolittle; Hymn; Benediction; Postlude. The family dinner was held in the community hall, and greatly enjoyed by those in attendance. The first step in the evangelistic campaign of the Crusade for Christ commenced on Monday, February 25. Laymen from the local church, and pastors from this district met for supper at the parsonage, and then visited homes in the community in an endeavor to seek new members and reinstate old members.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Shultis called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Dusinberre and son Horace, on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ransel Wager, Eber Coy and son Eugene, were among local people visiting Newburgh on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Seymour were supper guests of Mrs. Anna O'Neil at Gardiner, Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Bahas of Washington, D. C., were also guests at the O'Neil home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dragotta have rented the cottage opposite Denton's Garage, which was recently vacated by the Miller family.

Mrs. Freston Paltridge, Kenneth Patlridge and Russel Coy were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Solie Bernard and family, near Poughkeepsie, on Sunday.

The remains of the late Mrs. Mary E. Elmendorf, widow of Richard Elmendorf, was placed in the vault in the Modena cemetery, on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Elmendorf died Saturday, February 23 at her home in New Paltz, at the age of 89 years. Funeral services were held in the V. T. Pine Funeral home in New Paltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Shultis were in New Paltz, Monday afternoon.

Kenneth Paltridge and Russell Coy were in New York, Monday.

Proposes New Use for Army Mine Detector

Chicago, Feb. 28 (AP)—A midwest veterinarian says he has found a civilian use for a mine detector.

In a letter to the War Assets Corporation, he asked for the detector which he proposes to use to find stray bits of metal swallowed by animals while grazing.

He explained the animals' dietary mistakes are not disclosed until after they die of gangrene or blood poisoning after swallowing nails and other metals. A mine detector, he said, would enable him to detect the metal's presence in an animal in time to take "precautionary" measures.

PLATTEKILL

Thursday evening, February 28, the Plattekill firemen will be guests of the Modena firemen at a steak dinner at Garcia's.

Wilson Edmunds, master of the Plattekill Grange, Mrs. Edgar Longendyke, lecturer, Mrs. James Leetch, juvenile matron, were appointed by members of the organization to represent the local Grange at a State Regional Conference to be held at Hotel Campbell, Poughkeepsie, on Thursday, February 28.

Mrs. Beulah Thompson attended a meeting of the Young Women's Club at the New Hurley Reformed parsonage, recently. Material was prepared for rug-weaving, at the conclusion of the brief business session. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. John Tysse, and her assistant, Mrs. George Boyce. Members of the club served lunch at the Theodore Garrison auction, near Leptondale.

Mrs. Jacques Beauman is convalescing from an operation performed at St. Luke's Hospital recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hotaling of Wallkill, were recent callers on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fawcett and daughters, Anna and Ellen, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Silberling and family of New York city attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Conrad Silberling at the Ronk Funeral Home in Wallkill on Wednesday. Mrs. Arthur Fosler, is a daughter surviving the deceased.

Local people attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Augusta Johnston, widow of the late Dr. Charles Johnston, which was held Tuesday afternoon at the Sutton Funeral Home in Clintondale. Burial was in the Friends Cemetery at Plattekill. Mrs. Johnston had lived in Plattekill for nearly 85 years, moving to New Paltz in 1944, to the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jennie Gerow. During the past months Mrs. Johnston had lived in an apartment in New Paltz. She was the former owner and operator of the Poma Ridge farm, northeast of Plattekill.

Miss May Minard, who has been caring for the late Mrs. M. Augusta Johnston of New Paltz, for many months, is spending some time at the home of her brother, Leander Minard.

John Davis, who recently underwent an operation at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, is convalescing satisfactorily.

The wedding of Miss Marianne Milette of Balmville, and Alfred Lanzini of Plattekill, will take place Sunday, March 3, at the Sacred Heart Church, New York. A nuptial Mass will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning. The reception will be held at Jack Dempsey's, West 57th street.

Go-Slow Program Mapped to Assist In Saving Foods

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—A broad publicity program to rally Americans behind the idea of sharing their ample food supply with the hungry abroad was being mapped today by the administration.

The campaign will be officially launched by President Truman, probably Friday after a White House conference with former President Hoover and other prominent citizens on the ways of preventing what the Chief Executive has called "mass starvation" overseas.

The program will call for the use of the press, radio, the pulpit, the speaking platform and other information media in getting across to Americans the plight of the millions of underfed in war-ravaged areas of Europe, North Africa and Asia.

Eat Less Staples

Agricultural Department officials, who have been preparing the campaign, said it will appeal to all Americans to eat less bread, flour and other cereal products, and to prevent waste in meats, fats and oils, dairy products and other food items.

It also will urge farmers, they said, to market as soon as possible all the wheat they can spare and to curtail the feeding of grains to livestock and poultry so that this country may have larger supplies of grains to ship abroad.

Officials said the program will ask consumers to ration themselves and will appeal to food distributors and processors to undertake informal rationing of bread, bakery products and flour.

Suggestions that this country return to government food rationing have been turned aside as "unnecessary," by Agriculture Department officials. They expressed the belief that a zealous campaign can result in saving enough food here to tide over hungry areas abroad until their new crops next summer.

France Relinquishes Territory in China

Chungking, Feb. 28 (AP)—France officially relinquished extraterritorial rights in China by treaty today. In return, China agreed to withdraw her troops from northern French Indochina.

The treaty, removing one more sore spot from the troubled Orient, was signed by Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Shih-Chieh and French Ambassador Jacques Meyrier.

The United States and Great Britain relinquished extraterritorial rights in China during the war.

Brussels, Feb. 28 (AP)—The right-winger Social Christian Party failed to form a government for Belgium today and Regent Prince Charles ended the mission of Auguste De Schryver to negotiate with other political leaders.

De Schryver, president of the party, told newspaper reporters he had been unable to come to an agreement with the Socialist Party whose leader, former Premier Achille Van Acker, opposes the return of King Leopold from exile.

Sentence Suspended

Charles L. Wands, 39, of Newburgh, was arrested on Gage street last night by the police, who charged him with public intoxication. This morning in police court Wands was given a suspended sentence.

Smear Charge Raised In Hearing on Pauley

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—John A. Smith, California independent oil producer, testified today that Norman Littell, former assistant attorney general, had told him the Senate Naval Committee was "going to try to smear you up."

Smith was a witness at the committee hearing on the nomination of Edwin W. Pauley as undersecretary of navy. He made the statement under questioning by Senator Tydings (D., Md.) after Senator Tobey (R., N. H.), said he had asked Littell to help him fight Pauley.

Smith said he had gone over with Littell the testimony he was to give today. It was at a dinner Monday night at the Littell home, he said, that Littell warned him of the impending "smear" attempt.

He said Littell told him the "smear" effort would involve "some situation in California in which you were accused of stealing oil."

"I said that was all right," Smith added, "I'd be glad to tell the Senate Committee about that."

"Q"-Fever Fells 15 in Building Fighting Virus

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—An outbreak of "Q" fever, somewhat similar to virus pneumonia, has stricken 22 workers at the National Institute of Health at Bethesda, Md.

All are employed in a building housing a laboratory in which study recently was resumed on the disease, named "Q" because it first was identified among slaughter house workers in Queensland, Australia. The disease is caused by organisms known as Rickettsia.

None of those affected was directly engaged in the laboratory, which is part of the research center of the United States public health service. But all worked in the building.

Dr. Charles Armstrong, chief of the institute's division of infectious diseases, made this comment: "We started working on Q fever a gain a few weeks ago and it got away from us again, just as it did before."

Anaconda Workers Strike At Hudson, N. Y., Plant

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Eighteen strikers of the Hudson, N. Y., plant of the Anaconda Wire and Cable Co. picketed the firm's main office on lower Broadway for an hour and a half today.

The pickets, who were orderly and did not impede traffic, distributed pamphlets saying the 1,200 employes of the plant had been out since February 19 seeking a $2-a-day wage boost.

Mario D. Nicolais, president of Local 301, United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America (C.I.O.), said "not a machine" was operating at the plant.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Scattered stocks continued to edge toward recovery in today's market although many leaders stumbled after a fairly good start.

Dealings, moderately active at the opening, soon turned sluggish as prices wavered. While gains of fractions to a point were in evidence near the fourth hour, losses running to 2 or so dotted the ticker tape. Steel and motors exhibited slipping inclinations.

Wall street generally felt that a further technical rally, following the sharpest drop in more than eight years, was a likelihood but numerous customers still were disposed to trim accounts because of the persistently cloudy labor situation and governmental price control policy. Inflation psychology seemed to have waned and deflation theories were heard in the financial sector.

Ahead most of the time were Santa Fe, Texas Co., National Distillers, Distillers Corp., U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, du Pont, Eastman Kodak, J. C. Admit Breakdown in Telephone Bargaining

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—Edgar L. Warren, Chief of the Federal Conciliation Service, said today the government had been unable thus far to "arrive at any basis," for averting a threatened nationwide telephone strike March 7.

Warren told a news conference federal conciliators throughout the country have been ordered to keep wage negotiations going and the Labor Department is awaiting developments.

He discussed the telephone wage dispute after a three-hour conference between Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach and C. F. Craig, Industrial Relations Vice-President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The conference with Craig, Warren explained, showed there are a "lot of local peculiarities" involved in the telephone negotiations. He added that no decision had been reached as to the government procedure which would be followed if a strike is called.

"I can't say how far the government would go to prevent a strike," Warren said in answer to a questioon.

Take $20 in Pennies, Scatter $7,000 in Bonds

Safe robbers who have been operating successfully in Poughkeepsie since last October 16, moved their activities to Rhinebeck Tuesday night, forcing entrance to the office of the James S. Gibson Building Supply Co., and cracking two safes. Their efforts netted them some $20 in pennies, police authorities said, and they ignored $7,000 in War Bonds, scattering them on the floor of the office, according to State Trooper Harry [illegible] of the Rhinebeck B.C.I.

No Makeup, Nurses Quit

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 28 (AP)—A brief sitdown strike of the 240 student nurses at Delaware Hospital won them the right to wear makeup on duty. But they can't wear too much of it under conduct rules announced Dr. Joseph P. Leone, hospital medical director. "There is no objection to it," he said, "if it is not used indiscriminately."

HIGH FALLS

High Falls, Feb. 28—Wallace Fulford of the Navy received his honorable discharge at Lido Beach on Tuesday and has returned to his home here. Mr. Fulford spent some time on both Okinawa and in Shanghai.

Leonard Countryman has returned to Fort Bennington, Georgia, after spending a month's furlough with his wife and parents.

Cecil Craft and friend, Martin Melvin, of the Navy, spent the week-end with Mr. Craft's mother, Mrs. George Campbell. Both boys are on the "Cogswell" and stationed at Boston Navy Yard.

Mrs. Austin Countryman is in the hospital in Kingston.

Mrs. DeWitt Stokes is very ill at this writing.

Mrs. Bess Eastman spent the week-end in Poughkepsie with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Eastman.

Sunday evening a birthday dinner was served at the Krom homestead, in honor of the birthdays of Miss Gloria Lounsberry, Mr. and Mrs. James Krom and Mrs. Wallace Fulford. In addition to the above, these were present: Master Wallace Wayne Fulford, Miss Marilyn Krom, Mrs. LeRoy Krom, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Eastman.

Mr. and Mrs. John Waterman of Kingston were Sunday evening guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jansen.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Greene are visiting at the home of Mr. Greene's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lonergan.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Krom have returned from their honeymoon in Florida and other parts in the South. While in Lakeworth, Florida, they called on Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Bell, former residents of this place.

The many friends of Egbert Schoonmaker are sorry to hear of his death last Sunday. Mr. Schoonmaker has been a life long resident of High Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli DePuy called on Mrs. DePuy's mother, Mrs. Mary Pine in Cottekill one day last week.

Mrs. Hubert Smith is a member of the chorus of O.E.S. Chapter minstrel show which was given in Kingston last Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Captain Charles Neff is now at Fort Dix awaiting his discharge from the Army.

The Ladies' Aid of the Reformed church will meet at the home of Mrs. George Williams next Thursday, March 7. A covered dish dinner will be served at noon.

British Tycoon Attacks U. S. Loan

Charges It Would Mean Forfeiture of Britain's Independence

London, Feb. 28 (AP)—Lord Rotherwick attacked vigorously today the proposed U. S. loan to Great Britain, asserting that its approval would mean this country would become "an illegitimate 49th state of America."

Lord Rotherwick, Chairman and Managing Director of the Clan Steamship Line, spoke at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Shipping:

"It this loan with its one-sided, impossible and unbelievable conditions takes place, then the only comfort I can see for those of us who are growing old is that it will tend to soften the pangs of death.

"It will mean the elimination of this country as one of the great powers for peace and stability in the world, and I am afraid it will result eventually in this country sinking to a small third class power—an illegitimate 49th state of America, dragging down with her the other members of the Empire."

He said the loan should have been given as a gift, free of interest.

"It is something to be ashamed of," he shouted, "it was nothing more or less than the selling of the British Empire and its independence to America."

For Better Press

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer conferred with all city department heads today and it was learned unofficially that the purpose of the meeting was to lay down a new policy of press relations.

Before the session, the mayor conferred with Commissioner of Investigation John M. Murtagh, who yesterday announced—without O'Dwyer's knowledge—that the (Murtagh) planned an inquiry into the city's municipal affairs to "expose graft, corruption and inefficiency, where ever it is found."

all night Tuesday and throughout the day Wednesday, but the heavy fall of rain washed the sand off the hills, and sanding was continued this morning.

With piles of snow several feet high on each side of the streets, and the gutters hidden under the drifts, the heavy rainfall last night formed miniature lakes on sidewalks and streets.

Only Rain on Mountain

One freak of the storm was a condition which existed in the mountain country. While the Palenville mountain was extremely slippery and sanding was carried on continuously, on top of the mountain there was little difficulty from ice since the storm there was confined to rain with temperatures sufficiently high during the afternoon to prevent dangerous icy conditions.

The New York Telephone Company escaped serious damage from sleet, C. E. Burnett, manager, reported today when the sleet storm which had burdened wires down with a coating of ice during the afternoon turned to rain later in the evening and halted ice formations on wires and poles. Had the ice condition continued longer there would have been much damage done. Icy conditions stopped just in time to avoid damage, Mr. Burnett said.

Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation reported interruption of service in the lower portion of the city early in the evening when ice weighed down wires and caused them to break. The condition again appeared early this morning but the interruption was of short duration. On the Minnewaska Trail a constant patrol was required when the ice caused limbs of trees to short the line. At Flatbush there was also trouble and some difficulty was experienced at Saugerties but on the whole the damage was considered slight. Rain which fell aided in removing a heavy coating of ice which had collected early in the day when sleet clung to the wires.

Strikes Reached Peak During Month January

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—January's outbreak of strikes and lockouts, involving a peak of 1,750,000 workers, set a monthly record for numbers on strike and resulting idleness, the Labor Department reported today.

Preliminary estimates from the Bureau of Labor statistics showed that 325 new work stoppages developed last month, plus 175 which continued into January from previous months. Of the total of 500 stoppages, four major walkouts accounted for nearly 1,400,000 idle workers.

Manila Power Strike

Manila, Feb. 28 (AP)—Over 2,000 Manila workers struck for higher wages today, affecting the city's slowly-reviving electric power and bus transportation. The majority of the workers were employes of the American-owned Manila Electric Railroad and Light Corporation, an Associated Gas and Electric Company subsidiary.

G.I. Taxi Drivers Seek Presidential Hearing

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—Many of the ex-GI taxi drivers from Chicago who dramatized their demands for cab licenses with a motorized invasion of Washington were en route home today.

Groups of five to 10 cabs each left yesterday, more were ready to leave this afternoon, and the last contingent of between 50 and 75 plan to pull out tomorrow morning.

Matt Rottner, manager of the American Cab Drivers Association For Discharged Veterans, said a committee representing the Chicagoans is requesting an interview with President Truman on their problem, and will return for it when a date is set. The request is being made by letter, at the suggestion of a White House secretary, he added.

Church Help Is Enlisted in Drive For More Housing

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—President Truman called upon the people of the nation today to share their houses with homeless veterans to help relieve the acute housing shortage.

The President, in a statement, endorsed "most heartily" a program calling for organization of housing committees in every church and synagogue neighborhood.

Asserting the housing shortage "has become a serious problem throughout the nation," and that it will remain "acute for some monts," the President declared:

"Surely no veteran who has served his country faithfully and well should now be left homeless on his return from service. I sincerely hope that every citizen will take this matter to heart and aid this effort in every way possible.

"Religion teaches up that we should share. By sharing our housing we can render a practical and personal service to our veterans."

A group of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish religious leaders told reporters after a recent White House call that the churches and synagogues could alleviate the housing shortage by finding rooms and homes for veterans who are members of the congregations.

One of them suggested that if each congregation found homes for four veterans in its community, it would mean housing for 1,000,000 veterans since there are approximately 250,000 churches in the United States.

Grants Premission to Sell Church Property

An application by the Board of Trustees of the Pine Hill Methodist Church for leave to sell the parsonage property in Pine Hill has been granted by County Judge John M. Cashin. Roger H. Loughran appeared for the petitioners.

The petition states that an offer to purchase the property has been made by Harry L., and Edwin L. France for the sum of $4,000. Money derived from the sale will be used for repairs, maintenance and improvements to the Pine Hill Methodist Church adifice.

Under the petition the officers of the church, Fred D. Cure, president of the board of trustees; Olive Misner, secretary, and Ruth B. Cure, treasurer, state that there is now plans for a parsonage at Shandaken, the occupant of same to serve at Pine Hill, Shandaken, Oliverea and Big Indian and therefore the Pine Hill parsonage will be no longer required.

St. Mary's Troop Treat Committeemen

Boy Scout Troop 18 of St. Mary's turned the tables on the committeemen Wednesday night and displayed their culinary skill. The result was a delicious spaghetti dinner, prepared and served by the Scouts and devoured by the Scouters. Following the dinner, Commissioner France presented awards and brief talks were given by the Very Rev. Msgr. M. J. Drury and the chaplain, the Rev. John J. Flaherty. Chairman Francis Noonan extended the thanks of the committee, and Scout Leader Ray Long responded for the Scouts. Pictured above are members of the troop, committeemen, chaplain, the pastor and the commissioner. (Freeman Photo)

Luciano, Ex-Vice King, Back in Native Italy

Naples, Feb. 28 (AP) — Charles "Lucky" Luciano, who served nine years in prison after a conviction in New York on vice charges, returned to his native Italy today, free in consideration of information he gave the United States which was said to have furthered military operations in Sicily and Italy.

Luciano was deported to Italy after he obtained a pardon from Governor Thomas E. Dewey, who as New York County District Attorney, sent Luciano to prison.

He returned evasive answers to questions, saying only that the 19 days he spent in crossing aboard the Liberty ship Laura Keene were "pleasant."

Luciano was first taken into custody by Italian authorities but later released. He declined to say what information he had given, which brought about his pardon.

"You know I can't talk about those things," the former vice king said.

Erosion Control Grant

Pressure Against Franco Mounting

Demonstrations All Over Europe; U. S. Act; Reds Hit Vatican

London, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Spanish government announced today that it had closed to main gateways between France and Spain more than 24 hours before the effective time of a French government order to close the French-Spanish border to trade tonight at mid-night.

The closure was made effective both at Port Bou on the east coast and Irun on the west coast, with all normal traffic reported barred, including the two to three freight trains which usually operate across the border daily.

Anti-Franco sentiment bubbled up all over Europe, meanwhile, in support of the French demand for a diplomatic break with Spain and for United Nations action against the Spanish regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco, which France has termed a menace to international peace and security.

There were demonstrations in Brussels and Sofia at which the governments of Belgium and Bulgaria were called upon to act against Franco. The regular news broadcast of the Prague radio was interrupted with an announcement that the Czechoslovak government "joins the stand of the nations who strongly demand the end of the cruel Spanish regime.' '

Russians Blame Pope

Russian Radio Commentator Michael Mihailov, speaking over the Moscow radio, urged "unconditional severance of all relations with Franco Spain by all the democratic states," and declared that the Vatican had "prevented the Spanish problem from being solved."

Mihailov asserted that Pope Pius XII had discussed with his cardinals at a recent consistory methods by which the Roman Catholic Church could "bolster up the present regime in Spain."

American Views

In Washington, th eState Department said "certain American views" on the Spanish situation had been dispatched to Britain and France, but there was no indication of what was proposed.

However, diplomats in Washington said they believed the proposed declaration would include:

A statement that the three governments would recognize a broadly representative interim regime in Spain if Franco were ousted.

A reiteration that the three countries would not meddle in Spain's domestic affairs, and that any change would have to come from the Spanish people.

G.M. Strike Costs $750,000,000 to Men And Corporation

$113,000,000 and the management, figuring the week at 45.6 hours, fixed the amount at $128,000,000.

Families Get Relief

In Flint, Mich., where 50,000 production workers represent the greatest concentration of G.M. employes in a single community, 2,076 strikers' families are listed as receiving welfare relief. The average payment is $38.06 a family each month.

Bill Is Introduced Favoring House Tenants

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—A bill permitting residential tenants to use as defense in a dispossess proceeding the failure of landlords to redecorate within time limits specified by the O.P.A. was introduced in the Legislature today.

The measure was sponsored by Assembly Minority Leader Irwin Steingut and Senator Fred G. Morritt, New York city Democrats.

It was designed, they said, to protect a tenant who "withholds payment of rent unless a landlord complies with this reasonable request" to redecorate, and is consequently faced with a dispossess action.

Higher Coal Wage Demand Expected

respect he has a powerful argument in the President's own wage policy of October 30. This allows price consideration to employers who raise straight time average earnings 33 per cent above the January 1941 levels, to offset the wartime rise in living costs.

What Industry Contends

The industry concedes that the miner's hourly wage rate—$1 for a 7-hour-day—has not been increased since April 1941. But, it also contends the miner's take home pay has been upped since then 40 to 50 per cent through underground travel and lunchtime pay of $1.50 an hour, and $1:50 for one extra hour of work each day, at a rate of time and a half. Miners paid "piece time" or tonnage rates get more than that, the industry people say.

The miners receive $10 a day for what is called an eight-hour work day (he is paid for underground travel and lunchtime in addition to the eight-hour work day), and works a six-day week. The basic work week is still 35 hours, however, and Lewis may ask for return to that.

Calls for 48-Hour Pay

A preview was provided at the recent wage scale conference of the Union's District 5, in Western Pennsylvania. It called for the same 48-hour pay for a 35-hour, five-day week.

It also approved resolutions for more vacation pay and renewal of Lewis's demand last year for a 10-cent-a-ton royalty on every ton of coal mined. This was to have gone into a fund to provide medical and "economic protection" for U.M.W. members.

The time table for reopening the current contract was worked out in the termination clause of the wage pact which resulted from 42 days of negotiations and an 11-day soft coal strike last spring. The anthracite miners, whose contract expired a month after the bituminous agreement, struck for 21 days before winning a new contract. It is likely to be reopened too if the bituminous pact is.

Summons Miners to Meet

The expiration clause of the present contracts provides for 30 days' notice and negotiation befor termination. This is broken down into a 10-day notice of intentionr to reopen, 15 days of negotiating ,and five days' notice of termination after that.

Key to the Lewis program is his summons to the United Mine Workers' 250-man policy committee to meet here March 11. The 10-day notice period would have expired by then, providing he does as the operators think he will.

Lewis has busied himself with meetings for the past few days with his closest top officers.

How Strong Was Pearl Harbor When Japanese Made Attack?

By CLARKE BEACH

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—Two main issues have emerged in the Pearl Harbor controversy:

1. Were the Army and Navy commanders at Pearl Harbor (and the War and Navy Departments in Washington) informed of the danger of a Japanese attack?

2. Did the Pearl Harbor commanders have enough fighting power to resist attack?

Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations in 1941, said he had appealed vainly to Washington to strengthen the fleet's manpower.

Admiral J. O. Richardson, chief of staff of the Pacific Command until relieved by Admiral Husband E. Kimmel on February 1, 1941, said he had urged President Roosevelt on October 8, 1940, to transfer the fleet to the Pacific coast to prepare it for war. But Richardson said the President declined, contending that its presence in Hawaii exercised a restraining influence on Japan.

Admiral Kimmel said he had requested reinforcements in men and arms.

Army and Navy documents were introduced to show that Former Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Knox, who died in 1944, exchanged numerous memoranda early in 1941 in which they agreed that the Pearl Harbor defense needed much strengthening to make the base secure.

Recommended Expenditure

Lieut. Gen. Walter C. Short, 1941 commander at Pearl Harbor, testified that he recommended an expenditure of $22,953,697 for the increased security of Hawaii but that he received only $350,000.

Admiral Richmond Kelly Turner, director of war plans in 1941, said that the fleet "within the limits of the material we had been able to provide" had been prepared for months for the sort of raid which came on December 7. The fleet then consisted chiefly of six battleships, six cruisers, and twelve destroyers.

If there had been a "proper alert," Turner said, we would have defeated or largely turned aside the Japanese attack.

There were no carriers at Pearl Harbor. Two task forces, with all the fleet's carriers, had left for Wake and Midway on November 28 and December 5.

It was for this reason, Kimmel declared, that the battleships were concentrated in the harbor. With his carrier based planes far at sea, he said, he had to keep his capital ships where they could be protected by land-based aircraft.

Yet even his force of land-based planes was inadequate, Kimmel testified, for he didn't have enough patrol planes for effective reconnaissance. In fact, the committee was told by other officers, there was no written record of any Navy air search on December 6.

Conflicting Testimony

Conflicting testimony was given, however, by Vice Admiral P. N. L. Bellinger, who was in command of the Navy's patrol planes in Hawaii. He said he had sufficient craft to operate a distant reconnaissance north of Oahu for at least a week before the attack.

But, he said, he had never recommended a distant search to Kimmel, and he could not have instituted one without Kimmel's order. He said he never asked for the use of the Army bombers on the island for reconnaissance, although they were available under the Army-Navy joint plan.

Personnel Up To Standard

As for personnel on December 7, it was testified that 65 per cent of the Navy's battleship officer personnel and 95 per cent of the enlisted men were aboard ship. Of Army personnel, 50 per cent had been on leave the night of December 6.

It was disclosed further that the Roberts Commission had made a detailed investigation of rumors of drunkenness among Army and Navy officers on December 6, and that the commission concluded there was no evidence to support the charges.

Unprepared for Combat

At Hickham Field, the army air base adjoining Pearl Harbor, no army aircraft were armed and equipped for combat when the Japs arrived. They were parked three or four abreast about 10 feet apart. This had been done to make it easier to guard them against sabotage, it was explained. (Witnesses testified that there was no record of sabotage at Pearl Harbor either before, during or after the attack).

On the whole, said Short, he in no case could have prevented the damage to the fleet, since his aircraft and anti-aircraft defense was inadequate.

Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff in 1941, denied this. He testified that if Short had been on the alert he could have prevented all but limited damage. The Hawaiian Department, Marshall contended, at that time was more nearly up to desired standards in men and machines than any other installation in the army.

"They had sufficient men and material," he said, "to resist either an enemy raid or a more serious attack."

Testimony went into the matter of liaison between the army and navy commands.

Short said that the navy was responsible for long distance reconnaissance and that he assumed that such patrols were being conducted.

Short on Men, Equipment

Kimmel said he thought that the army was giving him a 200-mile radar coverage. Short said his radar was able to operate only between 4 and 7 a. m. because of shortage of equipment and trained personnel.

Kimmel said he did not know the exact status of the army alert and that neither he nor any member of his staff made an effort to learn. Army officials acknowledged they hadn't checked up on the navy's reconnaissance either.

Short criticized the navy's staff work. He said navy officers knew that the army was on only a sabotage alert but that they took no action to correct this. They knew also, he said, that the Army Interceptor Command was operating only experimentally and was not "prepared to take the air immediately."

Cub Pack 12 Holds Enjoyable Circus Here Wednesday

Performance Is Presented Under Direction of Burton Davis at First Dutch Church

One of the most enjoyable pack meetings ever held took place at the First Dutch Reformed Church Wednesday evening in the form of a circus held by Cub Pack 12, which was directed by Burton Davis, cubmaster. The program was complete with band, wild animals and a wild west show.

The grand parade opened the performance and the show was started under the direction of Walter Davis, ringmaster, and den chief of Den One. John Boswell, Jr., put on a dangerous leopard act and sent the animal through its paces. The Den One band, consisting of Charles Engel, Robert Fiore, Raymond Rignall, Ronald Sprague, Robert Smith and Robert Stein, was led by Frank Fiore, bandmaster.

Another enjoyable act was the tightrope performance staged by Robert Stein, who put an early end to his act by falling from the rope. Douw Meyers staged a wild west drama in which Sheriff Donald Kinch and bankers Arthur Brant, Joe Thurin and Carle Meyers recovered the stolen bank money from John Thurin, Robert Powell, John Herrick and Louis Kirschner, robbers.

Den Two, under the direction of Den Chief James Roosa, presented a wild animal show in which Lowell Brooks, ringmaster, made the animals jump through a hoop and on to a box. The animals were bear, Lyn Brooks; tiger, Charles Baker; mule, David Dines; giraffe, Russell Edwards, Jr.; leopard, Richard Torrens. Frank Reis, Jr., took the part of a clown during the act.

Following the enjoyable circus performance a social hour was held with John Boswell, Sr., and Henry Parker in charge of the refreshments. A large number of parents and friends were assembled to enjoy the program.

Defiant Jap Stragglers Refuse to Surrender

Lubang Island, P. I., Feb. 28 (AP) — Defiant Japanese 'diehard" stragglers on this island 70 miles from Manila tore surrender leaflets to bits today as the Philippine Army ordered a reconnaissance plane to augment its task force.

Leaflets, written by Japanese prisoners of war, were posted along a mountain trail by a patrol. Twenty minutes later they were found destroyed.

The Philippines force lost two men killed and six of the Japanese were killed in skirmishes last week. A Filipino civilian was reported killed by the marauders on the opposite side of the island. Strong patrol forces are slowly closing in on the renegades.

Cherny Brothers Form Partnership In New Grocery

Joseph Cherny and Edward Cherny of Kingston have announced the opening of a new grocery store at 331 Hasbrouck avenue. The building there was purchased from Chauncey Lane and formerly housed the grocery business operated by Samuel Bounanno.

Joseph Cherny was associated with J. Suskind for the past 18 years, while Ed Cherny recently received his discharge from the Seabees. Prior to the war, he was prominent as a member of the Yellow Jacket football squad. While in service, he was stationed in several of the South Pacific islands.

The two brothers are busy renovating the building housing the grocery and will be ready for complete servicing in the near future. They will specialize in quality meats and groceries, staple household items and a line of general merchandise.

The Cherny brothers wish to express their thanks to their many customers in the past and invite them to visit the new store.

The committee members are Carl Esposito, Roy Mick, Sr., Roy Mick, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Holcombe Tomson, H. Quick, Adelle Caunitz, William Van Aken, William Smith, Joseph Enright, Thomas Miller, Edward Allen and Gerald McElrath.

This committee will hold its first meeting next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the "Y".

Hirohito Demonstration Draws Fire of Commies

Tokyo, Feb. 28 (AP)—Two thousand subjects cheered Emperor Hirohito as he visited a department store today but the Communist Party quickly censured his recent public tours as a "pre-election campaign for the sake of reactionary political parties."

"We demand that the Emperor and all other war criminals be banned from carrying out any such" campaign, read a resolution passed by the party convention. The resolution is to be presented at the Imperial Household tomorrow.

General MacArthur never has branded the Emperor as a war criminal suspect, but the Communists and some other Japanese elements have.

Cheering Japanese broke through thin police lines to crowd around the Emperor's automobile as he left the store.

Custody of a child is granted plaintiff.

Chaos Alternative To U.N.O. Success Mrs. Roosevelt Says

Tells Large Audience That Realism in Approach Is Best Solution for Peace

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says the only alternative to the United Nations Organization was world chaos, but added that the U.N.O. must win the confidence of all peoples before it could succeed.

She said the League of Nations wasn't entirely a failure but it did not succeed in preserving world peace "because the peoples failed, not because the machinery failed or even the representatives failed."

Mrs. Roosevelt, a member of the U. S. delegation to the U.N.O. Assembly in London, spoke last night at a meeting sponsored by the Union for Democratic Action and held in the 2,500 seat Hunter College auditorium, which was filled to capacity.

Mrs. Roosevelt said a number of questions were brought up in the U.N.O. Security Council "where rough things were said by men who could say them and take them," and added:

Lauds Earthy Realism

"I'm quite sure that it's a good thing for the peoples of the world to have things said if their representatives feel them, because the peoples have got to know what their representatives feel and what they stand for x x x."

Mrs. Roosevelt said she thought the U.N.O. had an obligation "to try to understand and to do away with unnecessary fears, to build confidence because unless we do no organization can possibly work.

"It is only by working together and creating greater confidence among our people that our representatives are going to feel strong enough to work toget she said.

"The only alternative to United Nations Organizatio chaos."

Of Russia, Mrs. Roosevelt "We don't understand some th about Russia. Russia doesn't derstand some things about and about Great Britain. We gradually learn. I am not wor about that so much."

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Saugerties, Feb. 28—The Rev. Thomas Falshaw of the Saugerties Methodist church, who is now completing his eighth year in this village, has been asked by the congregation to return for another year.

The regular monthly meeting of the Saugerties Fish and Game Club was held in the Municipal building with Harold Mills presiding. Over 150 members were present and 46 new names entered into the membership. During the business session it was decided that ninety dollars worth of wild rice be planted in the duck area; twenty dozen rabbits were received and distributed in the township; also that five to six hundred dollars worth of pheasants would be purchased and that altogether things for the sporting fans [illegible] in the district. Following the business movies were shown through the courtesy of Attorney Morris Rosenblum.

Miss Jessie MacMullen of West Bridge street who is recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident has been taken from the Dale Sanitarium to the home of her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Kearney on Elm street.

The Knaust Bros. has a large force of men razing one of the large factory buildings on the South side and when completed will make space for the parking of automobiles to be used by employees of the coming General Electric factory.

The monthly meeting of the Saugerties Ministerial Association will be held on Monday, March 4, at 2 o'clock at the Baptist Parsonage on Market street.

Announcement has been made of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Saile of Huston, Texas on February 11. The father is the son of Mrs. Wendell Saile of Livingston street this place.

Nelson Van Bramer of Elm street underwent an operation at the Benedictine Hospital on Monday.

Chester Beers of Market street motored to Newark, N. J. on Wednesday afternoon on business.

Mrs. Mary Smith of Kingston, the district deputy grand matron of the Greene-Ulster district will make her official visit to the Kingston Chapter this Friday evening. Local members are expected to attend this meeting as guests to this affair.

A special meeting of the canvassers of Atonement Lutheran Church was held last Sunday morning and during this week a visitation was made to all the members for contributions and pledges to assume the title of the Miller property. Those interested may contact Miss Florence Gipper or Harry Knaust, chairman.

The condition of Mrs. B. W. Gifford who is seriously ill at the Benedictine Hospital is reported to be a little improved.

Mrs. Bessie Vogt of this village who was injured in an automobile accident is confined to the Benedictine Hospital, Kingston.

Dr. George Swerdloff and family of Livingston street was a week-end visitor in New York city.

The Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Y. Brink and son of West New York, N. J. was recent guests of relatives and friends in this village.

The annual report of the Saugerties Methodist Church last Sunday evening shows that the membership is over 400 and that the financial and spiritual interests was in an excellent condition. A new automatic heating plant is to be installed into the church in the near future. The Sunday school enrollment is over 160 with attendance excellent. Lewis F. Fellows, president of the board and chairman of the pulpit committee addressed the meeting and spoke highly of the pastor, the Rev. Thomas Falshaw and his work during the past year.

Robert Knaust, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knaust of Barclay Heights has received his honorable discharge from the service of the U. S. Army and has returned home.

The Rev. William J. Farricker of Liberty and formerly of Veteran was a recent visitor in this village.

The local high school year book known as the "Sawyer" is now being made up and special features will be added to this book which will be interesting. This year the theme will be "Lumbering." This will be much along the the local lines of the community as a paper producing town. Many colored scenes will be made of local places, and people.

Grace Legg of the WACS has received her honorable discharge from service and has returned to her home in town.

Considerable interest in under way in this village as to the General Electric offices being moved from Schenectady to Kingston and that several large tracts of land has been under observation by the upstate concern.

Program Instituted Against Traffic Accidents

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—An integrated state-local program to slow down the rising postwar traffic fatility list is the aim of a safety conference convening today at Governor Dewey's request.

Headed by Alger B. Chapman, commissioner of taxation and finance, the conference was charged by Dewey with the job of setting up "a fully integrated program of accident prevention employing enforcement, engineering and educational techniques."

Highway traffic and safety authorities have been enlisted to aid the state in the drive. Municipal officials from all sections of the state also are taking part.

Dewey declared in calling the session that the increase of traffic accidents since V-J Day "constitutes an emergency demanding immediate action."

The number of over-age automobiles, the increasing number of drivers who were returning to the roads after a wartime absence and the condition of the state's highways due to wartime neglect were cited by the Governor as reasons for the growing accident list.

During the three months after gasoline rationing ended in mid-August, he said, there were 18,867 personal injury accidents in the state resulting in 557 deaths and 24, 013 injuries.

State Police Planning Several New Schools

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP) — Between 40 and 50 New York state communities will have police training schools this spring under a program an F.B.I. official describes as "a positive advance in the professionalization of law enforcement."

The plan, adopted yesterday at a meeting of the State Association of Chiefs of Police, has the approval of that body the State Sheriffs Association and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The training schools will be open to all local and county law enforcement officers. There will also be special training sessions April 22-26 in New York city and Syracuse for police administrative officials.

Instructors will include F.B.I. men, police chiefs, sheriffs, attorneys, judges and city, county, state and federal officials.

Death Penalty Awaits 7 Nazis in Spy Ring

Rio De Janeiro, Feb. 27 (AP)—Seven Germans including a woman were accused today of espionage in Brazil as part of a spy plot in Argentina, Uruguay, Chile, Peru, Colombia and Venezuela. The charges were presented to a supreme military tribunal.

The group, which also included four Brazilians accused as accomplices, was headed by a German engineer, George Konrad Frederich Blass, a former director of the University of Cologne.

All face death penalties.

President H. H. Flemming of Kingston Hospital Files Report

Judge Harry H. Flemming, president of the Kingston Hospital, has submitted to the Board of Managers the following report for the year 1945:

In pursuance of the provisions of the by-laws the President's report for the year 1945 follows:

There was a substantial increase in the volume of work at the local hospital, which was performed with a depleted force and a scarcity of supplies necessary in the operation. Deferred maintenance in plant and equipment was unavoidable.

The number of patients cared for was 3,313. Of this number 1,307 were surgical, 1,067 were medical, and the balance obstetrical and eye, ear, nose and throat. The total number of days treatment was 33,514.

The school of nursing personnel totaled 83, consisting of 53 student nurses, of which number 16 were admitted during the year, and 17 graduated. Twelve of the general duty nurses resigned to enter the service.

The following gifts are gratefully acknowledged:

Jacob H. Schoonmaker trust fund	$4,418.92
J. C. E. of First Dutch Church	5.00
Freeman Publish Company	25.00
Mrs. Sophie McAndrew	25.00
Mrs. Emily C. Chadbourne	1,000.00
Binnewater Lake Ice Company	100.00
C. Hiltebrant Dry Dock Co.	100.00
Dr. J. S. Taylor	25.00
Dr. M. Elizabeth Moore	215.00
Dr. E. C. Fassett	50.00
Dr. D. S. Meyers	50.00
Dr. C. B. VanGaasbeek	50.00
Dr. Frederick Snyder	50.00
Dr. W. Levy	20.00
Camp Vacamas	25.00
A friend	2.00

At a later date the Superintendent will make special mention through the press of volunteer aid supplied during the year.

The amount received from the Jacob H. Schoonmaker trust fund was applied to the reduction of the mortgage indebtedness which, at the close of the year, was $112,211.82. The balance of the gifts were in large part used for the purchase of new equipment.

The endowment funds aggregate $56,238.55. These are invested and the income used in the operation. The operating accounts are kept on an accrual basis. The accrued income for the year increased by approximately $23,700.00, and the operating expense by about $9,300.00

Twenty years have elapsed since the reconstruction of the hospital buildings following a destructive fire. The intervening years have shown marked growth not alone in our local work but in the field at large. The hospitalization plan, of recent origin, with the impetus of the second World War, has demonstrated the need for increased facilities, including modern equipment. With this comes the question of an adequate staff and a qualified nursing force. Many of our nurses who entered the service or who went into the industrial establishments, will not return. A substantial number are taking advantage of the college course offered, in order to qualify for advanced work. For many years training schools in connection with hospital units have furnished the necessary number of nurses to carry on the work. Gradually higher standards have been set. The cost of training has steadily increased, and in some instances a discontinuance of the training school has followed. Indications are that the former source of supply is no longer adequate; a new source should be forthcoming. The logical department to deal with the question is the State Department of Education. A high school course, arranged to cover the necesary subjects in the last year, with a postgraduate course in the two years following graduation, the practical work to be obtained through affiliation with the local hospital units, should attract more high school students and place the educational work where it belongs.

The affiliation of hospital units with educational institutions is not new, where there is a five-year course, with a degree; such as Cornell University and New York Hospital in New York city, Hartwick College and Oneonta Hospital, Oneonta, N. Y., Presbyterian Hospital and Medical Center, New York city, Albany Hospital and Union College, Albany, N. Y. The application of the same method in the small city where high school is the highest educational unit in connection with a three-year course, has distinct possibilities.

That the state is apparently giving some consideration to the question is evident from the recent announcement of a class training practical nurses at New York Agricultural and Technical Institute at Delhi, started January 3rd of the current year. This is a nine-months' course in connection with an affiliating hospital. Tuition is free to residents of New York state.

In planning for the future we cannot overlook the facts with reference to the nursing situation. Your board has given consideration to the subject, particularly in connection with the future development of the hospital, concerning which definite plans may be formulated within the current year. In this connection our planning should include raising sufficient funds, in addition to the amount required for additions and betterments, to pay off the outstanding mortgage indebtedness.

Some of our constituents have made inquiry concerning our needs, and as to whether subscriptions can be made and paid between now and the formal announcement of the completed arrangements referred to. Provision should be made immediately to receive paid subscriptions, which should be placed in a reserve fund, at interest, for contemplated additions and betterments to be made. This will place the hospital in the position of having funds on hand when and as the work starts, and will make such payments available to the subscriber as a deduction in computing state and federal income taxes.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. H. FLEMMING,
President.

RACETRACK TO BE SOLD

Sydney's show racecourse, Victoria Park, is about to be sold to a foreign industrialist as a site for his Australian factory, for a reported price of $800,000. The land was bought early in this century by the late Sir James Joynton Smith, when it was a dreary swamp. He acquired the 120 acres for $60,000, had the swamp drained into Botany Bay and converted the land into one of the country's finest racecourses.

Bills Proposed at Albany

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP) — A bill to extend unemployment insurance to maintenance workers in income-producing properties of religious, charitable or educational institutions was introduced in the Assembly today.

Assemblyman Nathan A. Lashin, Bronx Democrat and sponsor of the proposal, said it would compel the institutions employing such persons to contribute to the unemployment insurance fund, giving the employes "their rightful economic security."

"Many non-profit organizations of charitable or religious character have acquired certain real property in this state which is now used in no connection with the purpose for which these organizations were founded," Lashin said.

"These [illegible] properties owe a definite responsibility to their employes regardless of who the record title holders are."

Meanwhile the Assembly passed yesterday and sent to Governor Dewey a bill providing that the cost of a public housing project include expenses for moving and relocating persons displaced by the project.

Measures passed by the Assembly and sent to the Senate would:

Extend to all full-time state employes a $1,200 annual salary minimum, including custodial help not at present covered.

Permit the Motor Vehicle Commission to issue only one license plate for a motor vehicle until December 31, 1947.

Bills introduced would:

Require the Board of Regents to set up training schools for firemen throughout the state; appropriate [illegible]. (Assemblyman Wilson C. Van Duzer, R, Middletown).

Create a commission to be made up of the chairmen and ranking minority members of the judiciary committees plus three persons named by the Governor to study congressional and legislative reapportionment in the state, reporting annually by February 1; Governor's appointees to receive $7,500 annually. (Assemblyman Harry A. Reoux, R, Warrensburg).

Sportsmen Oppose Plans To Denude State Forests

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP) — Sportsmen and conservationists assert proposals that the state erect shelters in the Adirondacks and widen ski trails on other state lands would destroy the wilderness character of the forest and open the way to commercial exploitation.

The sportsmen, representing about 30 organizations, appeared at an assembly judiciary committee hearing and registered their opposition to two proposed constitutional amendments which would allow the state to build enclosed shelters in the Adirondack State Park and widen ski trails on Belle Ayr Mountain in the Catskills and on Gore, South and Pete Mountains in the Adirondacks.

The measures were introduced by Assemblyman Harry A. Reoux, Warrensburg and Senator Fred A. Young, Lowville, both Republicans.

James F. Evans, state parks director, who spoke in favor of the amendments, said they would allow only for "elementary shelters" in forest preserve.

Church Lauds Trumans For By-Passing Cocktails

Binghamton, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP) —The President's wife and daughter today had the congratulations of a Binghamton Methodist church for their "courage" in ordering orange juice instead of cocktails at a recent New York City dinner.

Mrs. Morris P. Blair wrote Mrs. Bess Truman and her daughter Margaret, on behalf of the Chenango Street Methodist church, praising "the courage that you and your daughter showed when you ordered orange juice instead of cocktails."

Mrs. Truman replied that she "deeply" appreciated the church's congratulations.

Anaconda Settles Claim For $1,626,000 Damages

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey said today that the Anaconda Wire and Cable Co. had settled for $1,626,000 a government damage claim based on alleged irregular manufacturing, testing and inspection practices on certain contracts.

The alleged irregularities, said to have occurred mainly in production of army field wire and navy degaussing (anti-mine) cable, occurred in 1941 and 1942 at the company's plants at Marion, Ind.; Pawtucket, R. I., and Hastings, N. Y., McGohey said.

McGohey added that criminal proceedings, resulting in fines and sentences against the company and certain officials and employes, were instigated because of practices at the Marion and Pawtucket plants.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Laurence H. Axman said that under the settlement, civil suits filed in Federal Court here and in Rhode Island will be dismissed. McGohey announced that Federal Judge Edward A. Conger had signed an order dismissing the action.

He also declared the alleged irregularities had been thoroughly investigated by the F.B.I., and there was no evidence that any of the wire or cable failed because of the alleged practices.

Pauley Still Insists He Will Not Withdraw

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—Edwin W. Pauley stood firm today on his refusal to withdraw as the nominee for under secretary of the navy, despite reports that a means would be found to keep the issue from a Senate vote.

One Democrat who requested anonymity told newsmen he had assurances the nomination would not reach the Senate floor.

At the same time, however, Pauley was carrying a written statement for the Senate Naval Committee which he said would reject suggestions that he quit the fight.

State Guard Will Be Inspected Tonight

The annual federal inspection of the local units of the State Guard will be held tonight at the state armory by regular Army officers of the Second Service Command. This inspection is open to the general public. The time set is 7:30 o'clock.

The units to be inspected are Co. A and B and Headquarters Detachment.

The inspection will be made to ascertain the progress made in training by the members of the local units.

Would Teach Driving

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Governor Dewey opened a statewide traffic safety conference today with proposals for a uniform state system of motor vehicle inspection and required driving instruction in all public schools. In a prepared address Dewey said it was his hope that the two-day conference would "project a program to save lives—thousands of lives and hundreds of thousands of injuries."

'Y' Game Canceled

Due to bad traveling conditions Wednesday evening the scheduled Y.M.C.A. basketball game in Pine Plains was called off after the local team had left Kingston. Bert Streeter, manager of the cagers, notified the Pine Plains management of the cancellation when it was found impossible to make the trip.

SPRAY POISONS BEES

Fruit growers and beekeepers are somewhat at odds in the Hawke's Bay region of New Zealand, where steps have been taken to make it an offense to apply to pip fruit trees a spray poisonous to bees before 75 per cent of the petals have fallen. Growers oppose it.

The first paper mill in the United States was built at Germantown, Pa., in 1690.

MODENA

Modena, Feb. 28—The Modena-Ardonia Service Cheer Club will meet Monday evening, March 4 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Decker. Reports will be given on the card party held Thursday evening, February 14 in the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

Reinstate Teacher

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Miss May Quinn, New York City school teacher accused of intolerance in the classroom, has been reinstated by the Board of Education by a vote of five to one. The board yesterday recommended Miss Quinn's reinstatement on March 1, and fined her two month's salary after finding her guilty on a charge a neglecting her duty in failing fully to check the source of her classroom material and explaining matters to her pupils.

Action Starts to Compel Rehiring of Navy Veteran

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—The first action in this district to compel an employer to reinstate an honorably discharged veteran was filed today in Federal court.

U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey initiated the suit against Wallace Deutsch and Fred Nystrom, doing business as the General Machine Parts Co. of the Bronx, who are asked to rehire Navy Veteran Robert Wendell, 33, of 16 Lincoln avenue, Massapequa, N. Y., as a salesman, service and maintenance engineer.

The complaint also seeks payment to Wendell of $5,147.35 as earnings he was legally deprived of for a year beginning December 7, 1944.

Asst. U. S. Attorney Earle N. Bishop said that the defendants were "tempted to justify their refusal to re-employ Wendell by stating that he had been discharged by them on December 3, 1943," but that "the investigation clearly indicates that he was not so discharged."

Wendell, who is married, was in the Navy from January 15, 1944 until December 5, 1944.

National Nurse Week

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—President Truman today described the nation's 20,000 public health nurses as "one of the most important groups of health workers in the country." The tribute was contained in a message released by Federal Security Administrator Watson B. Miller in connection with the first annual observance of "Know Your Public Health Nurse Week," April 7-13.

Additional Housing Approved for N.Y.C.

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Board of Estimate today approved a city-federal housing authority contract allocating 5,000 additional emergency housing units to the city.

Under a previous agreement the city had received 2,000 temporary dwellings for the Canarsie project in Brooklyn.

The Board today also approved expenditure of $2,750,000 to guarantee bonds to be issued by the City Housing Authority for preparation of sites for the temporary units. It deferred action until March 14 on two sites under consideration, Sound View Park in the Bronx and Ulmer Park, Brooklyn.

Milton Boy Unhurt When Sled Hits Oil Truck

James Clark, five-year-old son of Glenn Clark of Milton, is a lucky little boy. He escaped with a slight laceration near the right eye when his sled struck a tank oil truck on the old 9-W at Milton about 11 o'clock this morning.

Charles Rumsey of Newburgh, owner and driver of the truck, saw the boy from one side and stopped his truck in time to avoid running over him. As it was the sled struck the front wheel of the truck. James bounced off his sled and landed between the front and rear wheels of the truck. He was treated by Dr. Capowski of Milton.

"SUFFERED MISERY FOR YEARS..."

Now Regular, Thanks To Famous Cereal

Given up hope of relieving constipation without taking harsh drugs? Then read this sincere, unsolicited letter:

> "I would like to add my praise to KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. I suffered years of misery until I saw your ad about 5 years ago. Have been using ALL-BRAN regularly and have never had to use a laxative since." Thomas Banon, 3254 Sansom Street, Philadelphia 4, Pa.

You, too, may never need another harsh laxative for constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet, if you will eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day, and drink plenty of water. Just try this for ten days. If not completely satisfied, send empty carton to Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Michigan. You'll get double your money back.

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative, but a wholesome food made from the vital outer layers of wheat. Provides ever-so-gentle bulk, helpful to normal, easy laxation. Try it as a delicious cereal—and in muffins.

Get ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg's of Battle Creek and Omaha.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

"Our birth announcement list seems to approximate the length of our Christmas card list and yet, with both of us living away from our home towns, there are many people to whom we would like to send announcements when the day comes. Is it proper to send so many?"

There is no limit to the length of your list except that of how many people you know, like and have reason to suppose like you enough to be interested in your news. This is especially permissible if you live in a large city whose newspapers have space for comparatively few such announcements in their social column. In a very small town where the social news columns are comparatively long, fewer cards are needed to carry the news to those interested.

Mother Is Coming to Visit

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother is coming to visit us. Would it be sensible to send a notice to that effect to the society editor so that many of our friends, who met her previously, will know she is here? Also, when I am invited to lunches and my husband and I to dinners, shall I decline without giving the reason or shall I explain that mother is here? I do not want anyone to feel that we expect them to include mother.

Answer: A notice will be excellent, unless she is coming for only a very few days and then you should not go out and leave her. If she is coming for longer, you should give a tea or an informal party for her so that her friends can invite her and others can wait until later to ask you alone.

Duplicate Presents

Dear Mrs. Post: We celebrated our wedding anniversary lately and on that occasion received many presents, some of them duplicates. I thought it was permissible to take extra things and get something else and did just that. Now I am told that it was inexcusable. I would like to know why.

Answer: It is absolutely correct to exchange duplicates. Moreover, if they were really duplicates, how could anyone know whose you have returned unless they were marked, in which case you would have to keep the marked one.

Court Santa Maria of Catholic Daughters Holds Annual Banquet Wednesday Night

More than 100 members and guests attended the annual banquet of Court Santa Maria, 164, Catholic Daughters of America at the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday evening. Among the guests were 15 members of the Highland court. All of the new class of members were present.

Members of the clergy who were present were the Rev. Leo B. Donovan, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church of Cairo, guest speaker; the Very Rev. Msgr. Stephen P. Connelly, the Very Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury; and the Rev. Austin V. Carey, chaplain of Court Santa Maria. In addition to the Rev. Father Donovan's address all gave short inspiring talks. A note was read from the Rev. Michael J. Curley of Port Ewen who was unable to attend because of illness and a telegram was received from the Rev. James Dunnigan of Sawkill who was unable to attend because of traveling conditions.

During the dinner hour music was provided by Miss Theresa Miles. Group singing was also enjoyed. Solos were sung by Mrs. Vincent Gaffney of Highland, district deputy; and Mrs. Frank Dobkins. Mrs. Robert Liscom accompanied the soloists at the piano.

The tables were decorated with bouquets of flowers. Programs in purple and gold, colors of the Court, were at each place. Rosary beads with the Infant of Prague were given as souvenirs of the occasion.

Arrangements for the evening were made by Mrs. William Powers and Mrs. Christopher Roche. Officers of the court include Mrs. Mary Dulin, vice grand regent; Mrs. Thomas O'Rourke, prophetess; Mrs. Christopher Roche, lecturer; Mrs. Arthur Ballard, financial secretary; Mrs. Ernest Steuding, historian; Mrs. George Cady, monitor; Miss Jane Madden, treasurer; Mrs. James Carroll, sentinel; the Rev. Austin V. Carey, chaplain; and trustees, Mrs. John Reynolds, Mrs. Michael Mitchell, Mrs. Julia Kane, Mrs. Frank Dobkins, Mrs. John Weber and Mrs. Robert Liscom.

Kingston Schools Represented For Purchase of Victory Bonds

Decals representing the sale of $426,000 in Victory Bonds and stamps by the students of 50 grade and high schools in the New York area have been received by Mason General Hospital, Brentwood, L. I.

Kingston is represented by the Myron J. Michael School, and the Kingston High School, each of which sold $3,000 in bonds and stamps.

One Decal from each participating school has been mounted on a plaque to hang on a bed, as evidence of the desire of the students of that school to aid in the recovery of men who have become war casualties. With the closing of Mason General Hospital, these plaques will be returned to the schools as a reminder of the part they had in assuring care for sick and wounded soldiers.

CHEMICAL RAIN PLANNED

Hauraki Plains, on the north east coast of New Zealand, are deficient in copper, scientists have learned, and might be made fertile if this lack were overcome. Copper sulphate will be dropped from the air at a ratio of about five pounds to the acre, to remedy the situation.

ORANGES BACK IN EIRE

When Eire's first shipment of oranges in many months reached Dublin, schoolboys were delighted. They quickly sought out a brass band to walk beside as they sucked oranges. They remembered how this makes the players drool saliva into their instruments.

February 27, 1875, Olive Democrats met in caucus at Willet L. Bishop's hotel in Olive Bridge and nominated candidates for town offices as follows: Jonathan V. Winchell, supervisor; Hugh Locke, town clerk; Dewitt C. Davis, justice; John I. Boice, assessor, Jacob B. Eckert, commissioner of highways, and Joseph Cudney, collector. The annual town meeting, held March 2, turned out to be a field day for the Democrats who elected every one of their candidates by majorities ranging from 152 votes to 195 votes. Mr. Winchell owned a farm of 150 acres at the foot of Tice TenEyck Mountain (present L. M. Chase place); Mr. Locke was a farmer at Olive Bridge; Mr. Davis, candidate of both parties, was a school teacher and surveyor residing at Shokan; Mr. Eckert was a sawmill and farm operator with 274 acres, while Mr. Cudney, a Civil War Veteran, farmed the 140-acre mountain place of Jane B. Cudney. The Republicans also had a strong ticket but Olive was overwhelmingly Democratic in those days.

Maroons Triumph, 39-26; Play at Liberty Friday

Albany and Weaver Star in Non-League Victory Over N.Y.M.A. Five on Wednesday

Racking up victory number 12 of the present season, Kingston High trounced N.Y.M.A. Wednesday afternoon at Cornwall by a score of 39-26. The Maroon was held even by the cadets in the first half, but pulled ahead in the final two stanzas to win.

This contest was scheduled primarily as a tuneup for the important DUSO contest at Liberty Friday night. The Maroon is tied with Newburgh and Middletown for first place in the second round, and hopes to be able to maintain this pace with a victory over the Redskins.

Albany Nets 19

Tony Albany and Eddie Weaver paced the Maroon to victory Wednesday as they tossed in 19 and 12 points respectively. Both of these boys played good ball, making some nice tosses and setting up the plays. The other members of the Kingston big three scoring line, Bob Murray, had an off night being troubled by a stiff back.

As was expected, Joe Mendelson was the big gun for N.Y.M.A., tossing nine markers through the hoop. Although Clyde Bevans equaled this point total it was Mendelson that set up the plays and kept the cadets in the running for the first three periods.

Kingston jumped into a big lead in the first period as Albany found the hoop for several set shots to put the Maroon into a 12-6 lead at the end of the first stanza. N.Y.M.A. however, caught up with the locals in the second quarter cutting the lead to 18-16 at the intermission.

The third period was mostly floor play, the Maroon leading 25-21 at its close. It was in the final period that the locals began to pull into the lead. Albany and Weaver began to combine with some deuces to sew the contest up for the Kiasmen. The guards, Len Sickler, Bob Miller and Bob Ghear held the cadets down, and victory number 12 went into the Kingston books.

DePaul Not Invited

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Coach Ray Meyer says DePaul University, winner of the tournament last year and a finalist in 1944, has not been invited to compete in the National Basketball Tourney at Madison Square Garden. Meyer disclosed last night that his Chicago Blue Demons, sparked by big George Mikan and victorious in 17 of 22 games, apparently were by-passed. "Naturally we are [illegible] disappointed," Meyer said. "The boys have played a tough schedule and felt they deserved to be invited."

SPRY AT 72—Sturdy old Honus Wagner, who became a baseball immortal by leading the National League in batting eight years between 1900 and 1911, swings the hickory at the San Bernardino, Calif., spring training camp of the Pittsburgh Pirates, with whom he is a coach. Wagner celebrated his 72nd birthday Feb. 25 and said he is rearing to go on the 1946 season.

CHARLIE TIANO

Larry "Pop" Petersen, a progenitive soul who has fathered 15 children, obviously deserves credit for more than mere bowling accomplishments.

"Pop," a bowling veteran of quarter-century standing, was reminiscing about his teams of the past, when we encountered him at the Centrals.

Petersen, one of the original stogie-wielding trundlers, is particularly proud of a vast array of bowling shirts in his wardrobe.

"They're all lined up on a rack at home," he says, "and they're going to say there. I'm proud of them."

He recited a long list of teams—Tydol Lunch, Mullen's Tobacco, Crystal Beauty Shoppe, Flanagans, et al—all great outfits. You see, "Pop" hasn't been exactly a bowling clown these past 25 years.

HOTALING AND BROSKIE SHARE THE SPOTLIGHT

Les Hotaling, capable Hercules blaster, caused a stir of excitement in the industrial loop, when he opened with counts of 235 and 238. He failed to maintain the pace, shooting 183 in the finisher, but the aggregate of 656 earned him one of the best series of the week.

Harold Broskie, whose bowling ailments of the past few years were purely mental, crackled with a hefty 665 series in the Central Rec loop. After a modest 177 opener, he rallied with 268 and 220.

Other highlights to date: Roy Webber 204; Gil Sampson shot 613, with 205 and 213. . . . Fred Rice 203. . . . Harry Smith 221, Lou Guadagnola 202, Ad Jones and "Red" Sangi posted 632 and 640 respectively for the Dairymen. . . . The Boss clicked 225-208, while the Proprietor bashed 231-221. . . . Charles Grunenwald 221, George Robinson 212, 208. . . . Joe Schrowang 208, Welch 200, Neer 216, Tony LaRocca 217, Ralph Neville 202, Norm Niles 214, Bill Keuhn 201.

Frank Norone, East Kingston rookie, overcame a bad 125 start, with 203 and 211, while brother, Joe, plunked 206. . . . Hercules highlights: Joe Dulin 235, W. Hanley 202, 217, C. Herdman 201, J. Uhl 211, H. DuBois 201, J. North 200, Jack Martin 230. . . . Crist and Morris rapped 220 and 213 in the Federation loop. . . . W. Hornbeck and W. Fatum each shot 200.

Flotsam and Jetsam

Tony Mack, Newburgh powerhouse, was at it again a few nights ago, blasting 719, with a 254 single to lead the Sportsmen's Grill to a new seasonal Middie record of 3055. . . . Tony hit 235, 230 and 254. . . . Pete Perrino holds the triple record of 731. . . . Ed Siverb shot 654 in Poughkeepsie. . . . Al Holmstrom was hot in the Bridge City with 693 on 211, 203, and 279. . . . In the Jones Dairy - Poughkeepsie Schwartz match last Saturday, nine men struck in one frame. . . . Not a single double in the next. . . . Ed Minnis, 70-year-old bowler from Saginaw, Mich., rolled 650 in the team event in the Michigan State tournament. . . . George Wagner, Philadelphia bowler, who competes in eight leagues weekly, bowls in the ABC tournament in Buffalo on May 11.

Rickey Favors Plan Penalizing Players Bolting Big Loops

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, today urged Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler to take strong action against major league players who jump from organized baseball to the Mexican League.

Rickey did not mention any names, but it is likely he was fuming over the loss of Luis Olmo, hard-hitting outfielder, who sent back his Dodger contract unsigned and announced he would play in the Mexican circuit.

"Organized baseball should adopt a policy in regard to players who jump their contracts," Rickey declared at the Dodgers' training camp in Sanford, Fla. "Our contracts are valid and players who disregard them should be Mexican players for the rest of their lives. It would not do to have one major league club take back players who jumped and other clubs refusing to do so."

Meantime, in an interview at Tampa, Chandler took a blast at colleges who have proposed that their players be left alone by big league scouts until they graduate.

"Only about one third of the colleges play baseball," Chandler pointed out. "If they want us to go along with their proposals they [illegible] give baseball a bigger place in their sports picture and not let other sports encroach on the game."

Sam Snead Is Favorite In St. Petersburg Open

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 28 (AP)—Slammin' Sam Snead ranked top favorite today as golfdom's money players began their scramble for $2,000 first prize in the 13th annual St. Petersburg Open tournament.

The Hot Springs, Va., pro, looking friskier than ever, fired a six-under par 66 for a new course record at nearby Dunedin Isles Tuesday, and there wer no signs he had slowed up for the 72 hole [illegible] event over the Sunset [illegible] here.

A driving rain puddled up fairways and soaked greens yesterday, but clearing and crisper weather was on tap for today and the more [illegible] performers were expected to find little difficulty in smashing par 71 over the 6,221 yard course.

The American Legion, Shamrocks and Cadets registered victories in the Y.M.C.A. Basketball League Monday night.

Alva Bruce and A. Nussbaum operated the high-flying Legion club to a 29-22 lead in the first half and continued to pound away and finished up with a 49 to 41 triumph over the Mayone club. Bruce tucked away 14 points while Nussbaum counted with 10. Marble had 18 for the winners.

Taking an 18 to 13 lead in the initial half the Shamrocks turned back the determined Ramblers Monday night by the tune of 41 to 29. Bloom sparked the Shamrocks with his 12 markers, Smith flipped in 10 for the Ramblers.

In the final clash the Cadets had easy pickings with the I.A.C. club as they walloped out a 56 to 17 victory. Lindhurst was high scorer in the tilt with 15 points. Hansen amassed 10.

Mosconi Increases Lead

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb 28 (AP)—Willie Mosconi of Barrington, N. J., world champion pocket billiard champion, held a 10-match lead today over challenger Jimmy Caras of Philadelphia in their 86-block cross-country title match. The pair wound up their Buffalo stay last night, with Mosconi scoring a 125-107 win over the challenger, who earlier in the day had handed him a 125-38 defeat.

Balboa, C. Z., Feb. 27 (AP)—Every time Yankee Manager Joe McCarthy watches Joe DiMaggio in action he begins pinching himself. Jolting Joe is clouting at a .500 pace and has driven in 11 runs with 11 hits in the New York Yanks' sweep of their six exhibition games here. The classy outfielder belted another homer yesterday—one of the six made by the club—in the 10-3 rout of the Canal Zone League All-Stars.

Rickey Warns Holdouts

Sanford, Fla., Feb. 27 (AP)—With over 20 ball players still unsigned, Brooklyn President Branch Rickey is plenty disturbed. He says "if several of these older players should refrain from reporting until as late as April they just won't have regular jobs because the management will have to play some of these younger chaps, and it is my bet that the latter will win jobs and keep them." Pitcher Hal Gregg signed yesterday.

Sarasota, Fla., Feb. 27 (AP)—With six third basemen on his squad of 48 players, Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox does not intend to be stampeded into picking Jim Tabor's replacement at the hot corner. Cronin has had a chance to size up Ernie Andres and Ken Chapman and intends to take a look at Ed Pellagrini, Ty LaForest, Ben Stiner and Don Lange before the week is up.

A conference of all turf groups will be called in the near future by Maj. E. H. Williams of Illinois, president of the national association.

Van Horn Beats Kovacs

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 28 (AP)—Welby Van Horn of Atlanta, Ga., today held the $5,000 Evans Cup professional tennis championship, and had pocketed $850 top money along with the title. The steady Van Horn used a deceptive drop and superior net game to defeat Frankie Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., yesterday in the finals on the Roney Plaza courts. The score was 6-4, 6-2, 6-4.

Mixed League

The Terriers bounced back into the lead in the Central Mixed League last Sunday night by copping a pair of games from the Whippets and now pace that club by one full game. Ed Ougheltree posted a 534 series to lead the winners. Johnny "Red" Sangi's 519 triple was high for the losers. "Red" crashed a 233 solo which was high for the match. Bev Markle had an even 200 in her third game.

Barney Rosinski's power-laden ball really paid dividends last week when he proceeded to blast a rousing 606 triple on marks of 223, 223 and 160. Despite Barney's stellar scores, however, the Great Danes lost three straight to the Cocker Spaniels. Art Jansen was high for the winners with a 520. Betty Boyce came through with a nifty 214 solo in her first start in the second game. Another 200 was rolled by Flo Kuligoski, leadoff for the Spaniels who bashed a 212 in the opening game. C. Griffin of the Danes had a 519 series.

The Greyhounds took two games from the Bull Dogs with Jake Chichelsky leading the way with his 494. Rose Schatzel and Len Freer of the Bull Dogs came in with 524 and 506 triples. Chris Robinson's 208 was high single in the match.

The final match found the Police Dogs whipping the Scotties in two decisions. Johnny Ferraro had a 518 triple for the winners while Dick Williams, anchor for the Scotties, poured out a 519. Dick also had a high single with an even 200.

Haegg Gets Support

Stockholm, Feb. 28 (AP)—One hundred of Sweden's active athletes today came to the aid of Gunder Haegg and Arne Andersson, two of 25 Swedish track stars charged with professionalism. In a letter to the Swedish Athletic Association the athletes admonished the S.A.A. "to think of the consequences" if the stars now under investigation should be "barred by regulation which had no basis in the generally accepted view of justice." The letter added, however, it may be "necessary to limit what the more prominent athletes receive."

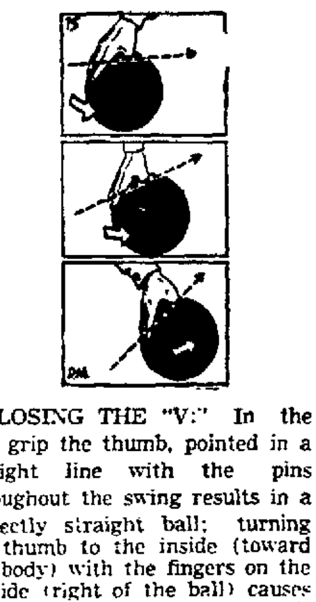
Better Bowling

By Billy Sixty



CLOSING THE "V:" In the "V" grip the thumb, pointed in a straight line with the pins throughout the swing results in a perfectly straight ball; turning the thumb to the inside (toward the body) with the fingers on the outside (right of the ball) causes it to take a natural right-to-left (hook) turn.

Beginners should learn first to roll a straight ball. Only after they feel able to get the ball onto the alley comfortably and find it releases easily, should they practice "closing up the "V." This actually is hook action .... the process of applying wrist turn to the ball to impart effective spin as it whirls toward the pins.

Some bowlers just naturally need more time than others to acquire footwork and combine it with the swinging ball. Others get the hang of it quickly. Practice will tell. Whenever the beginner decides to change from the straight delivery to the hook turn, however, the important thing to remember is that no effort should be made to "close the V entirely from the start." The change should be gradual—open the V a little at first, then more. And close it easily, not with a SUDDEN WRIST TURN. What's more, always Roll the ball. Don't attempt to PITCH it into the alley. This causes a JERK of the hand and kills control. Merely roll the ball, ~~releasing it smoothly, with an~~ EASY wrist turn.

When the alley "runs" or causes the ball to work in sharply toward the head pin, from right-to left, the "V" should be CLOSED. The alley will give the rolling ball enough power to knock down strikes. It is on a slick alley surface that the "V" is opened and closed with the turn of the wrist. Always—ROLL the ball with medium speed, beginners. Make the game easy for yourself. Let the ball do the work.

Volunteer Firemen Are Making Plans For Softball Loop

Robert Hughes Is Named by Mayor to Organize League; All City Companies Invited

A campaign to organize a Kingston volunteer fire company softball league is meeting with enthusiastic approval, Robert H. Hughes, league organizer, announced today.

Hughes, a member of Wiltwyck Hose, was designated chairman of the organization committee by Mayor William F. Edelmuth at a recent meeting of Wiltwyck. He was instructed to take steps toward organizing the league.

Invitations to join the league have been extended to every fire company in the city, Hughes said and a city-wide organization meeting will be called in the near future.

All fire company softball representatives are requested to contact Hughes at the earliest possible in order to effect plans for the final organization meeting.

Hughes' campaign is the first organized effort to band the fire companies of the city in a single softball circuit. Various companies have sponsored teams in the past, but no league competition was ever attempted.

Will Break Up Club

West Point, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Army's great football team, undefeated and untied the last two years, will be broken up after this season. Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis, All-Americans, along with at least nine other players, will become seniors on June 5 when the U. S. Military Academy reconverts from a wartime to a peacetime basis.

Bisons Sign Two

Buffalo, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Buffalo Bisons of the All American Football Conference have signed two more players from the rival National Football League. Chuck Cherundolo of the Pittsburgh Steelers and Lou (Babe) Tomasetti of the Washington Redskins were signed yesterday by the Buffalo team. Both are from Old Forge, Pa.

Withdraw Indian Troops From Indonesian Strife

London, Feb. 28 (AP)—A Reuters dispatch from New Delhi today quoted Gen. Sir Claude Auchlinleck, British Commander-in-Chief in India, as saying the withdrawal of Indian troops from strife-torn Indonesia would begin tomorrow.

Auchinleck made his statement in an address before the Council of State—upper House of the Indian Central Assembly, the dispatches said.

Indian Nationalist leaders have been critical of the use of Indian troops against Indonesian Nationalists, whose aspirations for independence have won expressions of sympathy in India.

Legal Appointment

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein today appointed Lazar E. Leventhal of Brooklyn as an assistant attorney general. He will be assigned to the New York office of the Department of Law.

MODENA

Modena, Feb. 28—Fruit growers spray school will be conducted Thursday February 28, in the Hasbrouck Memorial hall.

Sunday was Family Day in the Modena Methodist church, and services were conducted as follows: Prelude, Shirley Harcourt; Hymn No. 162, leader, Roselyn DeWitt; Invocation and Lords Prayer, Jean Wells; Responsive Reading, Barbara DuBois; Gloria Patri; Scripture Lesson, Verda Bernard; Offertory, Floyd Paltridge; Presentation of the offering, Arlene Bernard and Elizabeth Wells; Doxology; Hymn: Addresses by Mrs. Lester Arnold, Mrs. Roy Jensen, Mrs. Floyd Wells, Mrs. William Doolittle; Hymn; Benediction; Postlude. The family dinner was held in the community hall, and greatly enjoyed by those in attendance. The first step in the evangelistic campaign of the Crusade for Christ commenced on Monday, February 25. Laymen from the local church, and pastors from this district met for supper at the parsonage, and then visited homes in the community in an endeavor to seek new members and reinstate old members.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Shultis called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Dusinberre and son Horace, on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ransel Wager, Eber Coy and son Eugene, were among local people visiting Newburgh on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Seymour were supper guests of Mrs. Anna O'Neil at Gardiner, Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Babas of Washington, D. C., were also guests at the O'Neil home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dragotta have rented the cottage opposite Denton's Garage, which was recently vacated by the Miller family.

Mrs. Freston Paltridge, Kenneth Patlridge and Russel Coy were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Solie Bernard and family, near Poughkeepsie, on Sunday.

The remains of the late Mrs. Mary E. Elmendorf, widow of Richard Elmendorf, was placed in the vault in the Modena cemetery, on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Elmendorf died Saturday, February 23 at her home in New Paltz, at the age of 89 years. Funeral services were held in the V. T. Pine Funeral home in New Paltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Shultis were in New Paltz, Monday afternoon.

Kenneth Paltridge and Russell Coy were in New York, Monday.

Proposes New Use for Army Mine Detector

Chicago, Feb. 28 (AP)—A midwest veterinarian says he has found a civilian use for a mine detector.

In a letter to the War Assets Corporation, he asked for the detector which he proposes to use to find stray bits of metal swallowed by animals while grazing.

He explained the animals' dietary mistakes are not disclosed until after they die of gangrene or blood poisoning after swallowing nails and other metals. A mine detector, he said, would enable him to detect the metal's presence in an animal in time to take "precautionary" measures.

HONEYMOONERS—Maxine Jennings, actress, smiles at her husband, Philip Leverett Saltonstall, member of a prominent Massachusetts family, before leaving on a honeymoon at La Jolla, Calif. They were wed at Pasadena, Calif.

PLATTEKILL

Thursday evening, February 28, the Plattekill firemen will be guests of the Modena firemen at a steak dinner at Garcia's.

Wilson Edmunds, master of the Plattekill Grange, Mrs. Edgar Longendyke, lecturer, Mrs. James Leetch, juvenile matron, were appointed by members of the organization to represent the local Grange at a State Regional Conference to be held at Hotel Campbell, Poughkeepsie, on Thursday, February 28.

Mrs. Beulah Thompson attended a meeting of the Young Women's Club at the New Hurley Reformed parsonage, recently. Material was prepared for rug-weaving, at the conclusion of the brief business session. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. John Tysse, and her assistant, Mrs. George Boyce. Members of the club served lunch at the Theodore Garrison auction, near Leptondale.

Mrs. Jacques Beauman is convalescing from an operation performed at St. Luke's Hospital recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hotaling of Wallkill, were recent callers on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fawcett and daughters, Anna and Ellen, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Silberling and family of New York city attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Conrad Silberling at the Ronk Funeral Home in Wallkill on Wednesday. Mrs. Arthur Fosler, is a daughter surviving the deceased.

Local people attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Augusta Johnston, widow of the late Dr. Charles Johnston, which was held Tuesday afternoon at the Sutton Funeral Home in Clintondale. Burial was in the Friends Cemetery at Plattekill. Mrs. Johnston had lived in Plattekill for nearly 85 years, moving to New Paltz in 1944, to the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jennie Gerow. During the past months Mrs. Johnston had lived in an apartment in New Paltz. She was the former owner and operator of the Poma Ridge farm, northeast of Plattekill.

Miss May Minard, who has been caring for the late Mrs. M. Augusta Johnston of New Paltz, for many months, is spending some time at the home of her brother, Leander Minard.

John Davis, who recently underwent an operation at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, is convalescing satisfactorily.

The wedding of Miss Marianne Milette of Balmville, and Alfred Lanzini of Plattekill, will take place Sunday, March 3, at the Sacred Heart Church, New York. A nuptial Mass will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning. The reception will be held at Jack Dempsey's, West 57th street.

Latin-American Prelates Elevated to Cardinalate

Vatican City, Feb. 28 (AP)—Pope Pius XII held a special ten-minute Consistory in the Vatican throne room today to complete the formalities for elevating to the purple two Latin-American Cardinals whom illness had kept away from the Consistory during the closing events last week.

The Pontiff imposed the symbolic red hat on Manuel Cardinal Arteaga Y Betancourt of Cuba, and gave Cardinal Arteaga and Juan Cardinal Guevzara of Peru their Cardinal's rings.

Highway Program

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—The State Public Works Department will receive bids March 20 on 19 highway projects involving 62 miles in 17 counties at an estimated cost of $8,807,159.

Go-Slow Program Mapped to Assist In Saving Foods

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—A broad publicity program to rally Americans behind the idea of sharing their ample food supply with the hungry abroad was being mapped today by the administration.

The campaign will be officially launched by President Truman, probably Friday after a White House conference with former President Hoover and other prominent citizens on the ways of preventing what the Chief Executive has called "mass starvation" overseas.

The program will call for the use of the press, radio, the pulpit, the speaking platform and other information media in getting across to Americans the plight of the millions of underfed in war-ravaged areas of Europe, North Africa and Asia.

Eat Less Staples

Agricultural Department officials, who have been preparing the campaign, said it will appeal to all Americans to eat less bread, flour and other cereal products, and to prevent waste in meats, fats and oils, dairy products and other food items.

It also will urge farmers, they said, to market as soon as possible all the wheat they can spare and to curtail the feeding of grains to livestock and poultry so that this country may have larger supplies of grains to ship abroad.

Officials said the program will ask consumers to ration themselves and will appeal to food distributors and processors to undertake informal rationing of bread, bakery products and flour.

Suggestions that this country return to government food rationing have been turned aside as "unnecessary," by Agriculture Department officials. They expressed the belief that a zealous campaign can result in saving enough food here to tide over hungry areas abroad until their new crops next summer.

Mead Explores Move To Cut Milk Subsidies

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb 28 (AP)—Discontinuance of federal milk subsidies would be "financially damaging to New York state's dairy farmers, would spiral the general cost of living and reduce milk consumption," says U. S. Senator James M Mead (D-N.Y.).

Declaring he would give "full support" to impending legislation to extend the subsidies beyond the present June 30 expiration date, Mead said in a statement yesterday he favored their continuation "until such time as the present food emergency is ended."

Boy Scouts Revived

Manila, Feb. 28 (AP)—Boy Scout headquarters reported today the organization, suppressed by the Japanese during the occupation, now has over 10,000 members, about 25 per cent of its pre-war strength.

all night Tuesday and throughout the day Wednesday, but the heavy fall of rain washed the sand off the hills, and sanding was continued this morning.

With piles of snow several feet high on each side of the streets, and the gutters hidden under the drifts, the heavy rainfall last night formed miniature lakes on sidewalks and streets.

Only Rain on Mountain

One freak of the storm was a condition which existed in the mountain country. While the Palenville mountain was extremely slippery and sanding was carried on continuously, on top of the mountain there was little difficulty from ice since the storm there was confined to rain with temperatures sufficiently high during the afternoon to prevent dangerous icy conditions.

The New York Telephone Company escaped serious damage from sleet, C. E. Burnett, manager, reported today when the sleet storm which had burdened wires down with a coating of ice during the afternoon turned to rain later in the evening and halted ice formations on wires and poles. Had the ice condition continued longer there would have been much damage done. Icy conditions stopped just in time to avoid damage, Mr. Burnett said.

Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation reported interruption of service in the lower portion of the city early in the evening when ice weighed down wires and caused them to break. The condition again appeared early this morning but the interruption was of short duration. On the Minnewaska Trail a constant patrol was required when the ice caused limbs of trees to short the line. At Flatbush there was also trouble and some difficulty was experienced at Saugerties but on the whole the damage was considered slight. Rain which fell aided in removing a heavy coating of ice which had collected early in the day when sleet clung to the wires.

Strikes Reached Peak During Month January

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—January's outbreak of strikes and lockouts, involving a peak of 1,750,000 workers, set a monthly record for numbers on strike and resulting idleness, the Labor Department reported today.

Preliminary estimates from the Bureau of Labor statistics showed that 325 new work stoppages developed last month, plus 175 which continued into January from previous months. Of the total of 500 stoppages, four major walkouts accounted for nearly 1,400,000 idle workers.

Manila Power Strike

Manila, Feb. 28 (AP)—Over 2,000 Manila workers struck for higher wages today, affecting the city's slowly-reviving electric power and bus transportation. The majority of the workers were employes of the American-owned Manila Electric Railroad and Light Corporation, an Associated Gas and Electric Company subsidiary.

Church Help Is Enlisted in Drive For More Housing

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—President Truman called upon the people of the nation today to share their houses with homeless veterans to help relieve the acute housing shortage.

The President, in a statement, endorsed "most heartily" a program calling for organization of housing committees in every church and synagogue neighborhood.

Asserting the housing shortage "has become a serious problem throughout the nation," and that it will remain "acute for some monts," the President declared:

"Surely no veteran who has served his country faithfully and well should now be left homeless on his return from service. I sincerely hope that every citizen will take this matter to heart and aid this effort in every way possible.

"Religion teaches up that we should share. By sharing our housing we can render a practical and personal service to our veterans."

A group of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish religious leaders told reporters after a recent White House call that the churches and synagogues could alleviate the housing shortage by finding rooms and homes for veterans who are members of the congregations.

One of them suggested that if each congregation found homes for four veterans in its community, it would mean housing for 1,000,000 veterans since there are approximately 250,000 churches in the United States.

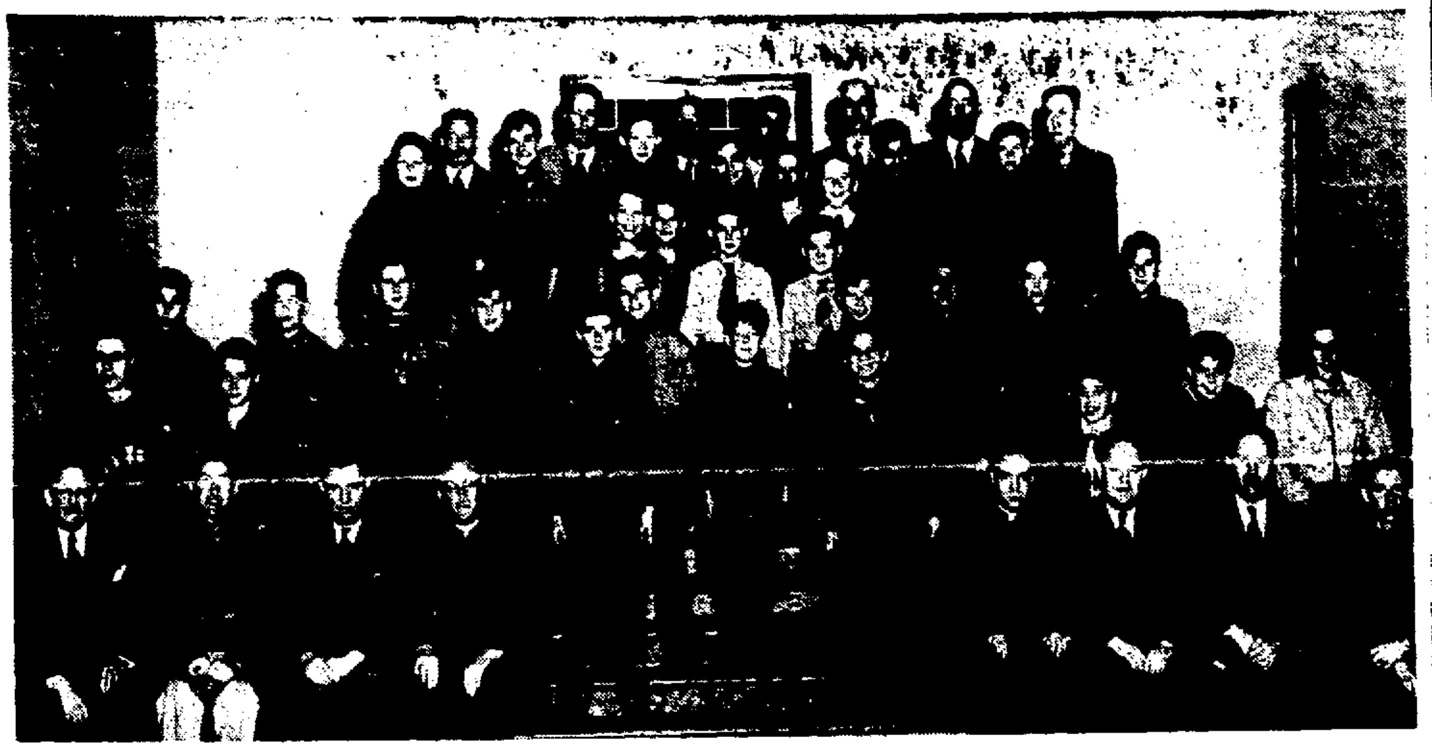
Grants Premission to Sell Church Property

An application by the Board of Trustees of the Pine Hill Methodist Church for leave to sell the parsonage property in Pine Hill has been granted by County Judge John M. Cashin. Roger H. Loughran appeared for the petitioners.

The petition states that an offer to purchase the property has been made by Harry L., and Edwin L. France for the sum of $4,000. Money derived from the sale will be used for repairs, maintenance and improvements to the Pine Hill Methodist Church adifice.

Under the petition the officers of the church, Fred D. Cure, president of the board of trustees; Olive Misner, secretary, and Ruth B. Cure, treasurer, state that there is now plans for a parsonage at Shandaken, the occupant of same to serve at Pine Hill, Shandaken, Oliverea and Big Indian and therefore the Pine Hill parsonage will be no longer required.

St. Mary's Troop Treat Committeemen



Boy Scout Troop 18 of St. Mary's turned the tables on the committeemen Wednesday night and displayed their culinary skill. The result was a delicious spaghetti dinner, prepared and served by the Scouts and devoured by the Scouters. Following the dinner, Commissioner France presented awards and brief talks were given by the Very Rev. Msgr. M. J. Drury and the chaplain, the Rev. John J. Flaherty. Chairman Francis Noonan extended the thanks of the committee, and Scout Leader Ray Long responded for the Scouts. Pictured above are members of the troop, committeemen, chaplain, the pastor and the commissioner. (Freeman Photo)

Luciano, Ex-Vice King, Back in Native Italy

Naples, Feb. 28 (AP) — Charles "Lucky" Luciano, who served nine years in prison after a conviction in New York on vice charges, returned to his native Italy today, free in consideration of information he gave the United States which was said to have furthered military operations in Sicily and Italy.

Luciano was deported to Italy after he obtained a pardon from Governor Thomas E. Dewey, who as New York County District Attorney, sent Luciano to prison.

He returned evasive answers to questions, saying only that the 19 days he spent in crossing aboard the Liberty ship Laura Keene were "pleasant."

Luciano was first taken into custody by Italian authorities but later released. He declined to say what information he had given, which brought about his pardon.

"You know I can't talk about those things," the former vice king said.

Erosion Control Grant

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—A joint legislative committee recommends a $500,000 state grant to continue erosion control along the Atlantic coastline and to extend it to the north short of Long Island.

Pressure Against Franco Mounting

Demonstrations All Over Europe; U. S. Act; Reds Hit Vatican

London, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Spanish government announced today that it had closed to main gateways between France and Spain more than 24 hours before the effective time of a French government order to close the French-Spanish border to trade tonight at mid-night.

The closure was made effective both at Port Bou on the east coast and Irun on the west coast, with all normal traffic reported barred, including the two to three freight trains which usually operate across the border daily.

Anti-Franco sentiment bubbled up all over Europe, meanwhile, in support of the French demand for a diplomatic break with Spain and for United Nations action against the Spanish regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco, which France has termed a menace to international peace and security.

There were demonstrations in Brussels and Sofia at which the governments of Belgium and Bulgaria were called upon to act against Franco. The regular news broadcast of the Prague radio was interrupted with an announcement that the Czechoslovak government "joins the stand of the nations who strongly demand the end of the cruel Spanish regime.

Russians Blame Pope

Russian Radio Commentator Michael Mihailov, speaking over the Moscow radio, urged "unconditional severance of all relations with Franco Spain by all the democratic states," and declared that the Vatican had "prevented the Spanish problem from being solved."

Mihailov asserted that Pope Pius XII had discussed with his cardinals at a recent consistory methods by which the Roman Catholic Church could "bolster up the present regime in Spain."

American Views

In Washington, th eState Department said "certain American views" on the Spanish situation had been dispatched to Britain and France, but there was no indication of what was proposed.

However, diplomats in Washington said they believed the proposed declaration would include:

A statement that the three governments would recognize a broadly representative interim regime in Spain if Franco were ousted.

A reiteration that the three countries would not meddle in Spain's domestic affairs, and that any change would have to come from the Spanish people.

Bill Is Introduced Favoring House Tenants

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—A bill permitting residential tenants to use as defense in a dispossess proceeding the failure of landlords to redecorate within time limits specified by the O.P.A. was introduced in the Legislature today.

The measure was sponsored by Assembly Minority Leader Irwin Steingut and Senator Fred G. Morritt, New York city Democrats.

It was designed, they said, to protect a tenant who "withholds payment of rent unless a landlord complies with this reasonable request" to redecorate, and is consequently faced with a dispossess action.

Higher Coal Wage Demand Expected

respect he has a powerful argument in the President's own wage policy of October 30. This allows price consideration to employers who raise straight time average earnings 33 per cent above the January 1941 levels, to offset the wartime rise in living costs.

What Industry Contends

The industry concedes that the miner's hourly wage rate—$1 for a 7-hour-day—has not been increased since April 1941. But, it also contends the miner's take home pay has been upped since then 40 to 50 per cent through underground travel and lunchtime pay of $1.50 an hour, and $1:50 for one extra hour of work each day, at a rate of time and a half. Miners paid "piece time" or tonnage rates get more than that, the industry people say.

The miners receive $10 a day for what is called an eight-hour work day (he is paid for underground travel and lunchtime in addition to the eight-hour work day), and works a six-day week. The basic work week is still 35 hours, however, and Lewis may ask for return to that.

Calls for 48-Hour Pay

A preview was provided at the recent wage scale conference of the Union's District 5, in Western Pennsylvania. It called for the same 48-hour pay for a 35-hour, five-day week.

It also approved resolutions for more vacation pay and renewal of Lewis's demand last year for a 10-cent-a-ton royalty on every ton of coal mined. This was to have gone into a fund to provide medical and "economic protection" for U.M.W. members.

The time table for reopening the current contract was worked out in the termination clause of the wage pact which resulted from 42 days of negotiations and an 11-day soft coal strike last spring. The anthracite miners, whose contract expired a month after the bituminous agreement, struck for 21 days before winning a new contract. It is likely to be reopened too if the bituminous pact is.

Summons Miners to Meet

The expiration clause of the present contracts provides for 30 days' notice and negotiation befor termination. This is broken down into a 10-day notice of intentionr to reopen, 15 days of negotiating ,and five days' notice of termination after that.

Key to the Lewis program is his summons to the United Mine Workers' 250-man policy committee to meet here March 11. The 10-day notice period would have expired by then, providing he does as the operators think he will.

Lewis has busied himself with meetings for the past few days with his closest top officers.

FISH LINE BRINGS $204

Fishing line is so scarce in Durban, on the South African coast, that a skein no more than pocket size brought $204 at a customs sale. The initial bid was less than $1—about its true value "Must be made of gold," the auctioneer observed.

Cub Pack 12 Holds Circus Program

Cub Pack 12 Holds Enjoyable Circus Here Wednesday

Performance Is Presented Under Direction of Burton Davis at First Dutch Church

One of the most enjoyable pack meetings ever held took place at the First Dutch Reformed Church Wednesday evening in the form of a circus held by Cub Pack 12, which was directed by Burton Davis, cubmaster. The program was complete with band, wild animals and a wild west show.

The grand parade opened the performance and the show was started under the direction of Walter Davis, ringmaster, and den chief of Den One. John Boswell, Jr., put on a dangerous leopard act and sent the animal through its paces. The Den One band, consisting of Charles Engel, Robert Fiore, Raymond Rignall, Ronald Sprague, Robert Smith and Robert Stein, was led by Frank Fiore, bandmaster.

Another enjoyable act was the tightrope performance staged by Robert Stein, who put an early end to his act by falling from the rope. Douw Meyers staged a wild west drama in which Sheriff Donald Kinch and bankers Arthur Brant, Joe Thurin and Carle Meyers recovered the stolen bank money from John Thurin, Robert Powell, John Herrick and Louis Kirschner, robbers.

Den Two, under the direction of Den Chief James Roosa, presented a wild animal show in which Lowell Brooks, ringmaster, made the animals jump through a hoop and on to a box. The animals were bear, Lyn Brooks; tiger, Charles Baker; mule, David Dines; giraffe, Russell Edwards, Jr.; leopard, Richard Torrens. Frank Reis, Jr., took the part of a clown during the act.

Following the enjoyable circus performance a social hour was held with John Boswell, Sr., and Henry Parker in charge of the refreshments. A large number of parents and friends were assembled to enjoy the program.

Defiant Jap Stragglers Refuse to Surrender

Lubang Island, P. I., Feb. 28 (AP) — Defiant Japanese 'diehard' stragglers on this island 70 miles from Manila tore surrender leaflets to bits today as the Philippine Army ordered a reconnaissance plane to augment its task force.

Leaflets, written by Japanese prisoners of war, were posted along a mountain trail by a patrol. Twenty minutes later they were found destroyed.

The Philippines force lost two men killed and six of the Japanese were killed in skirmishes last week. A Filipino civilian was reported killed by the marauders on the opposite side of the island. Strong patrol forces are slowly closing in on the renegades.

Cherny Brothers Form Partnership In New Grocery

Joseph Cherny and Edward Cherny of Kingston have announced the opening of a new grocery store at 331 Hasbrouck avenue. The building there was purchased from Chauncey Lane and formerly housed the grocery business operated by Samuel Bounanno.

Joseph Cherny was associated with J. Suskind for the past 18 years, while Ed Cherny recently received his discharge from the Seabees. Prior to the war, he was prominent as a member of the Yellow Jacket football squad. While in service, he was stationed in several of the South Pacific islands.

The two brothers are busy renovating the building housing the grocery and will be ready for complete servicing in the near future. They will specialize in quality meats and groceries, staple household items and a line of general merchandise.

The Cherny brothers wish to express their thanks to their many customers in the past and invite them to visit the new store.

Hirohito Demonstration Draws Fire of Commies

Tokyo, Feb. 28 (AP)—Two thousand subjects cheered Emperor Hirohito as he visited a department store today but the Communist Party quickly censured his recent public tours as a "pre-election campaign for the sake of reactionary political parties."

"We demand that the Emperor and all other war criminals be banned from carrying out any such" campaign, read a resolution passed by the party convention. The resolution is to be presented at the Imperial Household tomorrow.

General MacArthur never has branded the Emperor as a war criminal suspect, but the Communists and some other Japanese elements have.

Interlocutory Decree For Donald Pierson

An interlocutory decree of divorce has been granted by Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth in the action brought by Donald Pierson of Kingston against Marie F. Pierson of Newark. Chris J. Flanagan appeared for plaintiff and Vincent G. Connelly for defendant. The action was heard at special term of Supreme Court on February 8. Parties were married at New Paltz on December 22, 1941. Custody of a child is granted plaintiff.

Chaos Alternative To U.N.O. Success Mrs. Roosevelt Says

Tells Large Audience That Realism in Approach Is Best Solution for Peace

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says the only alternative to the United Nations Organization was world chaos, but added that the U.N.O. must win the confidence of all peoples before it could succeed.

She said the League of Nations wasn't entirely a failure but it did not succeed in preserving world peace "because the peoples failed, not because the machinery failed or even the representatives failed."

Mrs. Roosevelt, a member of the U. S. delegation to the U.N.O. Assembly in London, spoke last night at a meeting sponsored by the Union for Democratic Action and held in the 2,500 seat Hunter College auditorium, which was filled to capacity.

Mrs. Roosevelt said a number of questions were brought up in the U.N.O. Security Council "where rough things were said by men who could say them and take them," and added:

Lauds Earthy Realism

"I'm quite sure that it's a good thing for the peoples of the world to have things said if their representatives feel them, because the peoples have got to know what their representatives feel and what they stand for x x x."

Mrs. Roosevelt said she thought the U.N.O. had an obligation "to try to understand and to do away with unnecessary fears, to build confidence because unless we do no organization can possibly work.

"It is only by working together and creating greater confidence among our people that our representatives are going to feel strong enough to work togethe she said.

"The only alternative to chaos."

Of Russia, Mrs. Roosevelt
"We don't understand some thi about Russia. Russia doesn't derstand some things about and about Great Britain. We gradually learn. I am not worr about that so much."

Order Bargaining Vote For Newburgh Company

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board today ordered an election within 30 days among production, maintenance and shipping employes of Weil Brothers Textiles, Inc., Newburgh, N. Y., to determine whether they desire to be represented in collective bargaining by United Textile Workers of America (A.F.L.) or Textile Workers Union of America (C.I.O.) or by neither.
